Maud S Canyon to Be Sprayed for Noxious Weeds

For those who enjoy hiking or biking in the Maud S Canyon, you may have noticed a high density of spotted knapweed, thistles and toadflax throughout the area. To combat these invasive plants the East Ridge Foundation, Full Armor Weed Control, AmeriCorps St. Louis, the City-County of Butte-Silver Bow, and the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest will be working cooperatively to treat the weeds on Monday, July 1.

Approximately 80 acres will be treated with all appropriate weather conditions, label rates and regulations followed. Ground treatment by spray crews using backpacks may be seen throughout the day along the trail and in open areas near the top of the loop trail. Additional spray activities may occur until late September. For more information, contact the Butte Ranger District at (406) 494-2147.

July 4 Pet safety From American Veterinary Medical Association

Fireworks, picnics and other Fourth of July traditions can be great fun for people; but all of the festivities can be frightening and even dangerous for animals. Noisy fireworks and other celebrations can startle animals and cause them to run away; holiday foods can be unhealthy; summer heat and travel can be dangerous; and potentially dangerous debris can end up lying on the ground where pets can eat or play with it.

Whether or not you're planning your own Independence Day celebration, it's important to take precautions to keep your pets safe both during and after Fourth of July festivities.

Preparing in advance:

- Make sure your pets – cats and dogs alike – have identification tags with up-to-date information. If you have horses, you might consider marking a safety (breakaway) halter with your contact information and leaving it on your horse during this stressful time.
- If your pets aren't already microchipped, talk with your veterinarian about microchipping. This simple procedure can greatly improve your chances of getting - your pets back if they become lost.

- If your pets are microchipped, make sure your contact information in the microchip registry is up-to-date.
 - Take a current photo of all of your cats, dogs and horses – just in case.
 - If your pet has historically been anxious on this holiday, or if you have reason to expect potentially harmful reactions, consider behavioral therapy to desensitize your pet and reduce the risk of problems. Some pets may need medication. Consult your veterinarian or a veterinary behaviorist.
 - Make sure the environment is safe and secure. If your neighbors set off fireworks at an unexpected time, is your yard secure enough to keep your pet contained? Are pasture fences secure enough to keep horses or other livestock confined? Evaluate your options, and choose the safest area for your animals; and make improvements if needed to make the area more secure.

Safety during July 4 celebrations:

- Leave your pets at home when you go to parties, fireworks displays, parades and other gatherings. Loud fireworks, unfamiliar places and crowds can all be very frightening to pets, and there's great risk of pets becoming spooked and running away.
- Consider putting your pets in a safe, escape-proof room or crate during parties and fireworks.
- Keep horses and livestock in safely fenced areas and as far from the excitement and noise as possible.
- If you're hosting guests, ask them to help keep an eye on your pets to make sure they don't escape. Placing notes on exit doors and gates can help both you and your guests remain vigilant.
- Keep your pets inside if you or your neighbors are setting off fireworks.
- Keep sparklers, glow sticks, fireworks, charcoal and kabob skewers away from curious pets.
- Don't let pets get near your barbecue grill while it is in use or still hot.
- Avoid the urge to feed your pets table scraps or other foods intended for people. Be especially careful to keep them away from these common foods that are actually toxic.
- Remember that too much sun and heat (and humidity!) can be dangerous to pets. Keep them inside when it's extremely hot/humid; make sure they have access to shady spots and plenty of water when outdoors; don't leave them outside for extended periods in hot weather; and know the signs that a pet may be overheating.

- Never leave your pet in your car when it's warm outside. Vehicle interiors heat up much faster than the air around them, and even a short time in a locked car can be dangerous to pets.
- If you're travelling out of town for the holiday, consider leaving your pets at home with a pet sitter or boarding them in a kennel. If you need to bring them with you, be sure you know how to keep them safe.
- Follow safe food handling and hygiene practices to protect your family and guests.

After the celebrations:

- Check your yard for fireworks debris before allowing pets outside to play or relax. Even if you didn't set off fireworks yourself, debris can make its way into your yard, where curious animals may pick it up to play with or eat.
- Check your pastures and remove debris to protect horses and livestock.
- If you hosted guests, check both your yard and home for food scraps or other debris that might be dangerous to pets, such as food skewers.

Annual Wildflower Tour of Gravelly Range Set for July 9

The Forest Service will sponsor its 22nd annual wildflower tour of the Gravelly Range on Tuesday, July 9, starting at 9 a.m.

The free tour winds through the Gravelly Range in Madison County which is noted for a spectacular, high-elevation display of wildflowers. Forest Service employees on the tour will help identify plants seen along the way. Officials note that each year brings its own set of growing conditions, producing an always plentiful and varied show of wildflowers.

The tour will begin at the Forest Service office in Ennis and proceed toward the Gravelly Range. Participants generally drive their own high-clearance vehicles, but can catch a ride with others if they don't want to take their own vehicle. Attendees are advised to dress for inclement weather and bring their lunch and water.

For more information, contact the Forest Service in Ennis located at 5 Forest Service Road, or call (406) 682-4253, or check out the Beaverhead Deerlodge National Forest Facebook page.

Megan Chilson Selected as the SHAPE America
Western District Director

Dr. Megan Chilson, a professor in the Health & Human Performance Department at UMW, was recently selected as the SHAPE America Western District Director.

SHAPE (Society of Health and Physical Educators) America is the national organization that serves as the voice for over 200,000 health and physical education professionals. Founded in 1885, the goal was to advance professional practice and promote research related to health and physical education, physical activity, dance and sport.

Megan Chilson joined SHAPE America in 1994 as a graduate student and has remained actively involved throughout her professional career. She has served on state boards in Idaho, New Mexico, Colorado and Montana representing a variety of positions, including student representative to state president, and recently served two terms as the Northwest District President.

The organization has defined excellence in physical education, as National Standards for K-12 Physical Education serve as the foundation for well-designed physical education programs across the country by providing programs, resources and advocacy that supports a healthier school culture at every level, including preschool to university graduate programs.

As a professor, Chilson works with K-12 schools in developing weeklong field experiences for her PETE (Physical Education Teacher Education) and HETE (Health Education Teacher Education) students during their methods courses in addition to supervising student teaching.

At Montana Western, students take a single course at a time, three hours each day for 18 days before moving on to the next course. This unique approach to class scheduling, known as Experience One, allows for a more immersive education.

"Megan is a passionate supporter of SHAPE America's mission and has long served as an ambassador of SHAPE initiatives in continually bringing current information back to her institution and developing ways for her own students to become involved," said Stephanie Morris, Chief Executive Officer of SHAPE America.

Chilson will begin her new position in August 2019.

Bible Truth...About Freedom

[Statement of belief: the Bible was given by the inspiration of God (2 Timothy 3:16-17) and all beliefs in conflict with what is written therein are false.]

As we approach the annual celebration of Independence Day in our great country let's consider the subject of freedom.

Anarchy against God and His law does not result in true freedom. Anarchy brings spiritual darkness, poverty, and destruction, a fact recorded throughout the history of the world.

The infidel, evolutionist or atheist may think he is free, but the fact is he is in bondage to man-made philosophies that prevent him from considering obvious manifestations of God so obviously seen in the creation. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament shows his handiwork," Psalm 19:1.

Disobedience to the rules governing society is not freedom but rebellion, which God compares to witchcraft in 1 Samuel 15:23. Though some laws may be puzzling we must understand God's command to "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lords sake..." 1 Peter 2:13a. This means that freedom doesn't free us from being accountable to the regulations of society.

Shouting loudly that one is free to do as he pleases doesn't make one free. I once read about an insane man who stood one day in a state hospital defying the orders of the doctors and nurses, shouting, "I'm free, I'm free"! While in his own demented mind he was free, others had to take care of his wife and children. Still others had to provide his food, clothing, and shelter until the day he died.

Finally, rejecting the Bible and it's principles for life does not bring freedom. While some reject the Bible completely, others think they are free to pick and choose what part of the Bible to believe. For example, many choose to believe in heaven but not hell, possibly because they feel that not believing something they don't like will move God to change His requirements for unbelievers, a dangerous and false assumption.

Romans 8:2 states, "...the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of sin and death." Freedom from the penalty of death is true freedom, and this freedom begins when the individual believes in Christ and is born of the Spirit (read John 3:3-18).
