Montana's Motor Vehicle Division Receives More Awards for REAL ID Public Information Campaign

The Montana Department of Justice's Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) received five awards from the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (AAMVA) for the Montana REAL ID public information campaign and website, mtrealid.gov.

The awards were presented at AAMVA's Region 4 conference to MVD Administrator Sarah Garcia and included: Public Affairs and Consumer Education (PACE) for best website, internally-produced, PACE overall Website/Technology Division winner, Excellence in Government Partnership (regional and international award) and Innovative Use of Technology.

"Awards from AAMVA carry a special distinction for our Motor Vehicle Division," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "I'm very pleased MVD's conversational website and REAL ID educational campaign continue to be recognized for setting high standards within the industry for their innovative and engaging blend of information and technology. They are outstanding examples of ways government can reach citizens in ways that are convenient and effective," Fox added.

"The Real Me" REAL ID campaign is a collaboration between MVD and Montana State University Billings (MSU-B) staff and students. This partnership marks the first time MVD has received an international award from AAMVA.

Garcia said, "These awards, especially our first ever international AAMVA award, demonstrate our commitment to the citizens of Montana to deliver innovative solutions and customer service." She said, "The MVD team has worked incredibly hard this last year to implement REAL ID, and they exceeded expectations in Montana and across the United States."

MVD's REAL ID website interacts with customers through a responsive web design and chatbot system. As the first "conversational" website in government, the website delivers individualized fee calculations for REAL ID credential or other credential options, an automated document checklist and a clear explanation of how to get a REAL ID.

The website consistently records a 60 percent interaction rate through the chatbot with over 40,000 automated conversations fielded to date.

Montana's REAL ID campaign has received a total of eight awards from three organizations.

Busted Nose

By "Swede" Troedsson

In the winter of 1960-61, I was employed as a Forester for the Northern Pacific Railroad (NP). My "cruising partner" Forester Armand Joyce and I were laying out parallel flag (ribbon) lines in timber on NP land in Cold Creek, located in the Swan Valley, MT. The flag lines were to designate spur roads in preparation for "shovel logging". We were on snowshoes on eight feet of snow. Access into the area was made possible by loggers who were plowing the road in order to log a heavy stand of spruce further up the drainage.

Armand was working upslope from me. Shortly after getting started, I heard Armand in distress. I called to him to ask if he was alright. All I heard was cursing and a garbled reply. I walked up to Armand, and saw him sitting down holding a bloody and grossly disfigured nose. He had slid a snowshoe under a windfall. When he tripped, he grabbed a limb to break his fall. The limb bent, then broke, and snapped back and hit him across his nose. He was in great pain and bleeding profusely.

Timber Jump, 1959, MT

I took out my kerchief, filled it with snow, and applied it to his nose in order to stem the bleeding and numb the pain.

We had about a one half hour shuffle in order to return to the truck. I was hoping Armand would not pass out on me.

We made it to the truck, and what followed was an 85 mile trip to Missoula. On arriving at the NP hospital in Missoula, he was referred to a nose physician.

When Armand emerged from the treatment room, he was pale as a ghost. I asked "Good Lord, Armand, what did he do to you?" Armand said the physician said "Son, get a good hold of that chair." With that he inserted a stainless steel prod in one nostril and realigned his nose.

Armand and I retired to the Flame Lounge where we had a couple of drinks. We then drove back to our rental cabin in the Swan.

That night I could hear Armand snuffling and hacking to clear out the mucous and blood draining into his throat. The next morning after breakfast, Armand was back out with me working on snowshoes. That man was tough!

BANNACK DAYS 2019

Held the third full weekend in July, Bannack Days is a celebration of pioneer life. This year Bannack Days will be July 20 & 21, 2019. For a nominal fee, breakfast will be served in the Hotel Meade beginning at 7:00 am both days. Lunch will be available as well as other delicious treats like ice cream, kettle corn, fry bread, and fresh lemonade. From 9am to 5pm on Saturday and from 9 am to 4:30 pm on Sunday folks will be demonstrating many of the pioneer skills. Come watch the quilters craft a quilt and skilled demonstrators make lace. Up Hangman's Gulch you can learn about the Infantry and experience an 1860s gold camp. Then try your luck at gold panning. You won't want to miss hand-dipping your own souvenir candle or watching the blacksmith forge an incredible work of art from a flat piece of steel. Horse drawn wagon rides will be available throughout the day. And on Sunday, experience an old-time church service.

Be sure to watch your step - Bannack has been known to have a few ruffians about. It is not uncommon for a gunfight to break out on Main street. Throughout both days there will be music in the air - bluegrass, barbershop, gospel, old time fiddlers, and junior fiddlers to mention a few. Speaking of watching your step - swing your partner and try camp dancing on the green or step in time with the strolling musicians.

Throughout the weekend the visitor center will be open and guided tours of the Masonic Lodge and the Mill will be available. We do ask that you please leave your pets at home during this busy weekend. "Bannack Days" is the signature event for the Montana State Park system. We are taking steps to make the event more self-sustaining to ensure that Bannack Days is able to continue for years to come and to showcase Americas Best Historic Ghost town."

New this year a $5 per person "Special Event" fee will be charged for admission to Bannack Days with children 8 and under free. There is limited parking, so carpooling is encouraged. Bannack State Park is located 25 miles southwest of Dillon, Montana just off of Highway 278. For information call 406-834-3413
