Eddie Leonard Waldemar, age 67

Eddie Leonard Waldemar, age 67, loving husband and father passed away June 25, 2019. Ed was born April 6, 1952 in Dillon, Montana to Leonard and Mary Jo (Wenger) Waldemar. Ed lived the majority of his life in Dillon, Montana.

Ed graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 1970. After high school he went to MSU for a year then began working as a surveyor for the Montana Dept. of Transportation for several years. He then moved to Provo, Utah where he attended Utah Tech to become an electrician. While in Utah, Ed filled his spare time with one of his many winter passions - skiing. After graduating, he moved back to Dillon accepting a job as the electrician for Pfizers (Barretts Minerals) working there until his retirement in 2009. He also served on the safety committee for many years.

Ed and Lori were married September 30, 1978 and in July of 1979, they welcomed their son Erik. The family enjoyed a great life together, full of outdoor adventures and family gatherings and traveling across the state for Erik's high school and college basketball career. Ed was an active member of the Dillon Jaycees for many years, volunteering for several community projects. He spent a fair amount of time on all of the rivers and lakes in the area with his good friends and his son, Erik. Tuesday night became his "fishing league night" for 40 years. Later going to 'fine arts' in winter. In his younger years, he was in the Boy Scouts and played in Little League later playing City League basketball and softball.

Ed was lucky enough to get a "job" after retirement as the camp host at Reservoir Lake - a place he loved dearly. Reservoir Lake was a favorite camping site for the entire family all of his years. It was his "cabin by the lake", with many new and old friends to tell stories with and visit with. He passed away in a place that he loved and his spirit will forever be a part of that area.

Eddie was preceded in death by his parents, Leonard and Mary Jo. He is survived by his wife Lori and son Erik; his sisters Brenda (Dave) Borjas, Jerry Jo (Dennis) Rehse; his nieces Rudy (Carl) Sevalstad, Susanne (Nick) Valach; his nephew Harley (Kimberly) Borjas; and grandnephews Cayden, Christopher, Ryland, Dax and Huxley.

A Celebration of Life will be held Saturday, July 27th at 2pm at Brundage Funeral Home. Please join us immediately following the celebration for a potluck buffet at the Depot Park across from Beaverhead Brewery. Pulled pork and beef brisket will be provided. Please bring a side dish or dessert to share, dishes for the potluck can be dropped off at Beaverhead Brewery.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Dillon Jaycees.

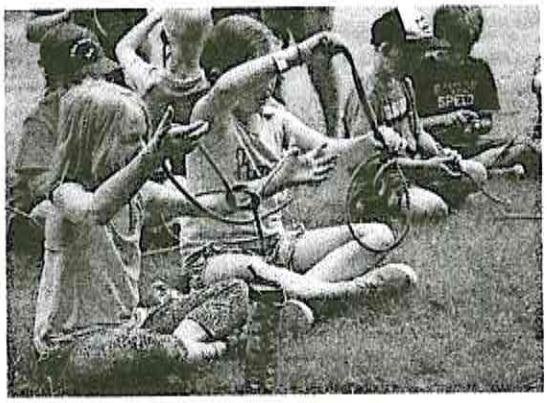
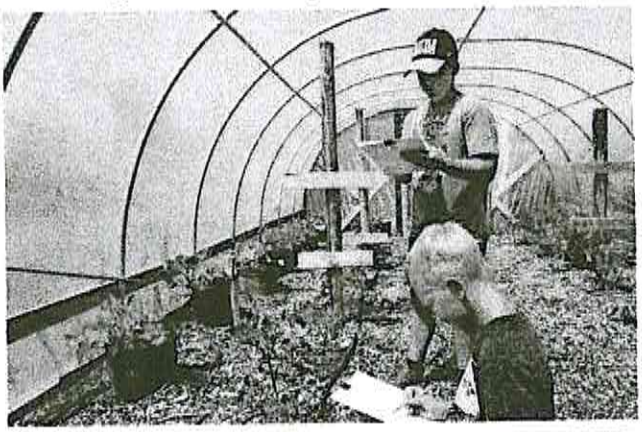
X-CAMP Provides Impactful Learning Experiences

X-CAMP is a hands-on educational camp for children ages 5-10 offered at the University of Montana Western each summer that first started in 2014. This year's theme was "camping and the outdoors," and was held July 8-12, 2019.



X-CAMP is a unique opportunity for prospective teachers at Montana Western to gain experience in the classroom while kids are able to engage, learn and have fun at the same time. Dr. Estee Aiken, Associate Education Professor, teamed up with two UMW Education students who volunteered as support staff for the camp. Tammy Foley, UMW student and Early Childhood (P-3) Major, participated in the camp last year, while this experience was new to UMW student Cassandra Punohu.

"I enjoyed spending time with the students and getting to know who they are. To me it is important to learn their names and the distinctive personalities attached to those names. I think that's where you can truly start connecting with them as you teach," said Punohu, a Secondary Education Major in English and Drama K-12.



Campers worked with Campus Garden staff on Tuesday, as part of a tour of the garden, followed by a Forest Service presentation on Wednesday by Alex Dunn on outdoor and fire safety, knot tying and more.

The children engaged with local experts and guest speakers who shared lessons about wildlife, art, and ecology during the eventful week. They also utilized the resources in UMW's state-of-the-art Model Classroom for Education.

"I love the opportunity to 'practice what I preach' to my UMW students by modeling lesson development, instruction, and relationship building with K-3 students. It reminds me why I'm so passionate about teacher preparation in the first place when I am able to be an elementary teacher again, even if it's just for a week," said Aiken.

Montana Western's School of Outreach also plays a large role in the coordination of X-CAMP, including marketing and registration. The planning for experiential events like these requires a yearlong effort and is one example of how UMW promotes lifelong learning.

Experience One, the unique one course at a time scheduling program at Montana Western, allows education majors to gain real-world experience in the classroom well before receiving a degree.

Letter to the Editor

We are appalled and disgusted beyond belief. "Send her back, send her back" at the Trump rally screams of Hitlerism creating enemies of the Jews. One reported called it 'hate soaked'. This is more than frightening, and calls for dedicated action to stem and do so now. What was the line about evil triumphing because good men did nothing. We are human beings all made in the same image; the same kind of blood flows through all of us. If we don't wake up and declare ENOUGH! we will get what we deserved.

Most sincerely,
Harry and Val Neeley

We would like to thank the community for your donations & support of the Community Basement. It is a wonderful service for the community but we need your help & cooperation. We would appreciate items to be clean & gently used. We can't wash or repair clothing as we don't have the resources or manpower. We receive multiple items that are not usable. We can't sell infant seats, electrical items or knives due to liability. Also we don't have the room for furniture or large items. So we would appreciate it if you would be selective in the items you donate. We always welcome volunteers & a big thank you to the volunteers who work & strive to make it a pleasant place to shop.
