Gloria Winona Mantha (née Kingrey)

Gloria Winona Mantha (née Kingrey) died peacefully at Barrett Memorial Hospital following a brief struggle with cancer, on August 10, 2019, in Dillon, Montana, at the age of 83.

Gloria is survived by her children: Clifford Neil (Deborah) Mantha of Dillon; Leta Ilene Mantha Brown of Missoula; and Bruce Earl Mantha of Sheridan; grandchildren: Rhian (Jenny) Mantha; Jordan (Shanon) Mantha; Trevor (Amanda Fries) Brown; Megan Brown; David (Becky) Mantha; Olivia Mantha; Alina Mantha; and Colin (Rachel) Mantha; great-grandchildren: Anne Mantha; Hunter Mantha; and Daniel Mantha; brother Edwin Kingrey; and sisters Ethel and Fay. Gloria is preceded in death by her husband Paul Warren Mantha, son Timothy Joe Mantha, as well as three brothers and three sisters.

Gloria was born the seventh of nine children on August 13, 1935, to Edward and Anna Kingrey. She was delivered in the home of her grandmother, Jane Talbott of Twin Bridges, who acted as midwife. From the age of three years, Gloria was raised by her grandparents, Bert and Jane Talbott. She attended school, graduating from Twin Bridges High School in 1953. She married Paul on February 4, 1955, at Christ's Episcopal Church in Sheridan, Montana. After living in Twin Bridges, Dillon, and Wenatchee, WA, Paul and Gloria finally settled in Sheridan, where they had been married.

Gloria grew up to be an accomplished seamstress, creating wardrobes, prom dresses, wedding ensembles, and tailoring clothes for family and friends. For many years, she sewed for RL Winston Rod Co. of Twin Bridges. Gloria worked for Ruby Valley Hospital for 35 years doing a variety of jobs and holding several positions, including X-ray Technician and Surgical Aide. On the side, she house-sat and took care of many beloved pets throughout Madison County, extending this business through retirement.

Gloria was loving and kind, humble and non-judgemental, caring and giving, Gloria was very industrious with a servant's heart and she was always available to help those in any kind of need in the community, including friends of the 4-legged kind. She was so quick to think of something other than herself. Gloria was a silent, but mighty, gift to humanity. Her memory will continue to live on in many hearts and minds. She will be missed.

A memorial service is scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday, September 7th at the Twin Bridges High School multi-purpose room, with a reception to follow. All are welcome to attend and celebrate Gloria's life. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to Camp Mak-A-Dream at www.campdream.org.

BLM cautions public about algae blooms at Hauser Lake

Though it may appear to be harmless "green stuff" floating in the water, algae blooms can be toxic for humans and their pets. Working with Montana's Department of Environmental Quality, the Bureau of Land Management's Butte Field Office is cautioning visitors to Hauser Lake near Helena to avoid the algae, thick as pea soup, which has shown up at some of its sites.

No reports of illness have been reported at the BLM's Hauser sites, but Butte Field Manager Scott Haight said users should exercise caution when recreating in and around the water at Hauser Lake, particularly at its White Sandy Recreation Site.

"We have posted multiple signs at our facilities, advising people about what to watch out for and what to avoid," Haight said, noting that no BLM sites have been closed due to the blooming algae.

Harmful Algal Blooms, or "HABs," are caused by blue-green algae native to Montana's freshwater lakes and reservoirs, according to a recent news release from Montana's DEQ. Potential causes include warmer water temperatures, longer summer growing seasons and increased nitrogen and phosphorus runoff from a variety of human activities. Under certain conditions, HABs can produce toxins that damage the skin, liver and nerve cells. They can make people and animals sick, and at worst, exposure can be fatal.

Not all varieties of blue-green algae are harmful, but some, under the right conditions, can produce dangerous cyanotoxins. Blue-green algae blooms often look like pea soup, grass clippings or green latex paint. The algae are usually suspended in the water column or aggregated into floating mats; they do not grow from the bottom as do roots, mosses or water plants.

Direct contact, ingestion or inhalation of cyanotoxins may irritate the skin, eyes, nose, throat and respiratory system, or cause nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, headache or liver and kidney damage. If you suspect a HAB-related illness in a person or animal, including livestock, call Poison Control immediately at 1-800-222-1222.

Learn how to report a suspected HAB at www.hab.mt.gov or call 1-888-849-2938. You may also report a suspected HAB by email to: HAB@mt.gov

For more information about the White Sandy site, contact the Butte Field Office at (406) 533-7600.

Natural Horsemanship Program Offers Unique Opportunities Abroad

Instructors and students in the University of Montana Western's Natural Horsemanship program participated in several international teaching opportunities during the summer.

The clinics are open for all breeds of horses, with the goal for riders to learn how to communicate with their horses and improve their riding and handling skills.

Natural Horsemanship Instructor Eric Hoffmann taught horsemanship classes in Germany with Camas Neville and Maggie Blandford, UMW Natural Horsemanship students who were able to share their knowledge as guest clinicians.

The two clinics, hosted by the Deutsche and American Quarter Horse Associations, featured topics including young horse development, roping, ground work, tack usage and improving overall horsemanship skills.

The expenses of the trip are covered by scholarships through the associations, including food, lodging, and travel expenses.

The first clinic was held at the Five Star Ranch in Bad Sassendorf, Germany from July 18-21, and the second clinic was held in Wollbach, Germany from July 27-30.

The clinics emphasized horsemanship skills in the saddle. Hoffmann, Neville and Blandford taught basic drills for steering and stopping horses, advanced drills for experienced riders, roping, and overall drills for better performance.

The clinics also included general knowledge about horses, including nutrition, trailer loading, working from the ground, and a judge's perspective on showmanship.

"The experience was great for both UMW students who taught what they learned in the Natural Horsemanship program, experience a new culture and an international equine industry, and for the camp participants who got to learn new horsemanship skills. This program will continue in the future so our students can expand their knowledge about the international equine world," said Hoffmann.

The Natural Horsemanship program is offered through the Equine Studies Department at the University of Montana Western in partnership with the Montana Center for Horsemanship.

Montana Western offers the nation's only Bachelor of Science degree in Natural Horsemanship with options in equine management, psychology, science and instruction. UMW also offers a Bachelor of Science degree in equine management and associate degrees in equine studies and Natural Horsemanship. ThoughtCo.com, an online education resource, also ranked UMW among the "Best Equestrian Colleges" nationwide.

Many of the equine courses take place at the Montana Center for Horsemanship (MCH), a natural horsemanship-based facility located less than two miles from campus.

The Montana Center for Horsemanship is the first and only equine center in the United States that is devoted expressly to promoting 'Natural Horsemanship.' With its stables, arenas, riding areas, and instructors, the center serves as the primary facility and progressive teaching resource for Montana Western's Natural Horsemanship BS curriculum.

The MCH teaches the 'La Cense Method,' which was developed under William Kriegel, owner of La Cense Montana and Haras de la Cense in France. Mr. Kriegel is also co-founder of MCH, and he has been involved in Natural Horsemanship for many years. The Le Cense Method is a progressive, step-by-step process that blends the best of traditional horsemanship training with the art of training and riding horses—all in a manner that works with a horse's behavior, instincts, and personality. Taking a positive and respectful approach, the La Cense Method gradually builds trust, and frees the horses to be confident in all they are asked to perform.

For more information about the Natural Horsemanship program, please visit the Equine Studies Department website.
