Wayne Henry Contway

"Wayne Henry Contway was born November 20, 1937 in Dillon Montana to Harold "Toke" and Helene Wenger Contway. On Thursday, August 22, 2019, Wayne passed away at home with family at his side after a long battle with cancer.

Wayne attended Beaverhead County High School and Western Montana College. After graduating from Western, Wayne began his career with Health and Human Services as a social worker and later became the Beaverhead County Welfare Director, retiring in 1994. Wayne then joined his long time friend, Ed Kenison, as a surveyor for the Beaverhead National Forest.

Wayne loved the natural beauty of southwestern Montana. He fished its rivers and streams, hunting its mountain ranges, camped and explored the many lakes in the Big Hole Valley. One of Wayne's favorite pastimes was bowling, beginning at Ned-Eva Lanes in Dillon 50 years ago, and continuing in Butte with the Thursday Senior Mixed League.

Wayne and his wife Karyle Russell of Helena, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this year. Wayne is survived by his wife, his son Lee of Missoula, brother Harold "Toke" of Dillon, sister-in-law Margaret (Tom) Colvin, brother-in-law Pat Russell all of Helena, and several cousins, nieces and nephews. Wayne was preceded in death by his mother and father and sister Patsy Bennett.

The family wishes to thank Drs. Ron Loge, Meghan Combs, James Hueftle and their staff for their care during Wayne's 14 year battle with cancer. A special thanks and sincere appreciation to all the wonderful nurses from Barrett Hospital Home Health/Hospice who assisted with Wayne's care.

Cremation has taken place. At Wayne's request, family graveside services will be held Wednesday, September 4th at 11 am. The family will celebrate Wayne's life with family and friends at the Dillon Elks Club at 1 pm following the service."

A Gravitational Wave Runs Through It: A Story About Einstein, Gravitational Waves, and Siksika Resilience

Please join us for an exciting public presentation by Blackfoot Scientist Corey Gray and his mother, Sharon Yellowfly on Tuesday, September 3, 2019 to be held from 4:30-5:30 p.m. in the Swysgood Technology Center Great Room on the University of Montana Western campus.

Interested Montana Western students are also invited to attend a meet-and-greet lunch the same day in the Multicultural Center from 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Corey Gray is a member of the Siksika Nation of Alberta. He grew up in southern California and received Bachelor of Science degrees in Physics and Applied Mathematics from Humboldt State University. After completing his undergraduate studies, he was hired by Caltech in 1998 to work for the astronomy project, LIGO (Laser Interferometer Gravitational wave Observatory) in Washington state. At LIGO, Corey worked on teams to both build and operate gravitational wave detectors. He is currently the Lead Operator at the observatory in Washington state. The LIGO Scientific Collaboration (LSC) made big news in 2016 by announcing their first direct detection of gravitational waves. The waves were the first actually detected since Albert Einstein theorized their existence as part of his General Theory of Relativity in 1915.

Sharon Yellowfly was born and raised on the Blackfoot Indian Reserve in Southern Alberta, Canada. (The Blackfoot Indian Reserve is now known as Siksika Nation.) She was educated in a system set up for indigenous students called Indian Residential Schools. The boarding school she attended nearest her community was Crowfoot Indian Residential School and overseen by nuns and priests. Blackfoot was her first language and she was introduced to English at the boarding school. She received a BA in Anthropology with honors from California State University San Bernadino. At the time, she was one of the rare Native Americans to go into the field. Ms. Yellowfly is currently finishing a dictionary of her language. She has been working on it for over 40 years. She has four children and resides in the mountains of Southern California, but she goes home to the reserve every summer.

The public lecture will highlight Gray's research, his experience as a native person in the sciences, and the importance of translation and his mother's work. For more information, please contact UMW Multicultural Committee member Aja Mujinga Sherrard at aja.sherrard@umwestern.edu or call 406-683-7313.

Security Summit warns - new IRS impersonation scam

The Internal Revenue Service and its Security Summit partners warned taxpayers and tax professionals about a new IRS impersonation scam campaign spreading nationally on email. Remember: the IRS does not send unsolicited emails and never emails taxpayers about the status of refunds.

The IRS this week detected this new scam as taxpayers began notifying phishing@irs.gov about unsolicited emails from IRS imposters. The email subject line may vary, but recent examples use the phrase "Automatic Income Tax Reminder" or "Electronic Tax Return Reminder."

The emails have links that show an IRS.gov-like website with details pretending to be about the taxpayer's refund, electronic return or tax account. The emails contain a "temporary password" or "one-time password" to "access" the files to submit the refund. But when taxpayers try to access these, it turns out to be a malicious file.

"The IRS does not send emails about your tax refund or sensitive financial information," said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. "This latest scheme is yet another reminder that tax scams are a year-round business for thieves. We urge you to be on-guard at all times."

The IRS doesn't initiate contact with taxpayers by email, text messages or social media channels to request personal or financial information. This includes requests for PIN numbers, passwords or similar access information for credit cards, banks or other financial accounts.

The IRS also doesn't call to demand immediate payment using a specific payment method such as a prepaid debit card, gift card or wire transfer. Generally, the IRS will first mail a bill to any taxpayer who owes taxes. See Report Phishing and Online Scams for more details.
