ROBERT "LOWELL" NELSON

Robert Lowell Nelson (80) passed away peacefully Monday, 26th August, 2019 in Bountiful, Utah, following a 10 month battle with a very rare cancer disease, Merkel Cell Carcinoma. He donated his body to cancer research.

He was born in Butte, Montana 2nd, April, 1939 to Ray and Fay Nelson. While Lowell lived all over the globe, he was raised in southwest Montana and fiercely loved all things Big Sky: fishing, mountains, rivers, lakes, skiing, mining, ranching, and history of the wild west. He attended grade school in Dillon and graduated from Whitehall High School. He graduated from Western College, and taught school for awhile.

While living in west Africa during the '80's, Lowell's humanitarian aid efforts blessed thousands, attracting international attention and a New York Times article applauding his work.

Lowell was an avid defender of Republican Party political ideals, and worked as a lobbyist in Washington D.C. He was always willing to comment on political hot-topics that most of us shy away from. He made many interviews on TV defending his beliefs.

Lowell had a true entrepreneurial spirit and was always looking for the next big wave or trend to help set. He loved life and was grateful for his turn on earth.

Recently in an interview with his 12 year old granddaughter, he was asked to describe himself. He responded: Adventurous, Charitable, and Loyal. Lowell was a devout member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and loved his savior, Jesus Christ.

He took tremendous pride in his family. He was married twice; had five children and ten grandchildren.

Lowell was preceded in death by his son, Weldon, his parents Ray and Fay Nelson, his sister Carol vonGostomski.

He is survived by his children, Roland, Krista, Aaron, Meagan (Benj) and ten fun loving grandchildren, a brother, Tom Nelson, several nieces and nephews. A memorial in Lowell's honor was held September 14, 2019.

Kiel's Konnection brings Dr. Alan Wolfelt to Butte for Suicide Grief workshop, September 26 and 27

Exploring Misconceptions of Suicide and Grief

Sponsor: Kiel's Konnection

Date: September 26, 2019

Time: 6:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Copper King Inn, 4655 Harrison Ave in Butte

Purpose: This evening program will dispel misconceptions about suicide and grief. You will be able to make use of some important insights that will help you open your heart to your own grief and those you wish to bring support and comfort. This compassionate program, presented by one of North America's leading death educators, will help you understand the normal and necessary journey thorough suicide grief.

Why This Workshop: As you probably know, a misconception is a mistaken notion that you might have about something - in other words, something you believe to be true but that is not true. Misconceptions about grief are common in our society because we tend not to openly mourn or talk about grief and mourning. You can see how we would have misconceptions that need to be dispelled surrounding suicide grief.

Who Should Attend: This evening program will help anyone who wants to learn more about their own grief, as well as, how to support suicide survivors. Anyone, from lay persons to professional caregivers will benefit from attending this program. Make your reservation right now.

25 Annual "Boots Country" Karaoke Results
 The 2019 25th annual "Boots Country" Karaoke contest was held over the Labor Day weekend in Dillon.
 The weather was perfect. Maybe a little on the warm side.
 Taking 3rd place and winning $50.00 was Tucker Vezina of Dillon. He did a very good job on the Eagles song "Take It Easy".
 In 2nd place and taking home $100.00 was Daniel Schnackenberg of Dillon. Daniel is from Minnesota and is the bass player with the Fully Cooked Band. His rendition of the Johnny Cash song "Ring Of Fire" was a real crowd pleaser.
 The first place winner and pocketing $1000.00 was Torry Vezina of Dillon. He did an excellent job on the Tim McGraw song "Something Like That".
 Tucker and Torrey Vezina are the sons of Steve and Patty Vezina. Steve was a previous 1st place winner in the Labor Day Karaoke contest.
 Congratulations to the winners and a big "Thank You" to all the contestants. Also "Thank You" to all the advertisers and sponsors of the "Boots Country" Karaoke contest for the past 25 years. Thanks to Shelly and Jerry McDonald for hosting the Finals Contest in front of the Blacktail Station & Mac's Last Cast.

Grandma's Tree Hut

By: Bryce Angell

The years flew by so fast; we're now called Grandma/Grandpa Angell.

Grandkids are the best, but they can be a doggone handful.

So, Grandma got this wild hair. She said, "I'll keep em busy.

I'll build a tree hut twelve feet high. I've got this, it'll be easy."

I hope I'm not being sexist but when Grandma said, "Tree hut."

I soon began to have some doubts right down to my mid gut.

This daunting Grandma project filled me with anxiety.

So why are tree huts always built up high there in a tree?

I'd hear her hammer pounding. I was sure to stay away.

And if she needed help, well then, I'd wait for her to say.

She built her hut in three long days. The worst days of my life.

Now I breathed a little easy. I still had a living wife.

She couldn't wait to show me, and her face was proud as punch.

But I felt some hesitation, I just had a nagging hunch.

The tree hut floor was worn out scabs and not a single board.

The handrail, rotten to the core, tied up with cable cord.

Not sure about the ladder rungs. They looked like twisted moss.

I swear that doggone tree hut looked like Grandma'd hit the sauce.

So, to offer my assistance would require diplomacy. 'Cuz if

I crossed Dear Grandma, I'd be living in the tree.

One night while Grandma visited Relief Society, with drill and hammer in my hand I set out for the tree.

I braced up all the floor and then I tossed the rotten rail.

I screwed in solid quaken asp. Dang sure they wouldn't fail.

I nailed the ladder rungs to hold the fattest guy like me.

I'd made some drastic changes. Hoped that Grandma would not see.

So, Grandma saw the work I'd done. I wondered, should I fear?

But that night she hugged and thanked me as she nibbled on my ear.

Attorney General Fox Praises New 'Waters Of The U.S.' Rule That Replaces Obama-Era Regulation

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Army Corps of Engineers announced the repeal of the controversial 2015 "Waters of the U.S." rule, which dramatically expanded federal authority beyond traditional interpretations of the Clean Water Act. The EPA and Corps also announced the finalization of a replacement rule that brings consistency and clarity to how regulable waters are defined in the Clean Water Act.

"I applaud the Trump Administration, EPA, and Corps of Engineers for finalizing a Waters of the U.S. rule that respects the role of the states in managing land and water resources," Fox said. "In 2015, I and other state attorneys general led the charge in halting President Obama's rule, which appeared to be more about grabbing power than protecting water. This time, the federal government listened to the people who will be directly impacted and crafted a proposal that makes it much easier to understand and apply the Clean Water Act in Montana."

With the support of the Montana Farm Bureau Federation, Montana Stockgrowers Association, Montana Association of Counties, Montana Chamber of Commerce, and others, Attorney General Fox led a group of 13 states to file suit against the 2015 rule. The legal challenge was ultimately successful in halting implementation of the rule. In 2017, the federal government began the process of rescinding the 2015 rule and drafting a replacement.

My Thoughts, Exactly

By Melissa Bauer, September 16, 2001

Today I took to my first voyage into the skies since September 11, 2001.

At 28,000 feet, the heavens are clear, blue and empty.

I sit and peer out the window as a child would on a rainy day.

The earth below serene and whole when observed from above - what a paradox.

The plane continues to journey over New York State, I can see Niagara Falls in the distance.

How peaceful it appears...

For a moment I am mesmerized, and somewhat entertained.

My eyes follow the mist produced from the rumb'le - ascending leisurely in the tranquil sky.

Gracefully, the mist continues to drift upward, ultimately dispersing within the heavens-

Just as the chosen souls did on the morning of September 11, 2001.

I become numb.

Overcome with pure heartbreak, I envision the encounters experienced by the flight crews and passengers aboard

American and United Airlines - absolute terror, skepticism and panic.

Without doubt, this tragedy has placed a new meaning to "another day in the sky."

Being a Flight Attendant will never be the same -

The aviation industry has been confronted with a new facet of reality.

Unruly notions of anxiety, fear and uncertainty race through my so-called intellect.

My courage and inner strength all reaped of its innocence - and continuously undermined by a recurring wrath of violence.

Throughout this twisted phase of emotions, I will continue as a Flight Attendant.

I truly enjoy and anticipate the occupation's chaotic nature.

The visits to Tokyo and Tupelo; the elderly, the children and those who certainly act like children.

Sincerely apologizing to a passenger who becomes enraged after a Coke is requested, but I can only offer them Pepsi.

Accommodating the tricycle to be given as a Christmas gift; the plant from a funeral or "Grandma's set of china" all carried on minutes before the aircraft door closes.

Being able to witness a child's exuberance on their first flight;
taking their little hand into mine while leading them to view the flight deck and adorning them with their first set of "wings."

Or simply trying to put someone at ease over their fear of flying.

It is this that I take pleasure in...

This ordeal can not be sorted out logically, or philosophically.

To the American citizens, no degree of repentance will ever be forgiven, never the less forgotten.

We, as individuals, and collectively as a union are trying to rationalize the devastation occurring on September 11, 2001.

Lingering concerns of "Why" encompass our thoughts.

Questioning God's existence and his grounds for inflicting such grief and pain on us as human beings and as the United States of America...

In light of all, I recall a conversation involving a man and a woman. The woman was in distress over the unexpected loss of a loved one. Seeking comfort, as well as some sort of rationale to why her loved one had to die.

In quest of "Why did this happen to her? Why did she have to die? Why do people in general have to die?"

After a brief pause, the man gently brushed aside her tears.

Empathetically he replied "We are only here for a limited amount of time - no one knows how long.

Death is the definitive reality - a remembrance of life, how fragile and precarious it truly is."

God Bless You and America. Again.
