Mary is a clay artist, working out of her home studio on the banks of the Jefferson River in Silver Star, Montana. She wishes to become a stronger woman than she is and so practices making images of strong women out of her lump of clay. She knows this is really magic akin to God and considers it quite a challenge!

Letter to the Editor

Saturday, Sept. 14

This is a letter conveying a blessed thank you to the ER of B.H.H.C. where I just spent nearly eight hours for dizziness.

I want to thank the staff; Dr. Potter, nurse Liz and CNA/EMT Shellie - they were excellent.

We are so blessed here in Dillon to have such personnel locally at our hospital. they were very busy today too.

Thank you so very much

Ed Flanders

REMOTE ONLINE NOTARIZATION COMES TO MONTANA

Beginning October 1, it will be legal for Montana notaries public to offer Remote Online Notarization (R.O.N.) for almost every transaction requiring a notarized document. Until now, the process for obtaining a notarization on a document hadn't changed in hundreds of years. A concept that wasn't even available ten years ago is now legally offered in 12 states, including Montana.

In accordance with Secretary of State Corey Stapleton's mission to help business thrive, he has announced a one day event to introduce and explain R.O.N. at a one day symposium on September 24th in Helena.

Simply put, R.O.N. means that documents can be notarized at the speed of business. Time and distance will no longer hold up time-sensitive transactions. The personal appearance requirement for the signer and the notary can be accomplished by means of live, two-way, audio-visual communication. Documents can be digitally signed, notarized, and transmitted to the end user in a matter of minutes, twenty-four hours a day, every day of the year.

According to Stapleton, "Remote Online Notarization is a response to market demand for faster, more reliable, more accurate, and more secure notarizations. Remote online notarization can be utilized personally and by all businesses including banks, credit unions, title companies, lawyers, contractors, realtors, as well as the military and most federal, state and local government agencies."

R.O.N. SYMPOSIUM

DATE: September 24, 2019

LOCATION: Delta Marriot Colonial Hotel

DETAILS: Registration for the one-day event is $50 and includes lunch.

Registration is online at <https://ron-symposium.eventbrite.com>.

3 hunters survive Gravelly Mountains grizzly attacks

Three hunters were injured Monday in two separate grizzly bear attacks on the west side of the Gravelly Mountains.

The three survivors received moderate to severe injuries. Both attacks involved a single bear, but it's unclear whether the same bear was involved. Wardens with MT Fish, Wildlife & Parks are asking hunters to leave this area while the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest closes Cottonwood Rd.

The first attack happened at about 7:30 a.m. Monday. A bear charged two adult male hunters as they were heading south from Cottonwood Creek, west of Black Butte. Both hunters were injured but were able to drive the bear away and get medical treatment in Ennis.

The second attack happened in the same general area at about 6:30 p.m. as two adult male hunters were heading north toward Cottonwood Creek. One of the hunters was injured before they drove the bear away. The injured hunter was initially treated in Sheridan and later in Butte.

Details of these attacks are still unclear. Both incidents are still under investigation. More information will be provided as it becomes available.

FWP reminds everyone to be cautious when in the field as bears are active during the spring, summer and fall months. Some recommended tips for avoiding negative encounters with bears include:

- Be prepared and aware of your surroundings.
- Carry and know how to use bear spray.
- Travel in groups whenever possible.
- Stay away from animal carcasses.
- Follow U.S. Forest Service food storage regulations.
- If you encounter a bear, never approach it. Back away slowly and leave the area.

3D Mammography detects threats like no other

When it comes to breast cancer, early detection is essential. In fact, early detection saves lives.

That's why we are so passionate about our 3D mammography capabilities at Barrett. And while it might be tempting to choose thermography instead of a mammogram, the FDA warns that thermography should be used only as an adjunct to mammography. The American Cancer Society has stated that thermography is not an effective screening tool for finding breast cancer early.

3D mammography has been proven to detect breast cancer sooner and better. With 3D mammography, callbacks are reduced by 40% and detection is improved up to 50%. Trust the experts at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare. We are here for you and your health.

Talk to your provider about scheduling your mammogram at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare, call 406-683-1188.
