'Rotpunkt' Film Screening Thursday, October 17th Patagonia Outlet Dillon

'Rotpunkt' documents the advent, the agony and the art of the redpoint through Alex Megos's efforts to redefine the boundaries of the form. The film will trace the redpoint—which transformed rock climbing from an engineering problem into a brilliant test of mental and physical strength—from its origins with a ragtag bunch of tight-wearing revolutionaries in rural Bavaria, to its golden era with Wolfgang Güllich, to its new ideal in the German phenom Megos as he battles to unlock new levels of human potential.

We will be joined by Conrad Anker and Jenni Lowe-Anker who will be representing the Khumbu Climbing Center, an incredible nonprofit group that works to teach the Nepali mountain guides lifesaving skills such as technical climbing, mountain safety, rescue, and wilderness first aid as well as the English language. They are currently working to build a climbing center in Phortse, Nepal. This permanent physical home for the KCC will allow expanded instruction, year-round access for both Nepali and visiting climbers, and serve as a community center, library and medical clinic for Phortse. We'll be raising funds and awareness for the KCC and are so excited to have Conrad and Jenni here to talk about their mission.

Join us for the film, snacks, drinks + limited edition Rotpunkt swag (available for donation to our nonprofit friends!).

Commuters, Are You Driving Your Lives Away?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree
Are you more familiar with the little trees hanging from your rearview mirror than the trees in your own yard? According to the Washington Post, the U.S. Census Bureau announced that in 2018 the average American commute grew to a record high of just over 27 minutes - one way.

(In a related story, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals blocked the follow-up survey question: "And of those 27 minutes, approximately how many of them did you spend fiddling with the radio dial, adjusting the air conditioner or...um... existing as an undocumented immigrant?")

Since 1980, we've added nearly an hour a week to our commutes. We're driving well over nine full calendar days a year just for the privilege of participating in the daily grind. 4.3 million workers have one-way commutes of 90 minutes or more!

Instead of asking, "What's for dinner?," young commuting couples now focus on their hoped-for reunion by making a morning ritual of inquiring, "Will you still need me, will you still feed me, when I'm 64?"

One cause of the soul-stealing long commutes is that new housing is not being built fast enough in metropolitan areas. Workers seeking the American Dream must relocate to spread-out suburbs and exurban areas, where homes are somewhat more affordable. (One Denver area man sheepishly commented, "I get the evil eye from my co-workers, because human resources instituted mandatory Mandarin classes after I started driving in from that island built by China.")

Aging infrastructure is another factor in unacceptable commute times. Many cities have delayed necessary spending on roads, bridges and public transit even as

Certain special-interest groups may have undue influence on road projects. ("Voters, just for fun, why don't we convert all our cloverleaves into MARIJUANA LEAVES?")

Perhaps infrastructure dollars for reducing traffic congestion will free up after the cities have fully funded the new unicycle-only and human-wheelbarrow-race-only lanes.

COMMUTER KNieVEL

Long commutes can be made more bearable with audiobooks, satellite radio or Carpool Karaoke (if not its cousin, Carpool Name That Bodily Odor); but if you like getting lost in Deep Thoughts during mundane activities, gardening is a much safer activity than driving. ("Why am I here? What is my purpose in life? What is the purpose of those JAWS of Life those sobbing strangers are bringing toward me?") Retirees may think they are immune to the problems because they're no longer in the rat race; but if they visit a store, office or eatery, they must deal with the pent-up road rage of the EMPLOYEES. Imagine being the patient of a suburban doctor who has spent an hour encountering rude motorists. ("Oh, so you sprained your MIDDLE FINGER, did you? Set it? No, I think I'll AMPUTATE it. Work-from-home telecommuting is relieving some of the pressure, but society still needs to take the effects of driving drudgery seriously. Research shows that long commutes can contribute to obesity, high blood pressure, higher divorce rates, emotionally troubled children, worker absenteeism, lost productivity, job turnover and wasted fuel.

At least I THINK that's what the research says. The report is in Mandarin and OUR human resources director was last seen near an underpass in a different time zone, trying to flag down a human wheelbarrow.

Southwest Veterans Home Update #18

By Mike Lawson

Greeting Once again to you the Veterans/Counties/Communities who are the six counties in SW Montana who are represented as the organizers and chief supporters of the "SW MT Veterans Home".

The weather becomes more of a factor in the construction process of our Veteran Home, especially concerning the cement work. This week will see fluctuations between single digit degrees and low 50 degree temperatures.

Breakdown of the week's construction progresses as follows:

Cottage #1 has the west wall, with the south and north attached wall section, standing. There is also the north wall of the north wing standing.

Cottage #2 is a bit quieter but layout for the floors is being done, getting it ready for framers.

Cottage #3 has seen the completion of the outside cement foundation wall insulated "Foam Sections" put in place which enabled Zemljak Excavating to backfill to the required ground level around it.

Cottage #4 's interior walls were poured and the forms removed. The inside the foundation, dirt filling/compacting is now taking place.

Cottage #5 has seen Zemljak Excavating get all the footings dug. Phillips Concrete is scheduled to will get the footing forms in and poured with concrete this week. It's possible that the exterior wall forms will be erected and possibly poured this week also. If not, it will happen next week.

Exciting stuff continues to happen at our Veteran Home Site.
Check it out, stop in at the "Viewing Hooch", make yourself a cup (or two) of coffee and relax for a bit, while taking it all in.

On the state side of things, the SWMTVH State "Liaison" position candidates are being scheduled for interviews. This position is under the MT Dept of Public Health and Human Services. The person in this position, will coordinate between the State of Montana and the SW MT Veterans Home.

Let's hope and pray for warmer weather so Cottage #4 & #5 can have the cement work completed. Take care and check things out at the site.

Bible Truth...About who Jesus Christ was

Statement of belief: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God..." (2 Timothy 3:16-17), thus all beliefs in conflict with the scripture, God's holy word, are false.

There are many beliefs about who Jesus Christ was, most of which are based on beliefs invented by man. These opinions are almost always associated with false religions established by man in which God's word, the Bible, was not used.

It's important for any individual searching for the answer to this question to understand that the Bible is the only reference book in existence that was written by God's inspiration. 2 Timothy 3:16-17 states that we received the scriptures by the inspiration of God so man can be completely equipped for all good works.

2 Peter 1:20-21 says that no prediction or message of divine truth revealing God's will is of any private [personal] interpretation by the will of man, but it was given by holy men of God as the Holy Spirit moved them.

Having this information, the individual who is really seeking the truth about who Jesus Christ was must reject any writings except the Bible. Scripture references are given with the following list of facts about who Jesus Christ was.

Eternal, John 1:1-2 & 17:5; Colossians 1:17; Revelation 1:8. The Creator, John 1:3 & Ephesians 3:9. God revealed in the flesh, 1 Timothy 3:16; Colossians 2:9. Conceived by the Holy Spirit and Born of a virgin, Matthew 1:18-25. He lived without sin, Hebrews 4:15. The world's only Savior, John 1:29; John 14:6.

The most important fact regarding Jesus Christ is that there is no eternal life for the individual who dies without having accepted Him as their Savior by putting their faith in Him.

The Apostle John makes this very clear, stating in 1 John 5:11-12, "And this is the record, that God has given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that has the Son has life; and he that has not the Son of God has not life."

The word "us" refers to the Christians John wrote to, NOT to every individual. Eternal life is available to everyone, but is only granted to those who believe in Jesus Christ. As John 3:18 states, believers aren't condemned and unbelievers are because of that unbelief.
