Cora LaVoie Hofferber

Cora LaVoie Hofferber passed away peacefully surrounded by her loving family on October 11, 2019

She was born on January 21, 1928 in Missoula, to Frank and Louise LaVoie. The family moved to Dillon and started the OK Tire Store. Cora graduated from Beaverhead County High School and held many jobs.

While employed as a telephone switchboard operator, she met and married John Hofferber. The couple resided in Butte until moving back to Dillon. John and Cora took over the OK Tire Store and later owned the Wayside Acres Trailer Park.

Cora was a loving mother to their four daughters and a devoted wife. In later years, her and John spent many winters in Yuma, AZ. She loved to line dance and play her piano. She enjoyed sharing her baked goods and playing pinochle.

She was preceded in death by parents, Frank and Louise LaVoie; her husband, John Hofferber; grandson John Mark Clemow and nephew Bill Tarleton.

She is survived by her sister, Cecelia "Pete" Tarleton, daughters; Kathy (Sam) Stearns, Bernie (Jim) Darby, Patty (Bob) Hutfles, Susie (Phil) Yuhas, special friend Joe Carroll, 11 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren whom she cherished.

Cora love the Lord, her rosary and her Catholic faith. She was an active member of St. Rose Parish.

There is a visitation scheduled for Thursday October 17th from 5:00 - 6:30 PM with a vigil service and rosary following at 6:30 PM at Brundage Funeral Home.

A celebration of Life Mass will be held on Friday, October 18th at 11:00 AM. at St. Rose Parish, followed by a luncheon. A family committal will take place later at Mountain View Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to the Parkinson's Dementia Foundation.

Southwest Montana Aging and Disability Services

Our agency will be conducting our annual Medicare Open Enrollment Event on October 16, 2019 at the Dillon City Hall to take appointments with local Medicare Beneficiaries who would like to review their Medicare Prescription Drug or Medicare Advantage Plans. There is no charge for this service. We do this only by appointments which can made by contacting our office in Butte, 782-5555 or 1-800-551-3191.

Biology Class

By: Bryce Angell

When we were high school sophomores, we took biology.
The class was long and boring, right before psychology.
Mr. Garrett was our teacher and had taught for many years.
He'd taught some of our dads and was respected by his peers.
One day in Mr. Garrett's class, we cut up big dead bugs.
Grasshoppers, I think they were, preserved in gallon jugs.
They smelled of strong formaldehyde that made our noses run.
And 'cuz some of us were knuckleheads, we had to have some fun.
I looked at Jackson sitting there. I turned to him and said,
"I'll give you five whole dollars if you'll eat that insect's head."
He said, "I'll do one better, and I promise it for sure. I'll eat the whole darn grasshopper for fifteen dollars more."
That made it twenty dollars, and to us that was a bunch.
But I had to see a person eat an arthropod for lunch.
So, we gathered up the twenty from the six of us, in all.
We handed it to Jackson, and now it was his call.
He took the twenty-dollar bills and wound them in a roll. Then he chomped down on the hopper's head. I think it went down whole.
He crunched down next on wings and legs and didn't even gag.
Then I noticed one poor wide-eyed boy, puking in a bag.
In one huge bite he gobbled up the body, then he smiled.
He'd seemed to take it all in stride. I'd never seen him riled.
It wasn't long 'fore Mr. Garrett said, "What's all the fuss?"
I think we all looked guilty. We'd been caught by that old cuss.
He looked at Jackson, then he said, "Where would your hopper be?"
Jackson said, "I ate it, sir. Got another one for me?"
Mr. Garrett sighed and turned away. He walked back to his desk.
Had he ever seen, in all his years, something that grotesque?
Jackson never told us 'bout the grade he got that day.
But if it had been up to me, I'd have given him an A.

CARROLL COLLEGE & UNIVERSITY OF PROVIDENCE PICKED IN 2019-2020 PRESEASON COACHES' POLL

In a preseason poll of Frontier Conference women's basketball coaches, defending conference tournament champion Carroll College is picked to win the 2019-2020 league title. The Saints received six first place votes.

Rocky Mountain College is picked to finish second followed by the University of Providence, and Lewis-Clark State (received one first place vote). Defending national and regular season conference champion Montana Western is picked fifth followed by MSU-Northern and Montana Tech.

In this year's women's poll, there was one ballot that gave both Lewis-Clark and Montana Western a fourth place vote. The points for fourth and fifth were added together, divided by two with each receiving half of the total.

The league's men's coaches selected the University of Providence to win the 2019-2020 title with MSU-Northern picked to finish second. Providence received four first places with Northern receiving the remaining three.

Defending regular season co-champion, conference tournament champion and national semifinalist Lewis-Clark State is picked to finish third. Co-defending regular season champion and national runner-up Carroll College is picked fourth. Montana Tech is next followed by Rocky Mountain College and Montana Western.

Governor Bullock Announces Montana Ambassador Award Recipients

Governor Steve Bullock has announced the 2019 Montana Ambassador Awards, honoring individuals who have made an outstanding contribution to economic development in Montana.

"It's my honor to recognize this group of hard-working Ambassadors who help ensure that Montana remains one of the best places in the country to live, work, play, start a business and raise a family," said Governor Bullock. "This commitment to growing Montana's economy, creating more good-paying jobs, and revitalizing communities across the state is vital to our continued success."

The honorees, including University of Montana Western Chancellor Dr. Beth Weatherby, will be recognized at an awards ceremony and reception on Monday, October 14 in conjunction with the 2019 Innovate Montana Symposium in Butte from October 14-16.

"I'm honored to accept this award on behalf of everyone at Montana Western. This is clear recognition of the great work our faculty, staff, and administrators do to create an excellent experience for our students," said Chancellor Weatherby.

The complete list of the 2019 honorees is below:

2019 Montana Ambassador of the Year – Michael and Gloria O'Rourke

Gloria and Mike O'Rourke, from Anaconda, have contributed countless hours and thousands of miles to serve the state, whether that be helping to organize a statewide event, providing financial management, manning a registration desk, and staying to help clean up. Their company, Montana Economic Development Services, provided the administrative and financial services for Montana Ambassadors from 2006 to 2019 providing the support for the organization to thrive.

The Montana Ambassadors' Plenipotentiary Award – Channing Hartelius

Channing Hartelius, from Great Falls, has dedicated four decades of professional and legal leadership for the state of Montana.

The Montana Ambassador Entrepreneur of the Year – David Erickson

In 2000, Erickson and two partners, Elizabeth Erickson and Josh Vincent, started Water & Environmental Technologies (WET).

From four employees in 2000 to over 70 today with offices in Butte, Anaconda, Bozeman, Kalispell and Great Falls, WET provides employment to many scientists and engineers and, more importantly, many young Montanans, keeping jobs and talent in Montana.

The Montana Ambassador Business of the Year – Montana Precision Products

Montana Precision Products (MPP) manufactures tube and duct assemblies for the aerospace industry. It is the only aerospace facility in the US which provides investment casting, CNC machining, welding and assembly under one (expanding) roof. The company supplies critical components to the world's largest commercial aerospace programs and employs 270 dedicated team members.

The Montana Ambassador Mike Malone Educator of the Year – Dr. Beth Weatherby

Dr. Weatherby became the 22nd chancellor of the University of Montana Western in 2015. Under her leadership, Montana Western continues to attract more students regionally and across the nation. Weatherby is a proven innovator with over 20 years in higher education and is a champion of the unique Experience One program provided at Montana Western.

The Montana Ambassador Legislator of the Year – Rep. Jim Keane

Over his tenure in the Montana State Legislature, Jim Keane has been a persistent force when it comes to economic development while leading important policy changes with bipartisan support. His leadership was vital in passing HB52, which protects and continues the economic development programs that help businesses and communities across the state.

The Outreach Montana Ambassador of the Year – James Thompson

James Thompson's professional life has been in corporate finance and running companies as the CEO or CFO. He rejoined Alexander Hutton, a 33-year-old investment banking firm in Seattle where he had interned as a grad student 20+ years ago. Having grown up in Butte, Thompson is a tireless advocate for Montana and has been successful in connecting businesses with the innovative events hosted in Seattle.
