Davis to sign Books at The Bookstore

Carl (C.M.) Davis will be signing copies of his new book Six Hundred Generations at The Bookstore on Saturday, October 19th from 1:00-3:00. Davis, a BCHS graduate, is part of the Fall Festival Celebration.

Six Hundred Generations is a stunning look at the archeological evidence of Montana's long Indigenous human history. Focusing on 12 unique archaeological sites, the book takes readers on an extraordinary journey through time, technologies, and cultures. Beginning with the First Americans who followed mammoths into this landscape, peer-awarded Montana archeologist Carl Davis describes how Native Americans lived, evolved and flourished here for thousands of years. The engaging writing is accompanied by a rich array of photographs of archaeological sites, artifacts, and rock art, along with conceptual illustrations of Montana's Indigenous peoples by noted artist-archaeologist Eric Carlson. The 320-page book includes more than 70 color photos and illustrations.

The author received degrees in anthropology from the University of Montana and University of Pittsburgh and worked for 35 years as an archaeologist for the Forest Service, retiring as the Regional Archaeologist for the U.S. Forest Service Northern Region in Missoula. For his dedication to preserving and promoting Montana history, Davis received the 2018 Montana Heritage Keeper Award presented by the Montana Historical Society Board of Trustees.

If you have any questions or would like to reserve an autographed copy call The Bookstore at 683-6807.

Dyeing with Native Plants Workshop

Join the U.S. Forest Service and the Calypso Chapter of the Native Plant Society in a fun workshop using native plants to extract natural dyes. Participants will learn how to use our local flora to extract dyes for coloring silk and wool materials.

Participants are encouraged to bring plant materials for making dyes, bring dye pots and utensils if they have them, and a hot plate if available. Participants may also bring a small item of silk or wool to dye; however, silk scarves will be available to purchase at the event.

The event is scheduled for Sunday, October 27 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Beaverhead County 4-H Building at the Fairgrounds in Dillon. Bring a potluck dish to share.

The event is free and open to the public, for more information, contact Jessie at (406) 683-3947.

Montana Western Announces Production of The Giver

The University of Montana Western's Theatre students are pleased to announce Montana Western's production of "The Giver" October 24-26, as part of the Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series. The performances will begin at 7:30 p.m. each night in the Beier Auditorium on the University of Montana Western campus. A matinee performance will also be held on October 25 at 10:00 a.m.

A cast of 10, including community actors Jeanne James and John McGinley, will perform this intriguing drama based on the award-winning novel by Lois Lowry. Directed by guest instructor Bethany Mason, the production features adjunct professor Larry Brazill's dynamic set design, while technical director and faculty member Marcus Todd guides crews of student costumers, stage hands, lighting and sound assistants, and those working on promotion of the show.

The story is set in a dystopian world where young people are assigned life roles in their early teens by the Council of Elders. One bright boy is chosen as the next "Giver," the sole keeper of history and wisdom, and begins his lessons with the current Giver. There is hope in the actions of the characters, with a central theme that humanity will free itself from tyranny.

Originally commissioned by the Oregon Children's Theatre in March 2006, Lowry's novel has been dramatized by Eric Coble, and is produced by special arrangement with The Dramatic Publishing Company of Woodstock, Illinois. "The Giver" was also recently adapted into a feature film, starring performers such as Meryl Streep, Jeff Bridges, and Taylor Swift.

Tickets to the production are $10 for general admission, $5 for seniors and youth, and Montana Western students are admitted free of charge. For school groups, a special rate of $2 per student are available, with a recommended audience age of 11 and above. To make school group reservations and for more information, please contact Professor Judy Ulrich by calling 406-683-7422.

Chronic Wasting Disease

Dear Montana Hunter,

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks needs your help in managing and monitoring Chronic Wasting Disease. CWD is a deadly disease of deer, elk, and moose that we now know is present along the Hi-Line mostly north of Highway 2, in southern Montana south of Billings, Yellowstone County, within a half mile of our southeast border near Decker, and in Libby. To manage CWD in 2019, FWP has designated specific CWD Management Zones where CWD is known to exist and Sampling Areas where FWP will sample hunter-harvested animals to look for new infections.

NOTE: A map of current CWD Management Zones, where CWD is known to exist, is available online at fwp.mt.gov/cwd. This map will be updated every Wednesday at noon throughout the hunting season.

Bible Truth...About legalism

Statement of belief: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God..." (2 Timothy 3:16-17), thus all beliefs in conflict with the scripture, God's holy word, are false.

Legalism is the false teaching that man can, by keeping the law or observing certain regulations required by religious organizations, produce his own spiritual salvation and thus be qualified for heaven.

The Bible teaches, however, that we are saved by grace through faith, and not by works, which would give man occasion to boast about himself, Ephesians 2:8-9.

In Luke 18:9-14 Jesus gives an example of legalism. A Pharisee and a tax collector went to a temple and prayed. The Pharisee boldly thanked God that he was "not like other people – extortioners, unjust, or adulterers – or as this this publican [tax-collector]," and brings attention to his fasting and tithing.

The tax collector, however, stood at a distance, refused to lift his head to heaven, beat his chest and prayed, "God, be merciful to me a sinner."

Jesus stated regarding these two men that the publican, who pleaded for mercy for his sins, "went down to his house justified rather than the other." "The other" [the Pharisee], who was so boastful about his accomplishments, was not justified by any of his good works.

Note that Jesus told this story to those who "trusted in themselves that they were righteous and despised others."

"Legalism" is sometimes applied to those who believe that all of Christ's commandments are important and strive keep those commandments. Generally those using the term this way consider certain Bible doctrines to be of little importance.

Regarding this usage I close with the following statement: "Disregarding God's '...revealed commandments in the name of not being a legalist, is an abuse of Christian freedom.' In John 14:15 Jesus said, 'If you love me, keep my commands,' & Jn. 15:14, 'You are my friends if you do what I command. Therefore, we must seek to guide our lives by these precepts.'" [Millard J. Erickson]

After an individual has asked God's forgiveness for his sin can he can and should seek to obey the commandments of Christ. As noted in Matthew 20: 28, Christians are to "observe [keep] all things whatsoever I [Jesus] have commanded you...."

Obedience to God's commands is not legalism. Obedience is how Christians should live, not how they are saved.
