Thank you

The Dillon Community Thanksgiving Dinner Committee wishes to thank the Many people and organizations that made our 2019 thanksgiving dinner a success!! Once again, we were delighted by the outpouring of gifts and support to make this even a blessing for families and individuals in our community. 800+ dinners were served or delivered to our family and friends.

Dillon, you are the BEST!!

Local Artist Spotlight

Join us at The Patagonia Outlet on December 13th from 4 - 7PM to celebrate the season! We'll have local artists displaying their creations along with treats and festive beverages.

Plus, we'll have a zero waste gift wrapping station set up with Vital Ground, a nonprofit group that works to protect and restore North America's grizzly bear populations for future generations by conserving wildlife habitat and by supporting programs that reduce conflicts between bears and humans. In addition to sharing about the work they're doing in the community, they'll also wrap your gifts in a reusable bag for a suggested donation (bring some cash!).

Come one, come all!

Les Schwab Sponsors 'RMEF Ready Your Elk Rig Tire Drawing'

Les Schwab Tire Centers will donate more than $151,000 worth of new tires to assist the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation to generate significant conservation fundraising dollars for its mission.

"We greatly appreciate Les Schwab Tire Centers for both their generosity and long-standing support of elk, elk country, hunting and the RMEF," said Steve Decker, RMEF vice president of Marketing. "They have stood by our side for nearly two decades and this latest action will accelerate our ability to do even more measurable conservation work."

Headquartered in Bend, Oregon, with more than 480 locations across the West, Les Schwab has helped RMEF raise more than $2.8 million and conserve or enhance more than 17,200 acres of elk habitat.

Tabbed the 'RMEF Ready Your Elk Rig Tire Drawing,' 126 different RMEF chapters across California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming will each receive one set of four (4) Mazama Open Range™ A/T tires (up to $1,200 maximum retail value) for a raffle/drawing.

"We are a family-owned organization with more than 67 years of history in the West and we understand the importance of conserving both our natural spaces and our heritage," said Greg L'Hommedieu, vice president, Store Sales & Operations. "We value the work RMEF does to encourage environmental stewardship and conservation in our community and are proud to provide this donation to support its mission."

Each raffle/drawing winner will be able to size the tires to his or her specific car, SUV or pickup. (Additional details and drawing/raffle regulations will be available from the select 126 RMEF chapters.)

AM I FINALLY APPRECIATING THE LESSONS OF CHRISTMAS 1969?

by Danny Tyree on December 11, 2019

Most of my Christmases have become hopelessly blurred together, but Christmas 1969 holds a special place in my heart.

In fact, back in 1998 my very first yuletide column took a whimsically nostalgic look at that holiday.

But as the 50th anniversary of Christmas 1969 approaches, I feel compelled to write something with more gravitas.

There were two main things I implored Santa for that year. One was a selection of toys from a yellowing 1927 Montgomery Ward catalog that my mother the collector had picked up at an auction or antique shop somewhere. (I particularly remember a listing for a tin monkey that climbed a string. Surely if elves could manufacture Easy Bake Ovens and Rock 'Em Sock 'Em Robots, vintage toys would be a breeze.)

Second, I hoped against hope for the miraculous resurrection of my favorite security quilt (which my mother had consigned to the bonfire because its structural integrity and sanitary tolerability were long gone).

When my little brother and I awakened (only two or three hours after bedtime), lo and behold – Santa had brought lots of neat stuff, but none of the things I had specifically staked my happiness on.

I survived. And after that, I started taking a more subdued, more practical, less pie-in-the-sky approach to wish lists.

Yes, 1969 was a turning point, and I'd like to think my maturity has continued to increase bit by bit every year since then.

I now realize that true security and true happiness do not come from the regaining of lost artifacts or the heaping up of gifts (whether high-tech or retro). And, no, not even from the accumulation of photographs and anecdotes of loved ones long departed.

For the happier and wiser me of 2019, happiness and security have more to do with that Christ child whose manger gets crowded out by candy canes, reindeer and snowmen.

Don't squirm. If you have come by your alternate beliefs (or non-belief) honestly, I am not here to dismantle your religious convictions in 600 words or fewer.

But if you are a lapsed or lethargic Christian, I hope this festive season (and my encouragement) can rekindle a spark in you.

Whether you slowly drifted away from worship without realizing it, experienced an "epiphany" because of a dishonest TV documentary or just like flitting from one Spirituality Flavor of the Week to another, I hope you'll rediscover the reason God sent His only begotten Son to earth in the first place.

Spend time with humble people for whom Christmas means more than outrageous electric bills or legendary office parties. Go rock 'em sock 'em on your doubts by studying Christian apologetics books such as "The Historical Reliability of the New Testament" (Craig L. Blomberg), "Are the Gospels Full of Contradictions?" (Jonathan Morrow) and "Jesus: Man or Myth?" (Carsten Peter Thiede).

Yes, I enjoy crafting a satirical smackdown or groan-producing pun; but my deepest satisfaction comes from sharing something inspirational.

Missing out on a tin monkey was not the end of the world. But there definitely will be an end of the world.

In God's creation, there are things more eternal than your maxed-out credit card. There are things more delicious than premium eggnog. There are things immeasurably worse than stale fruitcake.

Get your priorities right and spreading good tidings of great joy will become second nature.

ELK WRESTLING

By "Swede" Troedsson

For about eight years during the 1980s, some us with the Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and husky college students, would assist Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks big game biologists in their elk drive netting program. This program was held in April in the Wall Creek, and Blacktail, Wildlife Management Areas (WMAs). There would be about 40 of us.

A helicopter would drive elk into two rows of nets held upright with poles. We would jump on the entangled elk, wrestle them to the ground, and blindfold them to quiet them down. A veterinarian would then scan the cows' bellies with a portable ultra sound to determine if they were pregnant. Blood samples were collected from the pregnant cows, and age determined through tooth examination. The blood samples would later be examined in a Bozeman lab to check for disease and to verify pregnancy. Pregnant cows would be fitted with a radio collar. They could later be individually checked by radio from an aircraft to see if they had a calf by their side. This would help biologists monitor "recruitment" percentage.

In 1989 we were drive netting elk in the Blacktail WMA. Ron Schott, the Madison District Assistant Ranger, was lying down between the rows of nets. A cow elk came charging through the net above him, and headed straight towards him. Ron jumped up to get out of the way. The elk slammed into him, dislocating Ron's left shoulder. Dan Pence, a local Forest Service employee, helped me load Ron into the helicopter. Ron and I were flown into Dillon, landing near the hospital emergency room entrance.

There we were, standing in our insulated Carhart coveralls, covered with elk hair. I had to explain several times to medical personnel how Ron got his shoulder dislocated.

The hospital personnel could not reduce Ron's dislocation because his shoulder muscles were so tensed up. He was sent to the St. James hospital in Butte where he underwent general anesthesia so his shoulder dislocation could be reduced.

That fall Ron was bow hunting elk. He drew his bow to shoot a six-point bull elk. His shoulder dislocated, and the elk ran off. He had to straddle a log until his shoulder muscles relaxed, and his dislocated shoulder reduced itself.

What followed was corrective surgery to permanently stabilize the shoulder.

Bible Truth...About the birth of Jesus Christ [part 2]

Statement of belief: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God..." (2 Timothy 3:16-17), thus all beliefs in conflict with the scripture, God's holy word, are false.

Though Christmas didn't originate with the birth of Jesus Christ it is good to consider some biblical facts regarding His birth:

1. His birth was the fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah 7:14 which states, "...Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and you shall call his name Immanuel." The fulfillment of this prophecy is recorded in Matthew 1:20-23 "...that which is conceived in her [Mary] is of the Holy Ghost. Now all of this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet...."

2. He was named JESUS (meaning Savior) because He came to save mankind from sin, Matthew 1:21.

3. Matthew 1:23 states that He was named EMMANUEL (meaning God with us). 1 Timothy 3:16 reveals that He was God manifest in the flesh.

When Christ was born is not nearly as important as the reason for which He came. Luke 19:10 states, "For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Angels informed the shepherds of His birth by stating, "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord," Luke 2:11.

The need for a Savior is the result of man's sin and the ensuing consequence, which is death (separation from God and heaven for eternity), Romans 3:23. It is only by receiving Jesus Christ as one's personal Savior that eternal life is granted by God. Romans 6:23 makes this clear: "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Conclusion: The virgin birth of Christ alone provides no salvation or eternal life. His sinless life, permitting wicked men to crucify Him, dying, being buried and miraculously rising again the third day all combined to accomplish God's plan of salvation for sinful mankind.

Those who have not believed in Jesus Christ as their Savior cannot celebrate the birth of Christ with any true understanding of what Jesus accomplished by His coming.
