Jodine (Jody) P. Brown

Jody passed away peacefully while surrounded by family at Barrett Hospital in Dillon on January 16th, 2020. She was born on January 18th, 1939 in Livingston, Montana to Robert Earl and Mildred Ellen (Breedon) Woodhull. On September 3, 1955 Jody married Fred Charles Brown. They had two children, Johnnie Robert and Ronny Jodine.

In the early 60's Fred and Jody started fencing and together built a successful business, Brown Fence Contractors. Jody was an incredibly hard worker and she worked tirelessly by her husband's side for over 40 years.

Jody loved to sing and read and was an amazing cook, she could whip up a tasty meal for an army with whatever happened to be on hand. She loved being outdoors, wildlife, and rock collecting. Jody had a knack for making living things thrive, and she would care for people, plants and animals, all of which would flourish under her care. Jody spent her life caring for others and loved her family fiercely.

She is survived by her husband Frederick C. Brown, daughter Ronny J. (Chuck) Wilson, brother Terry Lee Woodhull, grandchildren Freddi (John) Christensen, Joni (John) Neal, Nikki (Paul) Rust, Donald James Wilson, and Donald Ray Wilson and many great-grandchildren and other family members.

She is preceded in death by her mother Mildred (Breedon) Wade, father Robert Earl Woodhull, and son Johnnie Robert.

We wish to send a special thank you to all of the amazing doctors and staff at Barrett Hospital and Healthcare.

The University of Montana Western invites students and community members to explore the culture and history within Central Europe by visiting Germany, Poland and the Czech Republic Sept. 26 through Oct. 8, 2020.

Trace the escape route of Checkpoint Charlie and witness the sobering sight of Auschwitz and Birkenau while experiencing Jewish museums that commemorate the memory of millions.

The study abroad journey will end in Prague, known for its role in the Velvet Revolution and incredible landmarks, from the St. Vitus Cathedral to the Prague Castle.

Experience One, the block scheduling program offered at Montana Western, allows students to focus on one course at a time. This approach to learning compliments study abroad opportunities with immersive, real world experiences.

UMW Fine Arts Gallery Presents "Recurrence"

The University of Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery is proud to host "Recurrence" featuring artists Kim Weiss and Amanda Thatch. The event will take place on Jan. 30, 2020, with an artist talk in Main Hall 309 from 5-6 p.m., followed by a Gallery Reception in the Fine Arts Gallery from 6-7 p.m.

Amanda Thatch is a textile, book and paper artist and is currently an MFA candidate in Design Studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She has taught workshops at schools and art centers including Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts (Gatlinburg, Tenn.), Visual Arts Center of Richmond (Va.), and the University of Michigan. She is interested in exploring art-making and language use as linked, embodied practices. Her recent work focuses on crossovers between words and weaving as both structure and material.

Kim Weiss is an artist and printmaker from Milwaukee, Wis. She received her BFA from the Milwaukee Institute of Art and Design in 2004 and post-graduation helped found the community printshop at RedLine Milwaukee, an artist incubator. Kim has shown work at regional venues including The Museum of Wisconsin Art, The Wilson Center for the Arts, The James Watrous Gallery (Madison, Wis.), and the JM Kohler Art Center. Her work is primarily paper-based and incorporates a variety of printmaking and mixed media techniques, with subject matter of plants, animals, and insects. Her current focus is combining relief printmaking with 3D forms and creating multiples for immersive and installation based work.

Thatch and Weiss use themes from nature to explore experimental processes in their studio practice. Thatch's weavings use cotton and silk fibers with plant and insect derived dyes to think about language, time, and seasonal change. Weiss's mixed media wall installation of cecropia giant silk moths combines the traditional relief printing making process with 3D wood forms to explore the effect of color, transformation, and multiplicity in nature as well as print media. Both artists collaborate on woven panels that combine printmaking and fiber processes in ways that look for metaphoric resonance between the natural world and the generative possibilities of art making.

"Recurrence" will be open for public viewing from Jan. 15 to Feb. 12 in the Fine Arts Gallery at the University of Montana Western. For more information, please contact Aja Muinga Sherrard at aja.sherrard@umwestern.edu or call 406-683-7313.

Southwest Montana Veteran Home
By Mike Lawson

Greeting once again, to you the Veterans/Countries/Communities who are represented as the organizers and chief supporters of the SWMT Veterans Home.

The temperatures were below zero, only one day this week, which delayed the starting time for a couple of hours.
It warmed up and the work resumed. I was privileged to do a "walk through" of our Veteran's Home Construction Site, this week, with our Vet Home Liaison Mark Gollinger. We visited Construction Site Superintendent Mike Ascherman and his General Foreman John Kotka. The pride, in making this one quality built "showcase" of a Veteran Home, is evident wherever you go on this site.

Cottage #1 & #2. The interior framing and attention to detail, in these Cottages, is incredible. John keeps a checkoff list of the (literally) hundreds of construction steps, that have to be completed in each building. His statement was, "we don't take shortcuts but take pride in doing it right". Hope to visit with him often and watch he and his crews do the "carpenter dance" of putting our home together. The other unique exciting event that happened at our vet site, was a drone flew over and around it, taking a video of it, Our Liaison Mark Gollinger got a friend of his, with a drone, to do this video. It's on our Vet Home website, SWMVH.Mt.GOV.

Community Center; Sheetmetal Workers are doing the heating ductwork which will be both inside and outside the drywall. Looks like the in-wall piping and vents, installed by the plumbers, are in. All the firewall blocking, in the walls, are in.
Once the electricians get their wiring in the walls, the sheet-rockers can then, sheetrock the walls. Walking through this building, with the tall ceilings, wide halls, large spacious rooms, large windows and open areas, it really makes one's spirits, be lifted up. On the outside of this, our Community Center building, we're seeing the 3M peel and stick wrap going on the exterior walls. All the administrative offices, therapy areas will be in this building, and more to be mentioned in future updates.

Cottage #1; The roof is on and the beautiful "Gable Entry" is completed. The shingles, weather permitting, are being put on as you read this article. The color will be different than the Community Center. Mike Ascherman said that there will be three different colored shingles, used on our cottages. He explained what was going on and why they needed to frame different sections differently than others. An example is the firewall blocking, that I was talking about in the Community Center.

The Building Codes specify, that any wall over 10' has to have blocking. This is a piece of 2"x6" board that fits in between two 2x6 wall studs. The purpose is in case a fire starts and gets into the wall, it won't travel up the entire wall and then into the upper floors or ceiling/attic. The short of it is, is there's a tremendous amount of detailed framing that goes into the inside of these buildings. John Kotka has to be sharp on his check-list, to make sure it all gets done.

Cottage #2: The trusses are all rolled into place, ready for the rest of the fire resistant plywood sheeting to be laid down and nailed. The crew who worked/finished the Gable Entry on Cottage #1, are now working on Cottage #2's Gable Entry. Some of the roof sheeting and fascia is nailed in place. The rest should be on this week and maybe into next week. A lot of carpenters were working on the interior, doing the different kinds of carpentry framing. The amount of work it takes, is more than mind boggling. The Dining/Living/Kitchen areas, are open to each other, with high ceilings and large windows, that have beautiful views of the Highland Mountains, as well as the East Ridge.

Cottage #3; The exterior walls are ready to be stood up and braced into place, with the interior walls to follow. John Kotka said, he'll have a crew working on it this week. The exterior walls should go up pretty quickly. The interior walls, are what really takes the time. The roof trusses will be here this week, but it will be a couple of weeks before they're rolled into place, on top of this building.

Cottage #4 & #5 are waiting their turn, but the way these carpenter crews are moving, it won't be long.

Building this Vet Home is one big undertaking and as Mike Ascherman stated, "it's taking a lot of trees" to get it built.

Our Liaison Mark Gollinger, is busy doing all he does, especially getting the bids ready to be sent out to the potential contractors, who will bid on operating our Veteran Home. Those should be out within two weeks.

Don't forget about our "Viewing Hooch" located between the road (Blacktail Loop) and the west boundary fence. It's located just north of the mailboxes. Go in, look out the windows, sign the logbook, relax, have a cup of tea/coffee, have a cookie or two and on your way out, you might drop a buck or two in the coffee donation can, if you're so inclined.

This whole building process of our Veteran Home is fun to watch on a weekly, if not a daily basis.
