The Family of Gloria Seyler

Carl N. Knox

Carl N. Knox, just 4 days shy of 97 years, passed away in his home in Lima, on Valentine's Day 2020.

Carl was born in Dell, Montana, to William and Ethel (Martinell) Knox, February 18, 1923. He attended the Dell School, and then Lima High School graduating in 1941. His dad was an original cowboy who made a living catching and breaking wild horses. Dad was a chip off the old block, who had a unique touch with horses and livestock.

He grew up on the ranch homesteaded by his parents, and spent his lifetime working the ranch and raising his family. Carl met and married Shirley Brown of Lima and they were married 72 years. It is more than a coincidence that he crossed over on Valentine's Day to be with his life's love and companion. No doubt Mom was waiting for him with her dancing shoes on.

If he couldn't talk a horse into doing what he wanted, he would try some "persuasion" to get their attention, always with a gentle but firm hand. He was also a basketball athlete who played beyond his high school days on a travelling team who challenged opponents all over western MT. He loved to tell stories of his adventures in the saddle and on the court.

Carl is survived by his daughter Tana Shively of Cody WY, Son Bill (Cathy) of Dillon, 12 grandchildren, many great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Carl was preceded in death by wife Shirley; his parents; sisters: Marie, Bessie, Gertie, Alice and Anna Jean; daughters: Judy, Karla and Polly Jo, and son-in-law Dan Shively.

A visitation will be held at Brundage Funeral Home, Friday, February 21 from 6 to 8 PM. Services will be at the Lima Community Church February 22, at 2pm, followed by a graveside service at the Lima Cemetery. Friends and family are invited to gather at the Lima Fire Hall after services.

Lima Fire Department and Ambulance or Lima Swimming Pool are suggested memorials.

BEAR SPRAY

By "Swede" Troedsson

During August, 1966, I assisted the Wise River Ranger District in laying out a timber sale in the head of Alder Creek. The two crewmen would stay in the Alder Creek Cabin, located about three miles south of the end of the Bryant Creek Road. My wife, MaryAnn, who accompanied us as a camp cook, and I, slept nearby in our tent. We were packed in there by the district packer, Fred Miller.

A black bear had broken into the cabin that previous fall and had gotten into left over groceries. In the course of consuming the groceries, the bear mixed in a box of Tide dish soap, which cleaned the bear out. The district went in before we occupied the cabin and cleaned the mess up. While there they installed metal brackets above and below each window, and the door. Poles with sharpened spikes could be slipped into the brackets to keep bears out.

In the cabin was a beautiful wood cook stove, which had been skidded in to the cabin on a wooden sled by Assistant Ranger Nevin Guederian, Nevin was assisted by a district crew, and a horse to pull the sled. MaryAnn baked some beautiful pies, loaves of bread, and biscuits, in the stove oven. We ate like kings. During the day, while we were gone, a large Stellar Jay would visit MaryAnn for handouts.

I had left a list of groceries at the Wise River Mercantile. The groceries would replenish us during the middle of our sixteen day stay. The groceries were packed in by Fred, who stayed for dinner. With a big grin, Fred's dinner plate sized hands could fit over three of MaryAnn's biscuits

On our week end off, we stayed in Alder Creek. On Saturday we hiked into Foolhen Lake to fish. Near the north shore was an old raft. I cut a pole, intent on using it to pole myself out onto lake. As I stepped out onto the grassy bank to get to the raft, I broke through the grass cover and sank up to my waist in peat and mud. That pole was the only thing keeping me from sinking further.

On Sunday, we hiked into Johanna Lake to fish. The fish were long and skinny, from over population, I guess.

As we were packing up at the end of our stay, I came across a can of unused pressurized, non-toxic, orange tree marking paint. I figured it was payback time for that bear. I coated the can with bacon grease, and placed it next to a tree near the cabin.

The next week Nevin visited the cabin, and found the paint can with a big chomp mark in it. Orange paint was sprayed all around.

I suspect there was a bear with an orange nose running around the area.

Greetings once again to you the Veterans/Communities/ Counties of SW MT., who are the organizers and chief supporters of the SW MT. Veterans home.

Building Updates:

The Community Center; Exciting is the first word that comes to my mind when describing all that is going on, in this building. The "Lid" (Upper ceiling) is sheet rocked and the insulation blown between it and the rafters above it. It's seam joints, will be fire-taped and the walls will than be ready to be insulated and then sheet-rocked. Before this can happen, inspections by Butte Silver Bow Building Inspectors will have to take place. The Plumbing, Electrical, Mechanical and Structural components of the walls/building, will have to pass these inspections before they can proceed with the wall insulation/sheetrock. Mike Ascheman said these different inspections will probably happen on different days, during the week.

Most of the windows are in, the carpenters are installing them, except for the big "Storefront/Picture Windows" which are being installed by Butte Glass. They have the big window frames, but are waiting for the glass to come in, at which time they'll be installed. These are the windows facing east, with the beautiful views of the East Ridge of the Continental Divide.

GF John Kotka, plans on installing all the "metal door frames" this week and there are a great number of them, both with-in the interior and around the exterior of this building.

Suspended Ceilings will be installed by an outside contractor once the walls are sheet-rocked/taped/etc.. This is very critical type of installation requiring rotating lasers to mark the same level elevations throughout the building. The area between the "Lid", the Suspended Ceiling and Walls is called the "Envelope". It's in this area, a lot of the mechanical/electrical/etc. can be installed and gotten to for maintenance/repair/etc.

The exterior of the building is ready for the installing of the foam board. This will be followed by the pre-finished concrete board siding.

Cottage #1; Ready for the fire painting from the plate-line (top of the walls) up, to be done. GF John Kota doesn't plan to have framers in this building, until all the roof trusses are rolled up on Cottage #3, as well as the interior walls. Once Cottage #3 is dried-in, the big concentration will be on this Cottage, in getting all the pick-up framing done. Once this is done, the insulating and the "Lid" Sheet-rocking can take place and what's happening with the Community Center now, will continue here.

Site Superintendent Mike Ascheman will try to get some of the sheetmetal workers/electricians working in this building, as things slow down in the Community Building.

Cottage #2; Roofing is probably done at this point. Some pick-up framing, taking place, but for the most part, most of the carpenter framers are concentrating on Cottage #3.

Cottage #3; This is where most of the framer work is taking place. The Roof Trusses, as of this writing, are rolled up on or one both wings of the buildings. The rest should be rolled into place this week. The painters are on schedule to start doing the fire painting on the eves/rafters/etc.

The Bump-Outs (Bay Windows) were framed and secured in place. This is important as the ends of the roof trusses are secured on top of these.

Cottage #4; again with-out having a full work crew, this Cottage was put on hold.

GF John Kotka is going to try and have a couple of framers working here this week, who will start framing walls on the cement floor and once built, will be ready to be raised/tipped up on the exterior of this building.

Cottage #5; On hold for a few weeks.

Our Liaison Mark Gollinger is getting applications coming in for veterans wanting to be residents of the SW Mt Vet Home. These applications go to the State and can't be looked at until a specified time frame ahead of the Official Vet Home Opening.(I believe it is three months). He's also been getting inquiries from folks who want to work at our Vet Home. Once the Operation Contract is awarded to a specific Company, then it will be that company who will take job applications/resumes and do the hiring.

The Southwest Montana Veteran Home Foundation is inviting anyone who wants to enter the "LOGO Contest" to do so. The purpose of this is to create a visual identity of our Vet Home, by creating/designing an innovative/professional logo that will help promote the mission of our Southwest Montana Veterans Home. To enter this contest, go to https://dphhs.gov/Portals/85/sltc/documents/SWMVH/SWMVH-LogoDesignContest.pdf. This gives any of you with these types of artistic abilities, to be part of the spirit of our SW MT VET HOME.
