THANK YOU

The family of Irma Harrison would like to extend heartfelt thanks to those that reached out during our time of need. Many family members and friends brought food to the hospital.

The nurses and doctors at Barrett Hospital and Healthcare were incredibly kind and compassionate during our entire stay. The hospital staff and kitchen also made sure that we had food and drinks at all times. Our Hospice team in Dillon is incredible. Thank you, Marie Holt for taking care of us while you were losing your father! Your kindness will never be forgotten.

The congregation of St. Rose of Lima provided a wonderful meal at the funeral reception.

Finally, we would like to thank Julie and the staff at Brundage Funeral Home. Our services were beautiful and a perfect way to say goodbye to our dear family member. Your caring was beyond measure.

Sincerely,

The Family of Irma Harrison

Man's Best Friend

Bryce Angell

The first time that I saw her was about six years ago.

Her owner said she was the runt, just 2 months old or so.

He had me shoe his riding mare and paid me with the pup.

I named her Mia, not sure why, then watched my pup grow up.

Mia was a "man's best friend," the Irish Setter kind.

I'd never seen a dog like her. To me, the perfect find.

So, then I bought a book called, "How to Teach Your Dog to Heel."

But I'm sure my dog was thinking this guy can't be for real.

When teaching her I'd get that look, the one we all have seen:

"You've tried to teach me this before." You all know what I mean.

I thought she'd make a good bird dog. I'd seen how she could run.

And when I blasted two big hens, she ran from my shotgun!

It took me two full days to get that Irish Setter back.

So when it came to huntin', guess she didn't have the knack.

I wasn't really angry when my dog ran off to hide, 'cuz when

I wasn't shootin', she was right there by my side.

At night when I'd be coming home, she'd be there at the gate.

I'd see that red a mile away. I knew how I did rate.

She'd jump up in the pickup and would ride down to the shed.

My kids would always yell out loud. "Here comes the Flyin' Red!"

But then one day I hadn't looked and didn't see her jump.

I heard my setter give a yelp, then felt an awful bump.

Well sure enough my dog was gone. It happened all too fast.

My grandma taught me years ago. Good things don't always last.

Crying wouldn't bring her back, but my kids sure howled some tears.

And quietly I shed a few. She'd been my dog for years.

So I made a headstone for my dog, and on that rock was penned. "You weren't much good for hunting but you sure were my best friend."

Thank You

Thank you for all the great people who assisted me when I fell on ice Feb. 10th: Martha (I am sorry I didn't get your last name) Dr. Ron Loge, who happened by and offered his professional assistance, Officer Ternes and ambulance crew Shelly and Jesse. The ER crew, Dr. Downey and surgical team, my great co-workers, you have all been terrific! For the cards, calls and texts - I thank you!

Reichle School Students Receive DAR Awards

Each year, Montana State Society Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) sponsors an American History Essay Contest for students in grades 5 through 8 who are in public, private, and parochial schools, as well as registered home-study programs.

Three students from Reichle School were honored in this year's essay contest sponsored by the Silver Bow Chapter, DAR. Sixth grade student Faith Rognstad is First Place winner; 5th grader Violet Rhodes is a First Place winner; and 6th grader Cole Webster received a certificate of participation.

The Silver Bow Chapter winner, Faith Rognstad, went on to take First Place in the state-wide Montana State Society DAR contest and will be invited to receive her award at the DAR's state conference in Billings in April.

This year's essay topic was "The Voyage of the Mayflower" to mark the 400th anniversary of the ship and subsequent founding of the Plymouth Colony. Students were asked to imagine they were a Mayflower passenger and answer questions about what they would have packed for the trip.

DAR is a nonprofit, nonpolitical volunteer women's service organization dedicated to promoting historic preservation, education and patriotism. It has over 185,000 members across all 50 states; almost 1 million women have joined DAR since its founding in 1890. The Silver Bow Chapter is the oldest in Montana, founded in 1897. More about DAR at www.DAR.org or connect with DAR on social media at facebook.com/TodaysDAR, twitter.com/TodaysDAR and youtube.com/TodaysDAR.

Bookstore hosts local author – Roadside Geology of Montana

The Bookstore will be hosting local author, UM-Western Professor and geologist Rob Thomas for a reception and book launch on Wednesday, March 4th from 5:30-7:30. Please join us as we celebrate the release of his new book, Roadside Geology of Montana, second edition. This book is informative and beautiful. A must have for rock hounds, arm chair travelers and the serious geologist. The book is co-authored with Donald W. Hyndman

Robert C. Thomas is a Professor of Geology in the Environmental Sciences Department at the University of Montana Western in Dillon. He earned a BA from Humboldt State University, an MS from the University of Montana, and a PhD from the University of Washington. Rob is a Montana Regents Professor and Teaching Scholar, Montana Educator of the Year, and Carnegie US Professor.

The Roadside Geology series originated in 1972 with Roadside Geology of the Northern Rockies. Fourteen years later, the Big Sky portion of that book was updated to become Roadside Geology of Montana, a bright-yellow field guide that soon graced bookshelves across the state. Now, nearly 50 years after the first book, Mountain Press is releasing a completely revised full-color second edition, that like so many things in Montana, is big.

The new edition of the Roadside Geology of Montana leads the reader into a land of incredible geologic diversity with well-exposed rocks and dramatic stories. For example, Montana lies at the northern edge of the Yellowstone caldera, the world's largest and most violent volcano. A lot of what the world knows about dinosaurs and their demise came from fossils discovered in Montana's badlands. What began with panning for gold in the 1860s led to 1-mile-deep mines in Butte that supplied 60 percent of the world's copper by 1898. The world's largest ice age floods left ripples up to 50 feet high as Glacial Lake Missoula catastrophically drained from western Montana. With this book as your guide, you'll discover these and other world-class geologic features around every bend in the road.

Please call The Bookstore at 683-6807 if you have any questions or would like to reserve a copy of Roadside Geology of Montana.

Letter to the Editor

Sunday afternoon, blue skies with puff clouds, no wind, fine temperature - "How about walking around the park with the scooper now that the snow is disappearing there?", I said to myself. By the time I got back home after cleaning 7 poop piles off the grass and the sidewalk beside the splash pad, I've decided on a different approach to appeal to this issue; haranguing doesn't work. I want to broaden my understanding, because some who know me well know I really enjoy getting into dialogue on topics where various positions can be discussed and new understandings gained.

I am inviting those of you who don't clean up after your dogs to call me (683-0039 - and be patient because I'm on relay) and/or meet me for coffee to tell me your side of why you believe it's acceptable to walk your dog and walk away from the poop it stops to deposit on public property. Maybe there's something I need to learn about a behavior about which I am currently quite biased. You can enlighten me, because I admit to being 'dog-matic' about this subject, BUT I'm also deeply and truly grateful for each and every dog walker who enjoys outdoor romps with a beloved pet and carries a plastic bag on behalf of the community.

Please don't be shy. I will listen to you.

Most sincerely,
Val Neeley
