City Government Representatives

By: MJ

The city has had 3± audits this year. Auditors most likely will find something wrong. There were a couple minor issues to change however, nothing major and all was easily amended. Questions: Why all of a sudden is Dillon privy to so many State audits? Is this politics working within our own small community through the back door? Let us not hobble the citizens of the community with overloaded paper. Give them the freedom, honor and respect to take this community into the future.

MOUs or Contracts has been the topic with heated discussions: (MOU) Memorandum of Understanding. The council and committees have been working with Beaverhead Little League, Dillon Cubs and other entities getting MOU and or a Contract filed. One of the disagreements between a couple committee members has been over which is the correct document to use; MOU or a Contract? Other issues have been over the language in the MOUs & Contracts. Seems like the game, "It's my way or the highway" is being played out. More in likely the problem will be solved through legal advice.

Health and Welfare: Another subject discussed at the Health and Welfare Committee was a contract with an individual contracted person. One of the committee members presented a contract they wanted endorsed. Question: Does this contract agree with or follow the statute, Equal Employment Opportunity act? No decision was made and issue was tabled until the next Health and Welfare committee.

It is rare when I hear a council person discuss or bring forth documentation of ideas from their ward members on an issue. Question: Are the representatives seated actually bringing forth the ideas and wants of others in their ward, are they representing people outside of their ward...? NOTE: There are several groups of citizens that meet on a weekly or monthly basis in Dillon. Are those groups carrying forth to the council members their ideas and suggestions? The more information the council members has, the better job they can do. They are the people representing the community and are the final decision makers. Take a moment and get involved, express your views, inform your representatives or city personnel on what you or your group would like to see.

With all the strife, anger, abhorrence today, would it benefit us to remember that a Veteran-whether active duty retired, served one hitch, or reservist is someone who, at one point in his or her life, wrote a blank check made payable to "The Government of the United States of America", for an amount of "up to and including their life." That is honor, and there are too many people in this country who no longer understand it. Author unknown

FWP investigating swans shot in Gallatin County

Game wardens with Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks are seeking information on several trumpeter swans that were shot on Central Park Pond on Heeb Road, east of Manhattan.

Wardens and biologists were able to safely collect some of the dead swans off the ice. Initial analysis of the collected birds showed evidence that several of them had been shot illegally. The investigation is ongoing, and further testing on the dead birds is still pending.

Investigators believe the birds were likely shot sometime around Feb. 19.

Trumpeter swans are protected by state and federal laws for migratory birds. Anyone with information on this incident is asked to call Montana's poaching hotline, 1-800-TIP-MONT (847-6668). Informants can remain anonymous, and persons who provide information that leads to a successful prosecution in this case may be eligible for a monetary reward.

Coronavirus Disease 2019 and Influenza

Worldwide there is great concern about the emerging epidemic of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). However, most of the infections are in one part of China, and thus far the virus appears to pose limited threat outside of China.

COVID-19 in China

As of February 21, 2020

75 569 reported cases

75 467 (99%) of cases are in Chinese mainland

2239 deaths

COVID-19 in the US

As of February 24, 2020

14 cases diagnosed through US health care system

39 cases among repatriated US citizens

0 deaths

0 critically ill case-patients

No evidence of community-wide COVID-19 transmission in the US

Influenza in the US

As of February 15, 2020, CDC estimates

At least 29 million ill patients

At least 13 million physician visits

At least 280 000 hospitalizations

At least 16 000 deaths

105 pediatric influenza-associated deaths reported to the CDC by state health departments

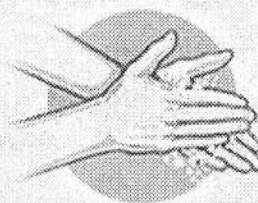

In contrast, the 2019-2020 influenza season in the US has been moderately severe to date, with large numbers of ill persons, and substantial numbers of hospitalizations and deaths attributable to influenza. This season has been especially severe for children with very high pediatric hospitalization rates. From a public health perspective, people should focus their attention on influenza and take preventive measures.

Get the flu vaccine

Avoid sick persons, especially those who are coughing

Wash hands frequently

In general, wearing masks in public does not prevent people from getting the disease. They may only be useful if you live with someone who is infected and the mask use is started immediately after the person has become infected.
