WHAT WILL EASTER 2020 BE LIKE?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

"Christianity, if false, is of no importance, and if true, of infinite importance. The only thing it cannot be is moderately important." – C.S. Lewis

"Better safe than sorry" is an overriding theme for individuals, businesses and governments struggling with the current worldwide health crisis.

"Better safe than sorry" propels the hoarding of consumer products, the cancellation of major sporting/entertainment events and the frenzied push to provide ample medical resources for a worst-case scenario.

As we enter the Easter season, I wonder if we can somehow squeeze "a right relationship with God" onto our priority list – now and moving forward in the New Normal. Can we adopt a "better safe than sorry" approach to Christianity?

Many "practicing" Christians darken the church doors twice a year, daydream during the sermon, skimp on the contribution, delegate all the good deeds to the preacher ("That's what we pay him for!"), water down doctrine to legitimize their own shortcomings and never share the Gospel. Considering that "strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life," what are the odds that the slothfulness I've just described will leave you "safe" rather than "sorry"?

Meanwhile, people who have drifted away or never quite embraced Christianity in the first place are out there merrily slapping together an eclectic collection of mix-and-match concepts and catch-phrases to forge their own nebulous "spirituality."

Would you feel safe around an electrician or surgeon who tossed away his education and just did whatever "resonated" with him?

Then, of course, there are the people who are MILITANTLY opposed to Christianity. Maybe, just maybe, there is no Creator, no afterlife, no Judgment Day. But is it worth the risk just for the MOMENTARY PLEASURE of mocking prayer groups, driving people of faith out of the public arena or producing pornographic portrayals of the son of God? Pride may tell you that some jerk sneezing on your lettuce is infinitely worse than hellfire, but pride also has an unenviable track record of going before destruction.

Why haven't we practiced our new-found pandemic skills in matters of eternity? We rush to the radio, TV or internet for a glimmer of good news about the health crisis, but we let our Bibles accumulate dust. When we're intimidated by the language or symbolism of the Good Book, we flee rather than availing ourselves of Bible dictionaries and other aids.

Most of us have learned to practice "social distancing"; but unless we're in a "Twelve Steps" program, we never think of shunning evil companions, enablers or immoral venues.

Despite our grumbling, we have adapted to 2020 ways of working, eating, getting an education and "attending" weddings and funerals. But let someone cramp our style with one little religious "thou shalt not" and a meltdown ensues.

The media and the authorities dutifully warn about virus scams, but it's awkward nowadays to warn about the Prince of Lies. "If it feels good, do it" remains embedded in our self-destructive psyches.

We're learning to identify "essential businesses," but we seldom weigh the value of something as essential as our SOUL.

Yes, viruses and their economic impact call for bold, decisive action; but as the Empty Tomb captures at least the periphery of our attention, I hope we can learn from the business advice of Stephen Covey.

"The main thing is to keep the main thing the main thing."

Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest Closes Sheridan Work Center

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest has closed the Sheridan Work Center on the Madison Ranger District following the retirement of Ernie Gilbert, the information assistant who staffed the center.

"Forest priorities and budget constraints preclude us from refilling the position and continuing the lease," said District Ranger Dale Olson.

Forest Service maps and firewood permits are still available for purchase in Sheridan at the Sinclair Station located at 202 S. Main St. For more information, call the Madison Ranger District Office in Ennis at 406-682-4253.

Attorney General Fox Reminds Consumers to be Vigilant for Pandemic Scams, Frauds

Office investigating claims of price gouging, other pandemic-related consumer complaints

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox is warning consumers to beware of frauds exploiting the outbreak of COVID-19 and the economic stimulus checks that will be distributed across the country.

"Scammers are hard at work turning breaking news into ways to steal your money or personal information. While we know about several types of COVID-19 scams, these frauds are constantly evolving, and the best tool you have to protect yourself is your own good judgment," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "Fraudsters are working COVID-19 into common phone scams you may already be familiar with. For example, a new twist on the grandparent scam says that your loved one is in the hospital due to COVID-19 and cash needs to be sent right away. Or, a variation of the shipping package scam says 'your delivery of masks and equipment for coronavirus' or 'your coronavirus prescription' are ready. If you get one of these calls, hang up immediately," Fox advised.

Fox added his Office of Consumer Protection has received 17 complaints thus far related to COVID-19 (14 price-gouging complaints, 3 complaints related to cancellation policies).

Fox offered the following consumer safety tips:

Scams can come in any format, including a text, social media message, phone call, voicemail, email, or even a television advertisement. Consider any communication from an unknown person to be suspicious. Don't click on links from unknown sources, which could download malware onto your device.

- It's safest not to pick up from any phone number you don't recognize. Let the caller leave a voicemail; decide later whether to respond.
- If you answer and it's a robocall, hang up immediately. Don't press any numbers, even if the message promises to have you removed from their call list. Pressing numbers leads to more scam calls.
- While it's true that an economic stimulus check or direct deposit should be coming your way, it could be weeks before that money arrives. Ignore anyone who says they can get you that money sooner, whether through a grant or for a fee. They're a scammer.
- With people out of work nationwide, there will surely be an influx of "work-from-home scam" victims. Online "jobs" where you are asked to purchase and then mail products are scams. Any job where you accept a check and then are asked to send part of that check to someone else is scam. For help figuring out whether an online job is a scam, call the Office of Consumer Protection or visit the Federal Trade Commission's page on work-from-home scams.

- Ignore offers for vaccinations, oils, pills, potions, lotions, or lozenges that claim to prevent, treat, or cure COVID-19. Rely only on trusted sources for COVID-19 information, such as the Montana Department of Justice, Centers for Disease Control, World Health Organization, and the Montana Coronavirus Task Force.

Fact check before sharing any information. For official information on the federal government's response to COVID-19, go to www.coronavirus.gov.

To file a COVID-19 scam report or price-gouging complaint, call the Office of Consumer Protection at (406) 444-4500 or 1-800-481-6896 toll-free. You may also email contactOCP@mt.gov or file a complaint online.

Bev's Bites Recipe by Bev Golden Cream Soup

3 c. cubed potatoes
1/2 c. sliced Celery
1/2 c. chopped onion
1/2 c. sliced carrots
1 c. water
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 tbs parsley flakes
salt and pepper to taste
2 tbs bacon bits
2 tbs flour
1 1/2 c milk
1/2 lb velveta cheese, cubed

In a soup kettle, mix veggies, water, seasoning, bouillon, and bacon bits. Simmer 20 minutes or until veggies are tender. Bible Truth... About the end time

Statement of belief: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God..." (2 Timothy 3:16-17), thus all beliefs in conflict with the scripture, God's holy word, are false.

The current COVID-19 pandemic has provoked many to consider the possibility that this is one of the plagues spoken of in the book of Revelation. It is impossible to present an in depth study in a brief article such as this, but in short, the events from Revelation chapter 4 to the end Revelation will not begin until the children of God, both living and dead, are resurrected bodily. As stated in 1 Thessalonians 4:17 believers will be "caught up together...to meet the Lord in the air". It is after this coming that the prophecies of the Revelation will begin to be fulfilled.

Prophecy also reveals that an 'anti-christ' will convince Israel and the world that he is the true Christ. This evil character will sell the world on the idea that he has the solution to all the social, economic, political, personal, & spiritual problems in the world.

Since neither of these things has occurred we can be sure that we are not yet living in the time referred to in the book of Revelation.

According to the words of Christ, however, we can be sure that we are living in the time when the coming of Christ is at hand. He told His disciples that there would be wars & rumors of wars, famines, pestilences [diseases or plagues], and earthquakes in many places. He also warned that false prophets [religious imposters] would deceive many & that iniquity would abound, both of which have obviously come to pass as a hodge-podge of "religions" now exist to conform to the "personal beliefs" and every form of immorality imaginable. Jesus also prophesied of the destruction of Jerusalem, which took place about 70 A.D. [Read Matthew 24, Mark 13 and Luke 21.]

It's very clear that many of these prophecies have been fulfilled, but believers have no need to fear because God has promised to help us and that He will never leave us nor forsake us, Hebrews 13:5-6. As Jesus told His disciples then, believers today are to "Take heed, watch and pray".
