Dillon Elementary School District #10

Hello this is Mr. Shipman, Dillon Elementary School District #10 Superintendent, with an important message regarding our schools' plan for instruction for the remainder of the 2019-20 School Year.

As you are aware, on April 22nd Governor Bullock extended our current school closure through May 6th. He also announced that starting May 7th returning to school would be left up to the local school Boards.

Tonight at 5:30 pm the Board of Trustees met in a Special Session to discuss the options for schooling for the remainder of the year.

Also today, the Local Public Health Department met and they initiated a Strong Recommendation to all Beaverhead County Schools to maintain the school closure for the remainder of the school year and continue with remote and online instruction.

As a result, the Board of Trustees discussed a multitude of factors, including social distancing and the health and safety of our students, staff and community at large.

The Board of Trustees made a motion in support of Public Health's Strong Recommendation to continue with the school closure for the remainder of the 2019-20 school year. That motion passed unanimously!!

Therefore, this year's school calendar will continue to be followed. Dillon Elementary will remain closed for the remainder of the school year. All current and future instruction before and after May 7 will continue with the current online alternate delivery method being used.

Although, this was a difficult decision it was very clear and evident to the Board that between social distancing issues, sanitizing concerns, and other factors that could not be meet by the District at this time, the Boards Number One Concern and the reasoning for their decision is based on the safety and health of our staff and students!!

As we proceed with the remainder of the school year our staff will continue to work hard to provide the best educational format we can during this unprecedented time. We will continue to assess and evaluate our plan, and will continue to communicate with parents and students as we proceed.

We sincerely hope that we can begin with regular school instruction beginning this fall. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact our school for more information.

Lydia Landau Shares Undergraduate Research Experience in Southwest Montana

Montana Western alumna, Lydia Landau.

Lydia Landau, a Montana Western graduate, grew up in Maryland and lived in several places before attending UMW, including California, Oregon and Montana. She graduated in Dec. 2019, majoring in Environmental Science with options in Sustainable Natural Resource Management and Wetland Management.

Landau was scheduled to present her report, titled "Impact of Mesic Restoration Structures on Soil Moisture in a High-Elevation Sagebrush Steppe Tributary in Southwest Montana," at the National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) this spring.

After careful consideration regarding the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic, Montana State University canceled the 2020 NCUR in coordination with the Council on Undergraduate Research, that was scheduled for Mar. 26-28 in Bozeman, Mont.

Landau's report was a multivariate statistical analysis of soil moisture data from a mesic restoration site in Little Basin, located in Southwest Montana. In an interview, Landau explained that mesic sites are areas that are wetter than surrounding upland sagebrush. They are important oases for arthropods, forbs, and the animals that eat them since they stay wetter later into the year than the surrounding landscape.

A multi-agency restoration project lead by the Nature Conservancy in Southwest Montana is currently using low-tech, inexpensive structures to slow the spread of intermittent flow of water in mesic, or potentially mesic, areas. Landau focused on analyzing the soil moisture to see if current mesic restoration efforts were having the anticipated effect of slowing the flow of water in mesic areas in a noticeable way. At this stage of her research, Landau was unable to detect a difference between the treatment and control sites, although similar projects in other states have taken up to five years to show changes, requiring further study and possibly changes to the experiment's design.

At Montana Western, students take one course at a time, three hours each day for 18 days before moving onto the next, known as Experience One. Landau stated, "Experience One and the block scheduling system allows professors to prioritize field experience, which is so essential in environmental science."

"Block scheduling allowed me to spend time in the field working on the periphery of this project before I was really personally involved. I was able to meet the people carrying out the project and get familiar enough to have an idea of where to begin when it came time for my own research. This experience has been incredibly professionally validating and also has me thinking more seriously about grad school," said Landau.

Dr. Rebekah Levine, a geomorphologist and assistant professor at UMW, was involved in the restoration projects and introduced Landau to mesic sites in 2017 in a hydrology class, where they mapped out potential restoration sites. Landau said that Levine has been her advisor from the beginning and has also incorporated aspects of the project into other hydrology and surficial processes classes since then.

Dr. Eric Dyreson aided Landau in designing a statistical approach, playing an essential role in writing the Matlab code she used to carry out the analysis. She also had help from Kyle Cutting of the Red Rock Lakes National Wildlife Refuge and Thomas Sutton, a graduate student at Montana State University studying vegetation and arthropod response to mesic restoration at the same study site.

Landau shared, "the most rewarding part was getting to participate in the project with so many agencies, graduate students, and working professionals. It felt very validating to have my work taken seriously by people actually doing the work in the field."

This summer, Landau plans to do BLM-style AIM vegetation and soil surveys in Idaho for the Montana Natural Heritage Program, and hopes to continue to find ways to work outside.

For more information about Experience One and the University of Montana Western, call 877-683-7331.

"Cruisin' Out Of Seclusion"

DILLON: are you ready for "Cruisin 'Out Of Seclusion" this Friday night, May 1, 2020 at 7:00 P.M? We are changing the theme of the "Cruise" this week to honor our 2020 Dillon Graduates: BCHS Seniors, DMS 8th graders, UM Western Seniors, and Montana Youth Challenge who have missed out on many special memories during their senior year.

We will be using the same "Cruise" route: from the Chamber of Commerce down Montana Street to the stop light, turning right on Helena to the three way stop, turning around in the High School gym parking lot, back out on Helena to the stop light, down Montana Street to the Chamber parking lot. Join the "Cruise" at any point along the route. Don't stop after just one loop let's keep this thing going for at least 45 minutes.

It would be cool to have car windows painted in your school colors and decorated in honor of a graduate you want to recognize. Make signs to hold out vehicle windows, stick on your cars, dress up in school colors, etc… So let's get all you graduates, families, and friends out for a night of "Cruisin" to honor these special individuals and let them know they have not been forgotten.

In case you missed last week and would still like to donate to those causes, we will have the tubs out in the BW Lodge parking lot.

We want to hear horns, noise makers, and see lots of decorated cars and people! Cruise and wave/honk, display your signs for our GRADUATES while still maintaining social distancing by Not getting out of your cars. Come on Dillon lets have some fun with this…

Stockman Reopens Bank Lobbies

We are pleased to announce that most of our bank lobbies will be open for business on Monday, May 4th during our regular business hours. Information on bank locations and operating hours is available on our website at www.stockmanbank.com. We are operating under Governor Bullock's Phase 1 Guidelines. We understand this is subject to change as we actively monitor local policy developed by cities and counties.

While our lobbies have been closed since March 23, our online and mobile banking, walk-up and drive-up services have been available. We encourage customers to continue to use these options to meet banking needs whenever possible as we collectively try to reduce the spread of the virus.

We look forward to welcoming customers back to our lobbies which will look and operate a little differently to protect the health and safety of customers and employees. When our customers visit our bank lobbies:

- Customers, who feel sick or exhibit any signs of illness, are asked to not enter the building. This is for everyone's safety.
- Appropriate 6-foot social distancing measures will be followed. There will be floor markers to assist customers in maintaining this distance. If the lobby area becomes crowded and social distancing guidelines cannot be met, a staff member will be happy to make an appointment. We may also ask customers to wait outside until others complete their banking.
- Tellers, Receptionists and Customer Service Representatives will have protective plexiglass shields to keep everyone safe. Some of our employees may also be wearing face masks.
- Hand sanitizer will be available at each teller window, and on the desks of our customer service representatives and receptionists.
- All of our work stations, drive-up canisters and all high traffic areas will be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected repeatedly throughout the day. Customers are encouraged to take the bank pen they have used during their visit. Any pens left behind will be sanitized.

Paycheck Protection Program (PPP)

We continue to submit PPP loans on the behalf of our business customers to the Small Business Administration. Since the beginning of the program, we have received SBA approval of nearly 3,000 loans at a total of $288 million. Business customers should contact their commercial lender at their local Stockman bank if they have questions or need further information.

Flushing flow planned for Beaverhead River

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, along with partners from the East Bench Joint Board and the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, will conduct a flushing flow out of Clark Canyon Reservoir beginning Friday, May 1, to move sediment deposited in the Beaverhead River, helping restore and maintain aquatic habitat.

River users should be aware that the flushing flow regime will be released May 1 through May 3. Beaverhead River discharges will increase from overwinter releases of 90 cubic feet per second (cfs) to 600 cfs on May 1. Flows will be reduced to meet irrigation season demands over the next two days.

The Beaverhead River is a renowned trout fishery; however, trout populations have declined by as much as 50 percent immediately following large sediment deposits from Clark Canyon Creek, and habitat recovery has been slow. These events occur randomly after large rain or snowstorms that coincide with low flow releases from the reservoir.

After studies were conducted to determine the cause of these events and what it would take to avoid negative impacts on fish populations, the partner agencies decided to store 2,100 acre feet of water and conduct a flushing flow from Clark Canyon Reservoir to move sediment and maintain habitat health.

The first flushing flow was released in 2017, and it was effective in clearing sediment and improving river health.

The Beaverhead River supports 2,000 to 3,000 trout per mile in its upper reach. The river sees about 40,000 angler days per year, and recreationists who come to enjoy the river spend several million dollars locally each year.

Memorial Day Parade

Plans for the 18th annual White Hat Coalition Memorial Day Parade for Monday, May 25th remain tentative due to the Covid 19 shut down. The 25th annual Auto Festival and Cruise is tentatively Saturday June 13th as a fundraiser for the Coalitions Yellow Ribbon program and sendouts to the troops. As Montana phases back into an open economy we will keep folks apprised as to confirmed dates for both events.
