Conclusion of Spring Semester and Virtual Commencement

To the University Community,

As next week approaches, the final week of classes for the spring semester, I want to take a moment to reflect on the changes that have occurred on our campus, in our city of Dillon, the state of Montana, our country and our world.

We have seen great courage in the face of the unknown, and a tremendous ability of our university community to adapt to meet the needs of our students and to keep everyone around us safe. Our students continue to inspire us to find new and creative ways to engage with them and celebrate their accomplishments. Thank you to our students, our faculty, and our staff for their efforts in working together to successfully conclude this unique and challenging semester.

On Saturday, May 9, starting at 9 a.m., we invite all of you to visit our website (<https://tinyurl.com/UMW2020>) to celebrate the accomplishments of the graduating Class of 2019-2020 for our 123rd Annual Commencement Ceremony. While this year's spring commencement is held virtually, we are honored, more than ever, to come together and recognize the challenges and achievements that have faced this year's graduating class. While the COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way we are celebrating, we couldn't be happier for our graduates.

As we celebrate the accomplishments of this year's graduating class, we are also planning for the future. At Montana Western, our students' education, health and safety are our top priorities. To that end, we will do everything possible, as conditions allow, to resume face-to-face courses in Fall 2020 and to safeguard the health of our students and campus community.

Several working groups are meeting on a regular basis to plan for the enhanced hygiene and cleaning practices and social distancing that will be necessary this fall to keep our campus community safe. Our planning efforts are in concert with our colleagues in the Montana University System under the direction of Commissioner Christian and his leadership team as well as with state and local government and public health and law enforcement. These collaborative efforts will allow us to make the best choices to ensure the safety of our campus and community.

I would also like to thank all of the members of our entire Bulldog community for your unwavering support. Though there will be some changes in place on campus this Fall, our commitment to providing our students with impactful experiential learning opportunities remains the same and we couldn't do it without you! Let's finish the semester together by celebrating the challenges we've overcome and by looking forward to the future. Go Bulldogs!

Wishing you well,
Chancellor Beth Weatherby

Two orphaned bald eaglets relocated in southwest Montana

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks worked in close partnership with the Montana Raptor Conservation Center to relocate two orphaned bald eagle chicks this week in southwest Montana.

The eaglets were rescued on April 24 from a nest on state land just east of Interstate 90 in north Bozeman shortly after two adult bald eagles were found dead below the nest. A cause of death hasn't been determined for the adult eagles, and they've been turned over to the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service for further testing.

The Montana Raptor Conservation Center worked with a trained climber to retrieve the eaglets, which were then taken to the Center for food, fluids and evaluation. Both chicks were in good condition.

Adult bald eagles will usually adopt orphaned eaglets placed in an active nest with healthy habitat nearby. This presents the best chance at survival in the wild for orphaned eaglets, which cannot be raised in captivity and later released. FWP located a nest on private land south of Clarkston that met these criteria and worked with the landowner and Montana Rail Link to gain access to the nest.

The climber again assisted the Montana Raptor Conservation Center and FWP in successfully placing the orphaned eaglets in the nest on Wednesday. FWP thanks the Montana Raptor Conservation Center, the volunteer climber, the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, Montana Rail Link and a willing landowner for their collaborative efforts to relocate the eaglets.

The U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service is the lead agency investigating the death of the two adult eagles from Bozeman. But anyone with information on the case can provide tips anonymously by calling 1-800-TIP-MONT.

Visitation at Montana State Parks, FASs sees increase during COVID-19

In any year, keeping state parks across Montana open takes an all-hands-on-deck approach. But 2020 is proving to be a particular challenge given increased visitation during the COVID-19 pandemic. Many Montanans are seeking outdoor adventures close to home, and state parks provide a great destination.

"We understand that our parks and trails play a critical role in how people deal with the stress and uncertainty that the COVID-19 pandemic has brought," said Montana State Parks Administrator Beth Shumate. "Keeping our parks open for all Montanans is a priority as our sites provide invaluable mental and physical health benefits."

Cemetery Memorial Day Cleanup

The City of Dillon Mountain View Cemetery will begin Memorial Day Cleanup Tuesday, May 5th, 2020.

Please remove all decorations stuck in the ground or placed on gravespaces by Monday, May 4th. This includes shepherd hooks set out of compliance in the past year, lights, wooden crosses, artificial flowers, etc. The City will remove all remaining decorations beginning Wednesday, May 6th. Flowers and/or decorations may be placed on graves for Memorial Day beginning Thursday, May 21st, 2020.

All shepherd hooks placed for Memorial Day that are not in compliance with cemetery regulations must be removed by Monday, June 8th, 2020.

Southwest Montana Veteran's Home. Update #47

By Mike Lawson

A partial reopening is now happening and hopefully better things are to come. Out Veteran Home construction is moving forwards by leaps and bounds in some ways, and in other ways the tedious work that just takes time, is moving forward. Construction Updates:

Community Center: Interior; The mudding of the sheetrock, continues. Mike Ascherman is pushing to get the suspended ceiling in, but the metal framing system material for that, didn't get here as expected. The other push is to get the tile-work done in the bathrooms.

Exterior: The wall siding is up to the eaves, on the north and west sides and a portion of the south side. It's a two color siding and looks pleasing to the eye. Once they finish this building they can move right over to Cottage #1.

Cottage #1. The sheet rockers are hanging lots of Sheetrock. I've said it before and again, I can't begin to express the volume of sheetrock that goes into these buildings. It's incredible. The bathrooms with their special Den's Fiberglass Board for tile, the green water resistant board above that and the concrete Hardy Board for the showers, is a speciality process, that is being started. Remember there are twelve resident room bathrooms in each Cottage, that will need this. Some of the sheetrock tapers are starting to mud and tape on a small scale. The Sheet Metal guys continue to work on the heating ductwork with it's many components, that need to put together.

Exterior: All the blue board is installed and the roof eve framing is mostly done. This Cottage is ready to be sided, when the siding on the Community Center is completed.

Cottage #2: Interior; The electricians have got their rough-in wiring completed and have moved to Cottage #3. The Insulators are busy getting their insulation of the walls and ceiling installed, with vapor barrier heavy plastic over that. Once this is done then the sheet-rockers can start sheet-rocking. The Sheet Metal guys are continuing to do their, Heat System Duct Work.

Exterior: The 3M Vapor Barrier material is still being installed around the doors and windows and is on the east sidewall. The plan is for the hollow metal door frames and windows to begin to be installed, starting this week. This will be followed by the the foam insulation blue board being put up. A couple of John's carpenter framers were doing some of the roof eve framing.

Cottage #3: The main guys working in here are the Electricians doing their rough-in wiring and electrical work. A couple of the carpenter framers were building catwalks above the ceiling, for the sheetmetal guys to put some of their Heating System Ductwork on. A little bit of sheetmetal work going on also.

Cottage #4: This is again where a lot of framing is going on. All the exterior/interior critical walls are standings, the resident roof trusses are rolled up into place and the fire resistant plywood roofing sheets, have been nailed on the north resident wing. Mike Ascherman said he has the truck-crane coming on Monday (this week), at which time the rest of the trusses over the central common area will get rolled up into place. As John Kotka said before, it's takes about three weeks to complete a roof. Exciting to visually see what's going on here. If you drive by on Continental Drive, you'll get the best view of this building, Cottage #4.

Cottage #5: John said he would try to get some layout done here, this past week, and he did. He has most of the exterior wall "Top and Bottom Wall Plates" laid out and lined up around the outside floor perimeter of this building.

One of the things that John Kotka emphasized, that is important to both he and Mike Ascherman, is that, "Good Preparation is the Key" to be successful on a well run construction job. As a Construction Site Superintendent, for Mike, it's critical to have the preparations done in the sequence they're supposed to be done in. This is important so the job isn't held up due to somebody not doing their part ahead of someone else, or material being on time so the workers are not standing around waiting for material. His preparation can make or break a job. Its also having a constant punch list/layout preparation, before-hand that makes this job run smooth for John, and consequently for everyone up the chain to the contractor.

Not much coming to us from the state level, this week. Hopefully we'll know who won the logo contest by next week. No Foundation meeting until June, because of this Coronavirus.

We'll open the Viewing Hooch up in another week or so, depending how the lifting of the "stay in place" rules go. Things are looking up, so don't let down your guard. Take Care until next time.

Fox Statement on Court Declining Online Signature Gathering for Marijuana Ballot Measures

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox issued the following statement after a District Court declined to allow online signature gathering for two marijuana legalization ballot measures:

"The District Court's order is a victory for the rule of law and Montana's constitution. I am pleased with the ruling because it's the court's job is to interpret laws, not to write them or suspend them."

Recently the group "New Approach Montana" sued the state of Montana to suspend signature gathering laws for two marijuana legalization ballot measures. The Attorney General's Office defended state laws in court and prevailed.
