DOES YOUR FAMILY INCLUDE A SPEED DEMON?

by Danny Tyree

Readers of fine newspapers may recall that last July I unleashed a tirade titled "Slow drivers: are they driving you insane?"

Several readers offered a "Yes, but..." response. They acknowledged the irritating nature of slowpokes but suggested I should devote equal (or greater) time to denouncing speed demons.

So, for the sake of fairness (and because my son is currently taking Driver's Education and because I've started pondering how many of my clobbered pets would have died of natural causes if all motorists drove at safe speeds in residential areas), I'm making a U-turn and activating my blue light for those colorful scamps on the other extreme of the speed spectrum.

Perhaps the classic road hog is the joker who tailgates you, flashes his headlights, passes you on a double yellow line approaching a blind curve – and then makes a left turn 50 yards down the road! Here's hoping that he doesn't spill the potato salad in his valiant quest to arrive three seconds sooner for his Hot-headed Half-Wits reunion.

What makes people pull these scofflaw shenanigans? Poor time management is one cause of "lead foot syndrome." Here's an idea: maybe if you'd invest less in "rich Corinthian leather" and more in a decent alarm clock, you wouldn't find yourself shaving or applying cosmetics while hurtling along foggy streets, just to have three extra minutes to whine about HOW YOU HATE EVERY STINKIN' MINUTE AT YOUR JOB.

I know many speeders are rebels at heart and think their flouting of posted speed limits is Sticking It to the Man, but often it's more like Wrapping It Around the Oak Tree in the Man's Front Yard.

Yes, some adrenaline junkies simply don't feel alive unless they're "straightenin' the curves, flattenin' the hills." Like the Dukes of Hazzard, they fancy themselves to be true modern-day Robin Hoods. Except they rob from their emergency fund and give to the collision-repair center!

I realize some drivers aspire to establish a LEGACY via their high-speed high jinks (their 15 Gallons of Fame, as it were), but they are essentially Proving Nothing to Nobody. ("You mean YOU don't remember me squalling tires at 1:15 a.m. on November 14, 2014 either??? I'm hitching a U-Haul to my Mustang and gettin' outta this burg! The whole town of Lower East Podunk has developed AMNESIA!")

Some drivers are simply sociopaths who think the world owes them a living, their fun trumps everything else and the rest of humanity is just in their way. Forgive me if my obeying the speed limit makes them late for their job interview for a position HANDLING HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

One hopes that these charming individuals would at least honor school zones, but their reassurances are not encouraging. ("Of course, I'll behave. I believe the children are our future. And I'm about to break the time barrier and find out for sure. Yee-haa!")

My late father-in-law was always in denial about the danger he posed to himself and others by driving aggressively. Sadly, people who have been protected by guardian angels (UP TO THIS POINT) tend to be defensive and snarky about their continued safety.

I hope that doesn't describe anyone in YOUR family.

If a guilty party does spring to mind, I hope they'll get their head out of a certain bodily orifice before the coroner gets summoned to do it for them.

WELCOME BACK TO THE Y!

We're excited to welcome you back to your YMCA. Although our doors have been closed, your team at the Y has been busy during this COVID-19 pandemic.

We've been busy painting, cleaning, repairing, and working to allow for social distancing. We want to ensure our Y is providing you with the safest and most hygienic facility. Along with facility updates, we have implemented many new policies so our members can participate in helping to keep the Southwestern Montana Family Y clean and safe. These updates will be handed out by the front desk staff upon request.

While we can't predict how long the COVID-19 crisis will last, or whether it will be necessary to close facilities and programs again in the future, we are committed to doing whatever is necessary to ensure your safety.

As we welcome you back to the Y, we want to assure everyone, health and safety remains our top priority. We have taken all necessary steps to ensure the safety of our members, program participants, and staff. This means things will look and feel a little and is some cases a lot different. These changes are necessary to follow CDC and Public Health regulations.

Please be sure to read through these new policies to be more aware of all the changes. We understand that some of these policies will be inconvenient, but we all follow the same health and safety standards we will make the Y as safe as possible.

We're so happy to welcome you back. Together, we're a better us.

Sincerely,

Todd Rouse, CEO

Bookstore Phase 1 updates

I am so grateful for all the support, patience, kindness and understanding we are receiving on a daily basis at The Bookstore.

We will be closed Saturday, May 16th and Sunday May 17th. (Debbie is taking a couple of mental health days)

We will be back to full time hours beginning Monday, May 18th. Curbside pick up, home delivery and direct to home shipping will continue to be offered (note with the direct to home shipping we can send books anywhere in the United States)

Our doors are open and we continue to sanitize high traffic areas. The state's gradual reopening still limits groups to 10 or fewer people when physical distancing isn't possible. At-risk people should stay home.

Hours beginning May 18th: Monday-Friday 9:00-6:00

Saturday 9:00-4:00 and closed on Sunday

We are following the guidelines set forth for the State of Montana as directed by Governor Bullock.

WE ARE NOT ACCEPTING USED BOOKS AT THIS TIME

If you have any questions you can call 683-6807 or call me on my cell at 660-0168

Dear valued Subway customers!

We are excited to announce a new addition to our subway store. We will now be offering Mama Delucas Pizza an extension to the Subway brand. We will be offering pizzas both take n' bake and cooked instore. As well as chicken wings, breadsticks and pasta!

Unfortunately along with these amazing additions we will have cancelled our business deliveries. Deliveries for large catering orders will be evaluated and a price point will be set as a minimum for a catering order delivery at a later date.

National Trails Day Saturday, June 6 10:00-12:00pm

The Montana State Parks and Bannack State Park announced today that they will be hosting a guided hike for National Trails Day at Beaverhead Rock State Park on Saturday, June 6th from 10am-12pm.

This year, the staff of Bannack State Park is going to host a hike at Beaverhead Rock. The guided hike will consist of a one hour walk through the state park examining the flora, fauna, and history of the area.

To adhere to social distancing, the hike will be capped at ten people, so please call ahead to reserve your spot.

The moderate hike will be a fun way to get outside and learn more about local parks. There is a strong chance for warm temperatures. Sunscreen, water, sturdy walking/hiking shoes, and appropriate hiking gear are suggested for the day.

To access Beaverhead Park, the turn-off on Highway 41 has no marker. Your phone's maps will take you close to the park, but the turnoff is a dirt road just after the curve marked to slow down if you are coming from Dillon.

AG Fox Announces New Option for Homeowners Affected by COVID-19

Attorney General Tim Fox announced today Montana homeowners experiencing financial difficulties due to the COVID-19 pandemic will have a new mortgage payment deferral option available to them this summer.

The Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) now says Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will make a new payment deferral option available starting July 1 to help homeowners who are in COVID-19 related forbearance. The payment deferral option allows borrowers, who are able to return to making their normal monthly mortgage payment, the ability to repay missed payments when their home is sold, refinanced, or at the end of their loan. The borrower's monthly mortgage payment will not change.

"This new mortgage payment deferral option could make a big difference for homeowners who have the ability to start making their monthly payments at the sunset of their forbearance," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "Before this announcement, paying forborne payments at the end of their forbearance period was likely impossible for many, if not most, homeowners seeking a forbearance," Fox added.

Last week, Fox and Iowa Attorney General Tom Miller called FHFA Director Mark Calabria, urging his agency to implement new policies to provide relief to homeowners suffering in the pandemic. Their conference call was in follow up to recommendations Fox, Miller, and a bipartisan coalition of attorneys general made in letters sent last month to FHFA and the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

A forbearance is a pause or reduction in monthly mortgage payments available to borrowers with a financial hardship caused by the pandemic. Missed payments must be paid back when the forbearance ends. Homeowners with COVID-19 related hardships can still utilize other mortgage assistance options, including reinstatement, a repayment plan, or loan modifications. Fox advises struggling homeowners to be proactive in seeking education about these options and requesting them only if they are in need. "Forbearance, deferral, and modification options are not windfalls. They are designed for people who cannot make their home loan payments because the COVID-19 crisis has made it impossible,"

Fox cautioned.

The new payment deferral option applies only to federally backed mortgages, which make up nearly 62 percent of the mortgage market. To determine whether you are eligible for a forbearance plan or other assistance, find out who services your mortgage and whether it is federally backed. To learn more, go to FannieMae or Freddie Mac's look up tool. Borrowers who are not covered should contact their mortgage servicer to determine whether it is offering any relief during the pandemic.

For more information, call the Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection at (800) 481-6896 or (406) 444-4500, or email contactocp@mt.gov.
