International Space Station Visitors

SpaceX delivered two astronauts to the International Space Station for NASA on Sunday, following up a historic liftoff with an equally smooth docking in yet another first for Elon Musk's company.

With test pilots Doug Hurley and Bob Behnken poised to take over manual control if necessary, the SpaceX Dragon capsule pulled up to the station and docked automatically, no assistance needed. The linkup occurred 262 miles (422 kilometers) above the China-Mongolia border.

Once the capsule was latched securely to the space station, the congratulations flowed from NASA, SpaceX and the astronauts.

"Congratulations on a phenomenal accomplishment and welcome to the International Space Station," SpaceX Mission Control said from Hawthorne, California.

It was the first time a privately built and owned spacecraft carried astronauts to the orbiting lab in its nearly 20 years. NASA considers this the opening volley in a business revolution encircling Earth and eventually stretching to the moon and Mars.

NASA astronaut Chris Cassidy greeted the incoming crew by ringing the ship's bell aboard the space station.

The docking occurred a little early, barely 19 hours after a SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket blasted off Saturday afternoon from Kennedy Space Center, the nation's first astronaut launch to orbit from home soil in nearly a decade.

A few hours before docking, the Dragon riders reported that the capsule was performing beautifully. Just in case, they slipped back into their pressurized launch suits and helmets for the rendezvous.

The astronauts thanked everyone once the capsule was latched securely to the space station.

After liftoff, Musk told reporters that the capsule's return will be more dangerous in some ways than its launch. Even so, getting the two astronauts safely to orbit and then the space station had everyone breathing huge sighs of relief.

An old-style capsule splashdown is planned for the return.

The Dillon Field Office has released environmental assessments for the East Pioneers and Madison watershed and the public is invited to comment on them through July 15.

The documents have been placed on the BLM's ePlanning webpage. The East Pioneers Watershed EA is also on the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest Service webpage since it proposes projects on adjacent Forest Service lands.

Comments may be made in writing and submitted to the Dillon Field Office at 1005 Selway Drive, Dillon, MT 59725, or via email at MT.Dillon.FO@blm.gov.

Both EAs were developed to address resource concerns and issues on BLM-managed public lands in their respective watersheds. The East Pioneers Watershed EA also includes proposed treatment on approximately 900 acres of Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest lands. Resource concerns were identified following the release of the watershed assessment reports and through public comments received earlier. The Madison Watershed is in Madison County and covers more than 39,000 acres of BLM-managed public land. The East Pioneers Watershed is in Beaverhead County and covers about 37,000 acres of BLM-managed public land and approximately 900 acres of Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest lands were included in the East Pioneers EA.

Both EAs review current livestock grazing management, along with proposed changes to management where needed, proposed rangeland improvement projects, as well as vegetative management projects to address conifer encroachment. In addition, commercial timber harvest projects, travel management, recreation and wilderness-related issues are addressed in the Madison Watershed.

Once the public comment period closes, Dillon Field Office staff will review comments and take them into consideration during the decision-making process. Decisions are expected to be issued this Fall for both watersheds.

For questions regarding the EAs, please call the following individuals: Madison Watershed: Tucker Porter (406) 683-8048

East Pioneers Watershed (BLM-related questions): Dusty Crowe (406) 683-8044

Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest: Jamie Tripp (406) 683-3988 or Molly Ryan (406) 689-3243.

UMW Volleyball Unveils New Locker Room

The University of Montana Western volleyball team unveiled its newly renovated locker room.

"We are beyond excited about our new locker room and the continued growth in the volleyball program," head coach Katie Lovett said. "First, I would like to thank everyone who donated funds for this project to become a reality, as well as, everyone who put in their time, effort, and energy. It really was a whole team effort from before the start of demo, to putting the last locker in place. There is such support for Bulldog athletics in this community and it really shows in projects like this."

The new 350 square-foot locker room is nearly triple the size of the old room and makes use of unused space in the Bulldog Athletic and Recreation Center (BARC). The remodel provides a long overdue facelift for the area the Bulldogs called home for the previous 50 years.

"With everything having such a level of uncertainty during times right now, I think this was a great positive thing they could focus on," Lovett added. "I am so happy we were able to make this a reality for the team, because they deserve every bit of it. The team already has so much pride in this space and has given them even more motivation for this upcoming season."

"I am very excited for our volleyball student-athletes that they now have an appropriate space to prepare for practice and contests," Director of Athletics Bill Wilson said. "I want to thank the donors for the locker room, our Director of Facilities Cole Cottom, Vice Chancellor Mike Reid, and Director of the UMW Foundation Roxanne Engellant for their efforts in supporting this project."

The locker room will open to players in late July when training camp is scheduled to open for the 2020 season.

For more pictures of the remodel project check out the Volleyball team's Instagram page.

Amtrak Train Collides with Tractor

An Amtrak train carrying passengers collided with a John Deere tractor on Highway 2 near Bainville in Roosevelt County Friday shortly before 11 a.m., according to the Montana Highway Patrol.

A 65-year-old Sidney man driving the tractor died on impact. One passenger and three crew members were treated for injuries at a hospital and released Friday night.

The railroad crossing does not have crossing arms, according to Roosevelt County Sheriff Jason Fredericks.

Passengers were taken to Culbertson High School to await alternate transportation.

Investigators with Amtrak and Burlington Northern Santa Fe were en route to the site Friday. The Montana Highway Patrol is also investigating the crash.

The train had damage to its engine, and the tracks were damaged in the crash, Fredericks said. The line is closed for the investigation and for any needed repairs to the track.

Montana Western Provides CARES Act Emergency Federal Grants to Students Impacted by COVID-19 Pandemic

Qualifying students at Montana Western began receiving federal aid last week to cover eligible financial expenses caused by the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic this spring.

Additionally, the Montana Western Foundation has given almost $20,000 to students in emergency aid across the state, including to students in the Little Big Horn College Teacher Education partnership program.

Montana Western received $582,451 to provide direct aid grants to students through the federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act, or CARES. The UMW Foundation raised the additional private funds.

Montana Western awarded funds to students based on the guidance from the U.S. Department of Education, with a focus based on those with the highest financial need based on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid form, or FAFSA.

Eligibility Requirements Per Federal Regulations:

- Have completed FAFSA for 2019-2020
- Have a declared major that is eligible for financial aid
- Be enrolled in Spring 2020 for at least 1 credit hour on or after March 23
- Making Satisfactory Academic Progress during Spring 2020
- Be a citizen or eligible non-citizen
- Completed at least one credit hour in Spring 2020 with a grade of D or better

As of May 28, 271 Montana Western students have been awarded a total of $183,150.49. The funds will be awarded throughout the pandemic to students who submit an online form, including summer and fall 2020 students. Each eligible student can apply for up to $800 in funding (or more if they demonstrate additional need) and can use the assistance towards any of their expenses including housing, food and childcare. Students should continue to monitor their university email accounts for more information and to apply.

Montana Western students were sent an initial email May 6, with a link to an online application to apply for the emergency grants. Students are encouraged to respond as soon as possible but can submit their application while funds remain available.

To learn more, please contact the Montana Western Financial Aid Office at louise.driver@umwestern.edu or 406-683-7893.

Calling Lady Golfers!

We are starting evening league play and morning league play has begun. We are in the process of updating our member lists and if you haven't received an email from us, you probably aren't on our list.

Morning league starts at 10 a.m. on Tuesdays and you need to sign up by Monday afternoon with Dawn Brown at drib63@hotmail.com, 406-925-3278 or on the sign-up sheet posted at the golf course

Evening league will be run on a weekly basis (women set up their own tee times as a team) with 4-man teams and a year end payout (if you don't have a team, please don't let that stop you from play, we can set you up!) Our first evening of "orientation/play" will be Tuesday, June 2nd.

If you are interested in playing evening league this year, please contact Becky Kington at bexk@3rivers.net or 406-792-6550.
