Southwest Montana Veterans Home. Update #56

By Mike Lawson

Greetings once again to you the Veterans/Communities/Countries of SW MT who are the chief organizers and supporters of the "SW MT Veterans Home"

Mostly good weather this past week and the forecast for this week we're in, is a mixed bag of sun and rain. This really has a big affect on outside activities, which are becoming a major factor, concerning the grading for streets/sidewalks/curbs and landscaping. It's now July and this is the season these things need to be done. I did a walk-through with Liaison Mark Gollinger this, our SW MT Vet Home site, and continues to be eye-opening in many great ways. Having a busy schedule and not being able to connect with Site Construction Superintendent Mike Ascherman and Carpenter General Foreman John Kotka, required a creative solution for briefing me, concerning the construction progress. Mike e-mailed in great detail and John visited me on the phone, on his way to Canyon Ferry Lake. These two guys go above and beyond because they love building this Vet home and truly care for the Veterans.

Construction Updates:

Community Center: Interior: Taping of the dropped sheet rock ceiling continues and is close to being done. The big multi-purpose room is still on hold for the electrical lighting redesign. Once this is approved and the lighting fixtures are in place the acoustic ceiling tiles can be put in place. This will then be ready for the flooring. John Kotka has started a couple of Carpenters framing the window trim. They'll do one room at time and I have to say, this trim that matches the deep rich brown color of the doors, really sets the tone of these rooms. Beautiful! The inside window screens will follow the trim work. John's checklist also has the installing of the exterior door hardware as time allows. Mike Ascherman is expecting the restroom's wall and tile work to have begun, Monday of this week.

Exterior: The Siding Crew is still waiting on the back-ordered gable vents and battens to arrive so they can finish-up on this building.

Cottage #1: Interior: The Sheetmetal guys are done in the Mechanical Room and their HVAC rough-in. The dropped sheetrock metal ceiling framing is ongoing. The Plumbers are running gas lines to overhead units in corridors. The Pipe Insulators are insulating the copper pipe. The Sheetrock Tapers are continuing to do the mud and taping. Getting closer.

Exterior: The siders continue to make progress and this building continues to take on beauty. Drive by and check it out.

Cottage #2: Interior: Initial sheetrock hanging is complete

Exterior: When you get and read this article, the roof will have the roofing titanium paper covering done and the roof will in all likelihood, be completely shingled.

Site-Work: Lots going on here. The Maintenance/Receiving Building floor pad has been framed, gravel spread uniformly across the bottom, with tied rebar forming a checkerboard appearance above that. This is raised up above the gravel a few inches and gives strength to the floor, once it's poured. The Well House, Electrical Building and some other pads are scheduled to be poured along with the maintenance building, on Tuesday, weather permitting. The curbs/sidewalks/patios are about all that's left for cement work after this. That particular work is going to be done by "R&K Construction". Zemlijak Excavating will be preparing for the retaining wall block, to be built on the site's SW corner, by Cottage #1. He'll have 8 truck semi-loads coming in, 2 per day, this week.

I haven't really talked about the Architect Firm who designed and drew up the plans for this, our beautiful Veterans facility, the Southwest Montana Veterans Home. Throughout these updates you have heard mentioned the quality, the special aspects, the engineering, the quality of material, that are above and beyond what/how a normal facility is built. The beauty of the layout of each building is incredible and is tailored to make the Resident Veteran comfortable and to feel good about living out their end days here. The window views of the Highland Mountains, the East Ridge and yes, of Butte, are beautiful and will be experienced in a relaxed/comfortable setting. As the Sheet Metal Foreman told me "these buildings are engineered to the max". There's much more to say, but for now I want to thank "CTA Architects" who working with the "Architects and Engineering Department of Administration" of Montana, have created this incredible Veteran's Facility. This, in my opinion, will be a "Picture Post Card" for Veteran Homes across America.

Haven't heard anything from the state as to the operating of this, our Southwest Montana Veterans Home. I do encourage any and all of you, to drive by the construction site, stop at the "Viewing Hooch" for a cup, and watch the activity right in front of this building, which is where they're framing the Maintenance/Receiving Building. Enough for now, have a good week and please, practice being safe during this Covid-10 Pandemic.

U.S. Supreme Court: Montana Tax Credit Can't Discriminate Against Students In Religious Schools

*AG Fox warned Department of Revenue about tax credit
rule's unconstitutionality in 2015*

A ruling from the U.S. Supreme Court today says that Montana's 2015 school tax credit legislation cannot exclude private religious schools.

In 2015, Montana's legislature and governor enacted a bill providing a tax credit for donations to private schools. After the Department of Revenue proposed an administrative rule excluding religious schools, Attorney General Tim Fox's office warned the department that its rule likely violated the U.S. Constitution and would be indefensible in court.

"After thorough analysis of the proposed rule, I urged the Bullock Administration not to adopt it for the very reason the U.S. Supreme Court issued its ruling," Fox said. "The Court echoed and even pointed out our analysis showing the rule to be discriminatory and unconstitutional."

Chief Justice John Roberts referred to Attorney General Fox's warning on page three of the majority opinion:

Shortly after the scholarship program was created, the Montana Department of Revenue promulgated "Rule 1," over the objection of the Montana Attorney General. That administrative rule prohibited families from using scholarships at religious schools. Mont. Admin. Rule §42.4.802(1)(a) (2015). It did so by changing the definition of "qualified education provider" to exclude any school "owned or controlled in whole or in part by any church, religious sect, or denomination." Ibid. The Department explained that the Rule was needed to reconcile the scholarship program with the no-aid provision of the Montana Constitution.

The Montana Attorney General disagreed. In a letter to the Department, he advised that the Montana Constitution did not require excluding religious schools from the program, and if it did, it would "very likely" violate the United States Constitution by discriminating against the schools and their students. See Complaint in No. DV-15-1152A (Dist. Ct. Flathead Cty.), Exh. 3, pp. 2, 5-6.
