THANK YOU CRUISERS!

Thank you to all the Dillon community members that gathered Friday evening Cruisin' for a Cure! A good time was had by all involved! A special thanks to 3D, The Storage Place, Klausen Storage, Beaverhead Home and Ranch Real Estate, and Beaverhead County High School. Donations were gathered for PINK HEALS as well as Relay for Life.

PINK HEALS is the organization associated with the Pink Firetruck. It supports local people diagnosed with all types of cancer and provides financial assistance. Relay for Life is a national fundraiser for the American Cancer Society. They fund research for all types of cancer, as well as provide financial assistance and counseling for those diagnosed with cancer. Planning is underway for a luminaria lighting ceremony in the fall. If you would like to give a donation or purchase luminaria to honor someone diagnosed with cancer, go to 3D or call Misti Wahl at 925-9054.

The third annual Hellgate Tournament at Smith Park Cancelled

The third annual Hellgate Tournament for the Barony Of Sentinels Keep held each year at Stan Smith's Smith Park Stables has been cancelled due to the Covid 19 pandemic. The medieval armoured event hosted by Smith features archery, thrown weapons and rapier championships, armored melee and boat races on the Beaverhead River. An average of 100 participants enjoy the family gathering each year. Plans for the event in July of 2021 are in the works.

Letter to the Editor

A Kudos Note

Wednesday's notice that The Church of Latter Day Saints is donating 120,000 pounds of food to the Storehouse Initiative at Butte Rescue Mission and Area Food Pantries has touched us very deeply. This outreach, ignoring any barriers, makes kin of all and responds to ongoing human need. We are humbled in the face of this generosity.

Another note of appreciation: as I walk the JC Park weekly, and sidewalks in my neighborhood almost daily, it is totally gratifying to see how Dillon's dog owners have risen to the challenge of honoring and respecting public property. My scooper mainly picks up small pieces of debris and rarely has to clean a dog leaving. Our community is special in so many ways, and this thoughtfulness calls for thanks and recognition - consider it here offered.

Most sincerely

Val Neeley

Letter to the Editor

To the people and the business owners of Dillon. Everyone may not realize it, but the County Health Department is trying to close Dillon for Labor Day Weekend. They will close down some struggling businesses. We all have the right to be concerned about Covid 19, but at some point we have to think of the life blood of this community.

I am asking the Dillon business owners and general public to come to the meeting on Friday, July 17th at 11:00 am in the Beaverhead County Courtroom. The people of Dillon and business people of Dillon should try to make it to this meeting. We may not have a Dillon Labor Day; there may not be a Dillon.

If the people of Dillon and businesses care, please be there.

Doug Frank,

concerned former business owner and citizen of Dillon.

Pathways To A Better Community

The core of a good neighborhood is the type of relationships established among its neighbors. The first step in building a relationship is respecting those next door, down the street and around the corner.

While people have their own ideas of a good neighbor and a good neighborhood, there are some basic standards established either through the City's code and zoning laws or through common courtesies that make life better in our community.

Do's

- Maintain your yard - cut your grass once a week
- Plant & maintain a few trees
- Properly display house numbers
- Empty water collecting in pots, buckets or other containers outdoors
- Clean up after your pets
- Keep trees and shrubs trimmed back and up from sidewalks and curbside parking areas
- Park your RV, boat or trailer in the back yard
- Keep your area "graffiti free"
- Take bulky items to the landfill

Don'ts

- Park your car, boat, trailer or RV on the front lawn
- Store excess trash and debris around the outside of your house
- Let your trees encroach on or create dangerous situations on your neighbor's property
- Play loud music after 10 pm
- Park inoperable or unlicensed vehicles on your property, or on city streets
- Allow your dogs to bark excessively
- Push debris into the gutter or pour any liquid in the storm drains

Attorney General Fox Offers Consumer Protection Tips to Military Families

In observance of National Military Consumer Protection Month, Attorney General Tim Fox offers tips to help protect active and retired military personnel and their families from consumer fraud.

"Unfortunately, service members can still become the victims of identity theft, scams, bad lending practices, and other criminal behaviors during the time they are deployed, when they are back on U.S. soil, and after they have retired from military service," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "Fortunately, there are a variety of strategies to help our servicemen and women avoid getting ripped off during these challenging times," Fox added.

Fox offered these tips:

- Set up an "Active Duty Alert" if you're deployed and don't expect to open a new line of credit, such as a car loan, mortgage, or a new credit card. The Active Duty Alert requires creditors to take additional steps to verify your identity before allowing new credit in your name. Active Duty Alerts last for one year, but can be renewed. To set one up, call the fraud department of any of the three credit reporting agencies, or fill out an Active Duty Alert form online. The credit reporting agency you initially alert is then responsible for contacting the other two credit reporting companies.
- Be wary of military-targeted scams such as online postings offering too-good-to-be-true housing rental prices for military personnel, con artists impersonating government contractor recruiters, or scammers pretending to be representatives from the Department of Veterans Affairs.
- Never wire money for a housing security deposit and consider utilizing the Department of Defense sponsored Automated Housing Referral Network to find a home.
- Don't share any personal account or identity information someone who contacted you first. Instead, hang up and call the VA directly and ask them if the VA has been trying to contact you. Do this even if the email address or caller ID says Veterans Affairs. Scammers can manipulate e-mail addresses and caller I.D. to look legitimate.
- Never hand over identification documents until you've met with a potential employer at their company location during regular work hours.

- Access your benefits through the VA. Some scammers try to charge veterans for services they can get for free elsewhere, like copies of their military record, or applying to receive benefits. However, applying for benefits is always free through the Veterans Benefits Administration.
- Don't share any personal information with anyone who contacts you about accessing your veteran's benefits. Instead, call the Veterans Benefits Administration directly so you know you're working with a legitimate representative.

Don't give out personal details over the phone, email, text or even in person to sources unknown to you. TRICARE, the government's health program for service members and retirees, warns that scammers are offering "free coronavirus test kits" in exchange for personal information, Social Security numbers, and bank or credit card information. Additionally, scammers are taking advantage of military stop movement orders to try and get service members to reveal personal information, using tactics such as threatening security clearance revocation. To learn more, visit the Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection military consumer protection web page.

Property Addresses

The City of Dillon would like to ask all property owners to review their street numbers on their property. All numbers must be not less than three inches tall and shall be placed in a conspicuous place where the same can be easily seen from the middle of the street or alley upon which the building fronts. The numbers must be of metal or painted, or worked into stained glass, or otherwise placed upon a building so as to be durable and conspicuous.

The purpose of asking for the review is to make sure that as owners and renters we are providing law enforcement agencies, the ambulance service, fire department, and other health and safety agencies the best possible ability to provide protection for our citizens, homes and businesses when called upon for assistance.

If you have any questions please contact Todd Hazelbaker, Director of Operations, at 683-4245.
