Student Spotlight: Aryana Mitchell

Aryana Mitchell is a sophomore from Great Falls, Mont., majoring in Elementary Education at the University of Montana Western.

A 2019 graduate from Great Falls High School, Mitchell found her career aspirations by participating in a pilot education program her senior year. Montana Western was a highly recommended school by counselors and teachers at GFHS.

After participating in X-Day, Montana Western's spring preview event, Mitchell knew she found her college of choice. The smaller, hometown atmosphere was the perfect fit for her, she explained, as she can be shy in new situations.

Following an uncertain Freshman year with all the changes and obstacles that COVID-19 brought, she welcomes this new school year and is staying positive. She understands that routines will look different, but is adjusting and making the best of the situation.

semester during the pandemic's onset, Mitchell completed her block courses from home and made it onto the Dean's List for the spring semester. Her "can do" attitude, assistance from passionate professors and focus on academics allowed her to not let the difficult situation stop her from reaching the goals she had for her first year of college.

As she continues with her classes, both online and in-person, Mitchell has also joined the university's Communications Department as a work-study employee for the opportunity to write about events and people at Montana Western.

"UMW has opened up so many opportunities and new experiences for me; learning happens both in and outside the classroom here," shared Mitchell. "This was one of the reasons I chose to attend UMW," she said.

Due to the Experience One program at UMW, Mitchell has experienced teaching and observing rural classrooms for the first time through the Elementary Education program. Mitchell also worked at a local preschool in her spare time, taking full advantage of the block schedule approach that UMW offers. These opportunities have provided immersive experience and insight in working in different types of classrooms.

"I really enjoyed the knowledge I gained from being in a rural classroom," said Mitchell. "By combining the rural classroom experiences with the ones I had from being in a larger and more urban elementary school in Montana, I plan to take all of it into my future classroom."

Mitchell would like to teach English as a second language and intends to continue her education to eventually become a librarian where she can share her love for books and reading.

For more information about Experience One and the University of Montana Western, or to schedule a visit, call 877-683-7331 or visit www.umwestern.edu.

THANK YOU

The family of Richard (Dick) Ferris would like to express sincere appreciation for the empathy and kindness of the Dillon Emergency professionals and volunteers who readily came to help us. These: Dillon Emergency Ambulance, Dillon City Police, Barrett Memorial Emergency Room staff and Life Flight, who illustrated amazing qualities of skill, ability and teamwork. We could not have had better care.

We are humbled by the community's compassion and sharing support of: visits, food, bouquets, memorials, cards and testimonials in Dick's honor.

Thank you to our immediate family whose support was an integral part of dealing with this tragedy during our hardest times. As well as Julie Briggs for her compassion and guidance throughout this overwhelming process.

A special thank you to: Father Sousa, Father Paschal, Father Wong, Helen Tummerup, Bob Harrison, Kelly & Ruth Weinacht, Fran Schishler and St. Rose of Lima Catholic church for the beautiful Rosary and Service.

We are grateful and indebted for the love and comfort that family, friends, neighbors and community has shown our family. We are truly blessed to be a part of it.

Are you ready for hunting season?

FWP can help. In addition to the following hunting forecast, FWP provides online information about hunting access, including our popular Block Management Program. Through the program, we coordinate with landowners to provide hunting access to more than 7 million acres of private land.

The interactive Hunt Planner map allows users to look at information for various species, including hunting districts and regulations. The hunt planner interactive map is a great way to access our block management information, so if you're planning a hunt in a certain area, you can see if there are Block Management Areas available to expand your opportunity.

And, as always, you can contact our helpful staff at any of our regional offices around the state. They're happy to help and can often get you pointed in the right direction with just a few simple tips.

Montana has some of the longest hunting seasons in the West, healthy herds of game and access to millions of acres of public land. However, hunters must be mindful of fire danger and of private landowners who are facing grass shortages, poor crop production and fatigue from monitoring for fire. Hunter harvest helps to reduce wildlife densities on a stressed landscape, and perhaps to help lessen winter depredation on haystacks or winter range.

Here are a few things hunters can do to show respect for private landowners during this dry season:

- avoid vehicle use in areas with dry grass in the median
- use caution when parking in areas with dry vegetation
- report smoke or any signs of fire to local officials
- carry a fire extinguisher or water to quickly snuff any potential fires.

SOUTHWEST MONTANA

As with most years, overall elk hunting success is expected to be influenced by snowfall. If early-season snow accumulation occurs, seasonal migrations toward winter range will soon follow, and more hunter harvest can be expected. If dry conditions continue through the fall, hunters should expect difficult elk hunting and average to below-average harvest.

Selway Saginaw Vegetation Management Project on Dillon and Wisdom Ranger Districts begins public review

The Selway Saginaw Vegetation Management Project, proposed to move conditions in the project area toward Beaverhead-Deerlodge Forest Plan goals for timber, vegetation, and fuel management, begins a combined scoping and 30-day comment period with the anticipated publication of a legal notice on September 9th in the Montana Standard.

To read the detailed proposal and preliminary analysis please go to the project web page at <https://www.fs.usda.gov/project/?project=56912>. There is a link under the Get Connected section. After consideration of comments and additional analysis, a final Environmental Assessment (EA) and a draft Decision Notice will be published for a 45-day objection period later this fall.

Questions about the project may be directed to the team leader, Leaf Magnuson by emailing lmagnuson@usda.gov.

Anglers Can Help Prevent AIS

Aquatic invasive species (AIS) threaten Montana's waterways and fisheries. AIS are plants, animals and pathogens that are not native to Montana and cause harm to Montana's native plants, animals and fish. AIS populations can reproduce quickly and spread rapidly because there are no natural predators or competitors to keep them in check.

Anglers can help prevent the spread of AIS by following these 3 simple steps:

Clean. After you're done fishing and before you leave the boat ramp or access area, inspect your boat, trailer, and fishing gear and completely remove all plants, animals, mud, and standing water.

Drain. Drain or remove water from your boat, bilge, pipes, live-wells, engine, internal compartments, and bait buckets.

Dry. Aquatic invaders can only survive in water and wet areas.

For more information on aquatic invasive species or to find the locations of watercraft inspection stations, visit CleanDrainDryMT.com or call 406-444-2440.

To anyone interested,

I feel very strongly about sharing my thoughts on Mask Wearing & 6 Foot Social Distancing during this Pandemic. I know I'm starting with 2 strikes against me. STRIKE 1- I'M OLD, STRIKE 2-I HAVE NO MONEY, & before I STRIKE OUT ON 3 & LOOSE MY FREEDOM TO SHARE THESE THOUGHTS, I WOULD LIKE TO DO SO.

I certainly am not an expert, but I'm not completely clueless. I do not have all the many letters behind my name, but I did have LPN behind it & worked for 7 years geriatrics in a Nursing home, & RN for 20 years on Medical/Surgical Units in hospitals: 4 different hospitals in Montana, while returning to my hometown position in Dillon over these 20 years of Travel Nursing assignments across the United States. I have worked Medical/Surgical Units starting in Florida, 2 separate years- 2 different cities, in Seattle, Wa., in Wyoming, in Santa Barbara, Ca., & 8 different years, 8 separate assignments in Palm Springs, Ca., all of these in hospitals Medical/Surgical Units, except for 1 assignment in Palm Springs, Ca., I worked on the AIDS, End Stage Renal Failure & Hospice Unit. While working all of these positions, I had experience with infectious disease. At most of these hospitals I had to be fitted for N- 95 or that caliber mask to be protected from very small viruses that I would certainly not be protected by a Simple Surgical Mask or Cloth Mask while taking care of these very contagious patients. Covid-19 is a very small Airborne Respiratory Virus that is not to be stopped from passing through, in or out of a Simple Surgical or Cloth Mask. I have learned this from my nursing classes, training, in service fitting of masks & experience in hospitals on the front lines working 12 hour day & night shifts & my continuing education since my retirement from active nursing 6 years ago. As stated by Dr Ramin Oskoui, a Simple Surgical or Cloth Mask could be compared to putting up a chain link fence instead of a screen to keep the mosquitos out. I believe I am following the science & medical professionals advice. As you do know they do not all agree. I am basing my opinion with this science, the opinion of these professionals & a Degree in Common Sense & a Masters Degree in Experience that I granted to myself. Many of these Simple Surgical Masks or Cloth Masks would not stop any pathogens as many do not wear them protectively, maybe as many as half. They have them below their nose, & not fitted at the nose, ears or chin.

Six foot self distancing can not possibly work, based on simple grade school science. Covid-19 is a very small Airborne Respiratory Virus, which means it floats through the air. It will not sit somewhere & wait for you to move through the six feet when you move or even if just standing in 1 place. The air is moving, there are air currents or wind everywhere. Just notice the dust particles floating in the sunlight. Covid-19 Virus is not just hanging in a specific place in your 6 Foot Social Distancing space. It is airborne & floats on the air currents & the wind. It doesn't just jump 6 feet or whatever by another person passing. Then think about this if you are wearing a mask & are protected, why do you have to Social Distance?

One other point, all jobs are essential, you have a right to care for & provide food, shelter & clothing for your family & yourself. This is a basic minimal right for all.
