Barbara Cottom

Barbara Cottom passed away suddenly at the age of 79 on September 20, 2020.

Barbara Jean Morris Cottom was born August 29th, 1941 in a boxcar in Twin Bridges, MT to Myron and Nora (Sullender) Morris.

She attended school in Twin Bridges, graduating from TBHS in 1959 as Salutatorian of her class. In May 1960, Barbara graduated from Butte Business College then immediately went to work for Firestone. Seven months later, the big "strike" hit Butte and her job was terminated. A week later she went to work for Christie Transfer and Storage. On March 17, 1962, Barb married the love of her life, Bob Cottom. They started their married life in Great Falls, MT where Barb was employed in the office of Great Falls Clinic. In March 1965, she and Bob moved back home to Dillon where they welcomed their son, Brad in November. In December 1967, their family was complete when their daughter Brenda was born. Barbara volunteered for the Heart Association and sold Avon while she enjoyed her children. In 1974 when both children had started school, Barbara had an opportunity to go to work for the Montana Power Company. Barb remained there until 1994, when the Dillon office closed.

During this time, Barbara was an avid bowler and was secretary of her league and the city association. She was also involved with the junior bowlers and was the leader of the junior program for 16 years. She was instrumental in forming a traveling league and taking bowlers all over Montana for competitions and state tournaments. Barb was elected into the Bowling Hall of Fame in 2008. She also remained as memorial chairman of the Montana Heart Association for 20 years. Barbara was also an election judge for 25 years.

Her life became complete in 1994 when she "finally" became a grandma. Barb then devoted the rest of her life to her 5 precious grandchildren. She shared in all of their accomplishments, giving them unconditional love and support. She often commented "family is where it is." Barbara enjoyed bowling, gardening, concerts, cowboy poetry, and especially her grandchildren, who always came first in her life.

Barb is survived by her children Brad (Sheila) Cottom and Brenda (Merl) Greenwell and her 5 grandchildren; Kristen, Kevin, Karli Cottom and Rachael and Mitchell (Courtney) Greenwell, her brother and sister-in-law Walter and Helen Morris, brother-in-law and sister-in-law Bill and Dixie Cottom, good friends ("family") Margaret Rauh, Marilyn (George) Parrett. She was preceded in death by her loving husband, Bob Cottom and her parents Myron and Nora Morris.

Per her request, no services are planned. Memorials can be sent to Montana Heart Association.

Letter to the Editor

This letter comes from someone whose only business background rests on having opened the first Nearly New shop on Orr St. in 1979, so although I have some questions, I'm ready to be informed by people knowledgeable in the business field. I've no quarrel with Myrna Caroit, the County Commissioners or anyone else affected by the proposal of two new solar farm projects in Beaverhead County.

I'd like to have some numbers describing how States lure new businesses and start ups. I've not a clue, except what I've read, of what is a reasonable offer to new businesses to relocate. Are the numbers named in Ms. Carpita's letter relatively consistent with what other States offer to bring in business? Is it common practice to offer generous incentives to make executives decide to open in a new area? I think I'm asking, what's the going rate for luring new business in this country? I'd also like to know if there's any wiggle room in Clenera's offer for negotiation? (you can see I'm not a businesswoman.)

To my mind, from a great grandparent celebrating the birth of our 11th great grandchild, I'm wondering what kind of air he'll be able to breathe? Will there be forests left to hunt or recreate in Montana? Will the water be and his family drink be clean enough to drink? I'm told that many indigenous people considered the next generations; this represents honor and foresight. Are we even trying to do that? Are the 'Me First' attitude, 'What's in it for me?' the most vital considerations in the kind of alternate energy planning and funding being done for our children and theirs? Could we consider participating in something bigger and more helpful than just what touches us immediately?

Am I mistaken? Do not investors invest to make money? Did Clenera ever present itself as a charity? Are there not people in our country who benefit from profits earned by investing? Just thinking here, and ready for further input. Thank you.

Val Neeley

Tough Old Coot

Bryce Angell

Marvin and my father were best friends from years way back. They'd both nicknamed each other. Marv was Fred, my father Jack. Well, Fred was late at hunting camp. He'd walked behind his mare. He knew her disposition but so tired he didn't care. The old mare's ears were laid straight back. Fred didn't have time to see. Her kick was swift and made its mark, one inch above his knee.

Fred knew he had a broken leg. He'd felt it snap in two. 'Twas a terrible predicament but knew what he must do.

He wished right then he had his gun to fire a warning shot. The men at camp would find him. He would not be left to rot.

His thoughts were 'bout the old cowboy, bucked off one winter night.

They found him frozen by a tree. Fred vowed, "I'm gonna fight."

And then his memory took him back to when he worked on ship. He'd slipped and fell some thirty feet. He said he'd lost his grip.

Both legs and ankles broken. Doctors said, "You'll never walk." But Fred knew well he'd walk again, ignored that kind of talk.

He started with a wheelchair, then on crutches right away. It wasn't long 'fore he could walk. He beat the odds, you'd say.

So, how could he get on this horse, pain stabbing like a knife. The witch that tried to kill him would now have to save his life.

He tied a splint around his leg and hobbled to a rock. Then grabbed the horn and pulled on up. She didn't even balk.

The darkness made it tough to see. Fred gave the mare her head. He knew she'd find her way to camp. Back home where she'd be fed.

Fred thought about his best friend, Jack, who wouldn't wait too long.

He'd be saddled up, and on the trail, to find out what's gone wrong.

Well, Jack was waiting there at camp and worried 'bout his friend.

They'd been best friends for all their lives. Now was Fred at his end?

Fred thought he smelled the campfire smoke, then saw a flashlight glare. The mare had brought him back to camp. He wondered,

"Are we square?"

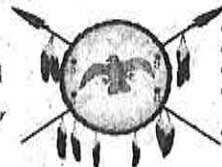

When Fred rode up Jack hollered out, "You dang old worn out boot!

Two hours late, a broken leg. You're sure one tough old coot!"

Well, Fred was laid up six long months. He said it felt like ten. But not a soul could keep him down. Fred up and walked again.

FAILURE TO YIELD

By "Swede" Troedsson

In mid-April, 2020, I bumped into Adrian Stokes in the Safeway checkout line. In mid-September, 1972, Adrian was part of a Union Pacific Railroad maintenance crew that was involved in a collision when a "highrail" (a Jeep Wagoneer on railroad wheels) slammed into their motorcar (commonly called a "speeder"). I, and another EMT, responded to the ambulance request, and helped rescue Adrian and two of his crew. Adrian recalled the accident, "like it happened yesterday." (He is the only one of the crew who is alive today.)

The accident happened on a rainy afternoon, on tracks just east of the High Bridge, about one mile north of Clark Canyon Reservoir. According to Adrian, it was later determined that the high rail, carrying three railroad executives from Pocatello, ID, was doing about 70 mph when it came around a bend and slammed into the motor car. The foreman, Marion Hungate, had time to jump out of the motorcar before it was impacted by the high rail. The other three men in the motor car were trapped inside by side covers that had been installed to keep the rain out. The motor car burst into flames as it was driven backwards.

None of the executives were injured. The maintenance men were dressed in heavy insulated coveralls, which complicated my patient exams. After cutting through the coveralls, I determined Stan Smith had a shattered forearm. Bill Wallace was paralyzed from the waist down. Adrian told me he had burns of the face, head, and left arm. He also had a fractured pelvis, a shattered leg, and fractured vertebrae in his neck and back. The foreman was limping around on a sprained ankle.

After administering first aid, we enlisted the help of Montana Highway Patrolman Lorn Anderson, and the executives, to carry the three badly injured men for over ½ mile to the ambulance. We had to stack two of the injured in the back of the ambulance.

When we arrived at Barrett Hospital, Dr. Seidensticker took one look into the back of the ambulance, and instructed us to just keep driving to St James Hospital in Butte.

When we got to just north of Feeley Hill, a valve lifter in the engine came loose. Adrian, in the patient compartment, told me he heard the racket, and thought "Good Lord, what else can go wrong?" We clanked the last 15 miles to St James hospital.

After delivering the patients to the hospital, we had the engine checked by a local mechanic. He said we could make it back to Dillon. So we clanked our way back to Dillon.

VFW Scholarship Raffle Winners

The drawing for the winners of the annual VFW Post 9040 Scholarship Raffle took place on Friday, September 4, at the KDBM/KBEV radio studio. Raffle winners were Keith Johnson, Kathy Smith, Bill Allen, Jodie Jolly, Ruby Harvey, Steve Esquibel, Evelyn Johnson, and Hillary Salmonsens.

VFW Post members would like to give a special thanks to all of the area businesses, Bitterroot Trading Post, Jason Ward/Riverbend Ranch, Standard Lumber/Ace Hardware, Murdoch's Ranch and Home Supply, R.E. Miller & Sons, Town and Country Foods, Triple Crown Nutrition, Inc, and PJ Mahoney for their generous donations of prizes. Thanks also go out to The Bookstore, 3-D, and Womack's Printing for helping sell raffle tickets at their businesses. Lee Pelletier and KDBM/KBEV were also extremely helpful in advertising the raffle throughout the summer and for allowing the VFW to hold the raffle drawing on air at the radio station this year.

The VFW would also like to thank all of the individuals in the community who bought tickets for the raffle, and made this a successful scholarship fund raising event despite challenges that the current pandemic situation has presented. Your support will allow us to continue to provide scholarships to two graduating seniors from Beaverhead County High School, awards to outstanding graduates from the Montana Youth Challenge Program, and the various other programs in the local schools that we are involved in. We hope that everyone will continue to support this event in the future, and wish you better luck next year.

UMW TRIO Student Support Services Welcomes New Students

TRIO Student Support Services welcomed 25 incoming first-year students to campus for the TRIO Accelerator program at the beginning of the fall semester. This is the second year the successful program has been offered at Montana Western.

Students qualify for the TRIO program if they are first-generation college students, have a disability or fall below a certain income level. With new TRIO students moving in a day earlier than most freshmen, it gave these students the chance to learn about the expectations of the TRIO program and to meet their TRIO advisors, mentors, pick up their books, locate their classrooms and register for financial literacy courses before their first day of classes.

"The programs and activities new TRIO students participate in before classes help to alleviate a lot of anxiety they may be feeling. This is a new experience for the students so having some help to guide them through it is really beneficial," said TRIO academic advisor, Gloria Janus.

TRIO students also had the opportunity to take a financial literacy course, test their knowledge, and get information about loans, grants, refunds and credit scores. One of the most significant challenges that incoming students face is understanding their financial aid packages and how to make smart decisions about the types of loans they accept.

Even with the difficulties that the pandemic brought, it didn't stop UMW's TRIO Office from planning fun, engaging, but most importantly, safe activities for the new students to get to know some of their new classmates and get them ready for the school year.

One of these activities was an introduction to Zoom, the online virtual meeting platform used for classes and group projects. TRIO also held a faculty Q&A session where students could ask a panel of Montana Western professors any questions they had about taking a college course.

"Everyone in the TRIO program has been so supportive. When I first got to campus I was a little nervous because I didn't know what to expect being a new college student. The TRIO staff and mentors really put my mind at ease by answering all my questions and getting me prepared for the first day of classes," said new TRIO student, Raquel Little Eagle.

The staff and students who participated in the Accelerator program would like to thank the donors who help make the program possible. The Bank of Commerce supports the Accelerator program and Barretts Minerals sponsors the TRIO mentor and team activities that are held throughout the academic year.

The Montana Western TRIO Student Support Services grant was recently renewed for another five years of funding, ensuring that the program will continue to serve UMW students.

The 2020 Census deadline

The 2020 Census deadline is right around the corner on September 30 and we want to make sure you get counted!

The Census ensures that we have accurate resources for the programs Montanans depend on. Montana receives nearly $3 billion because of an accurate count to affordable housing, nutrition assistance, education, health services, and so much more. Even just a 1% undercount could cost Montana nearly $300 million for these critical services over the next decade.

Not only that, but our democracy depends on an accurate Census count. Both federal and state redistricting is determined by the Census and because of our population growth we stand to gain an additional Congressional seat.

The Census is convenient, private, and required by the constitution. 2020 is the first year that the US Census will be collected online. The Census will never ask for your bank account, social security, or credit card number and your personal information will not be shared outside of the U.S. Census Bureau.

For more information & to fill out the 2020 Census, visit my2020census.gov.
