Montana Western's visiting writer series "Dances With Words" that will be renamed in Weltzien's honor.

Weltzien will be releasing a new book at the end of September titled "Savage West: The Life and Fiction of Thomas Savage." "Savage West" is a biography about the author Thomas Savage. Savage is a novelist from Montana that published 13 books over a 44-year period. He is most well-known for his westerns, but is often overlooked in the conversation as one of the best authors to come from Montana.

"This is a literary biography of one of the best and most neglected writers from Montana. Savage never had the audience he should have, and I hope this book will help return him to the reputation he deserves," Weltzien said.

Weltzien first became familiar with Savage about 20 years ago. Since then, Weltzien has published multiple articles about Savage's work and even oversaw the republication of Savage's first two books, "The Pass" (2009) and "Lona Hanson" (2011). Weltzien has taught three of Savage's novels in his English courses at UMW and has led many classes and local groups on tours of what Weltzien calls "Thomas Savage country," which stretches from Dillon to Horse Prairie and Bannock Pass, to Leadore, Lemhi, and Salmon, ID.

"I've spent the past three years steadily working on the book, which is my homage to Savage and southwest Montana. He's easily the best writer from our remote corner of the United States, and his best novels, which I've taught for years, are compelling reads," Weltzien said.

Savage's most famous book, "The Power of the Dog," (1967) has been optioned as a film backed by Netflix and scheduled to be released in 2021. Weltzien and his wife, Lynn, had the opportunity to host the Director of the film Jane Campion (New Zealand) and Executive Producer Tanya Seghatchian (London) at their home in Dillon to share their knowledge and history of Savage.

"Campion, an internationally acclaimed director, will do more to re-awaken interest in Savage than my biography. But I'm proud of the book for many reasons because it honors a writer who always gained fantastic critical reviews but garnered poor sales. He should occupy a big place on Montana's crowded literary map," Weltzien stated.

When precautions for COVID-19 slow down, Weltzien hopes to host a local book launch for Savage and tour the book in the Montana indie book stores. The publication will be available on Amazon and at The Bookstore in Dillon when released this September.

In retirement, Weltzien will to continue writing and hopes to publish his fourth poetry collection in the near future. He will carry on with his passion for traveling with his wife, Lynn.

For more information about "Savage West: The Life and Fiction of Thomas Savage", you can email the author at alan.weltzien@umwestern.edu.

The 2020 Census deadline

The 2020 Census deadline is right around the corner on September 30 and we want to make sure you get counted!

The Census ensures that we have accurate resources for the programs Montanans depend on. Montana receives nearly $3 billion because of an accurate count to affordable housing, nutrition assistance, education, health services, and so much more. Even just a 1% undercount could cost Montana nearly $300 million for these critical services over the next decade.

Not only that, but our democracy depends on an accurate Census count. Both federal and state redistricting is determined by the Census and because of our population growth we stand to gain an additional Congressional seat.

The Census is convenient, private, and required by the constitution. 2020 is the first year that the US Census will be collected online. The Census will never ask for your bank account, social security, or credit card number and your personal information will not be shared outside of the U.S. Census Bureau.

For more information & to fill out the 2020 Census, visit my2020census.gov.

Southwest Montana Veteran's Home Update #69

By Mike Lawson

Greeting once again to you, the Veterans/Counties/Communities of SW MT who are the organizers and supporters of the SW MT Veteran's Home.

So many pieces of our Veterans Home are so close to coming together, on this march to get this complex of the 5 Resident Cottages, the Community Center and other lesser status building completed by the end of 2020. Getting the gas brought in by Northwest Energy as well as getting the electricity turned on, is crucial at this phase of the construction. In fairness to Northwestern, they have only so many folks that can do these hook-ups. This is the season that a lot of construction is taking place who's contractors need NW's services. Everyone is on a waiting list and our Vet Home is close, for their arrival. When I was in the "Viewing Hooch" I was able to see the the Locater marking lines on the ground outside the gate as well as inside up through the driveway, etc. These paint lines identify where the underground water/sewer/storm drain lines as well as electric cables are buried. This is a good indication that Northwestern Energy is on tract to be on site, this week. Site Superintendent Mike Ascherman was assured they would be here on Monday of this week and hopefully turned on by Friday, Getting the gas and electricity turned on, once North Western gets their installation work done, is going to be huge in propelling forward progress to making our Vet Home Site complete. As always Mike Ascherman and John Kotka gave me great Info on what has happened this past week and what is expected to happen this week. Mark Gollinger and I had a great walk-through, last Thursday, of all the Cottages and the Community Center. We always leave feeling the upbeat of the seeable progress that has taken place.

Construction Updates:

Community Center;— Interior: The flooring is on hold until the heat is hooked -up and turned on. The Plumbers have the sinks, urinal installed with most of the fixtures for them also installed. Most of the missing door hardware arrived and was installed. Once the gas/electricity is into this building and turned on, the finish work will move quickly.

Exterior: The siding is close to being wrapped up and looks good. The two patios and the back of the building sidewalks are prepped and ready for the cement finishers to make cement pours.

Cottage #1;—Interior: Everything is happening in this building, concerning finish work. The tile guys are about done with the tile grouting, John Kotka's guys have the door trim mostly done and the beauty of this trim really adds an accent to both inside and outside of all the rooms. His guys also installed the bathroom accessories which includes the grab bars in the showers and toilet areas, the towel bar/rings, the fold down grab bars on each side of the toilets and the soap dispensers. These are all stainless steel and really look striking, mounted on the tile walls. The Crown Molding on the Coffered Ceiling adds to the beauty in the living room. John also said that his guys have all the pantry shelves installed. Custom Cabinets, out of Great Falls, has been installing counter tops on the cabinets as well as starting to put the Corian Lunch Counter Top on. This surrounds three sides of the kitchen area. These three wall sides are about four feet high and if the residents want to, they will have the option of eating at this counter top. In the next week or so, this Cottage will be ready for the floor layers.

Exterior: The Carpenters have the outside entry column posts trimmed out. The cement finishers are starting to get their forms built for some of the three foot sidewalks going from the Cottage to the five foot sidewalk running along the curb.

Cottage #2:—Interior: The taping/mud process is ongoing. Plumbers were working here for a short time but the other cottage work was taking most of their time. The Electricians were working on Cam Lights.

Exterior: The Carpenters were framing the entryway column posts and handrail. The siders have a little bit of fascia left but the rest of the siding is done.

Cottage #3:—Interior: The Carpenters moved into this cottage and are setting doors. The FRP paneling is completely installed. The painters were scheduled to paint the inside of this cottage this past week-end. The Sheetrock Tapers had some fire taping to finish up. The Sheetmetal guys and Plumbers were in and out doing their prospective work.

Exterior: This was a siders show. The siding is coming along nicely, as Mike Aschman puts it. It is looking good.

Cottage #4:—Interior: The sheetrock is ready to be taped. Fire-taping is done. The FRP Paneling is all installed. The metal attic access latter in the janitors room is installed. Plumbers working on their piping and the Sheetmetal guys working on the HVAC System, were doing their ongoing work. The insulation of the mechanical components is ongoing. This building is coming together.

Exterior: The siders are working on the trim. Becker Landscaping, is on the job and is starting to lay the sprinkler lines around this building.

Cottage #5:—Interior: The Electricians, Plumbers and to
