LET'S HELP SLOW THE SPREAD OF COVID IN THIS COMMUNITY: CHANGES IN UNIVERSITY OPERATIONS FOR THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 5.

On October 2, Beaverhead County Public Health reported 51 active COVID cases. Less than half of those appear to be university-related. BCPH updates university-related case numbers on Monday.

Montana Western is very concerned about these escalating numbers. We are working together with local and state Public Health and other agencies to increase our mitigation and response efforts even further. It appears that gatherings of all kinds (weddings, church services, banquets, parties, even smaller social gatherings) where distancing and mask-wearing are not practiced are the biggest causes of this increase. Health officials are still seeing cases that appear to have resulted from Labor Day weekend activities here and elsewhere.

The only way for this community to slow the spread of the virus, short of a return to Phase 1, is for these gatherings and lack of distancing and masking in any setting, large or small, to stop. Not forever. For now, until we slow the spread.

Montana Western urges everyone to take precautions for the good of all. Our students continually interact with the community: at work, in shops and restaurants, and churches, and in so many other settings. It is clear that this health crisis belongs to all of us: university and community. We can only solve it together.

For our part, we are going to be increasing our efforts and make adjustments to our operations in a number of ways, re-evaluating them each week. These numbers constantly shift, but today, in addition to those who have tested positive, we have approximately 44 students quarantined in their off-campus housing and 15 quarantined in on-campus quarantine rooms. This is because they are either symptomatic and awaiting testing and test results or were close contacts to a positive case.

OUR PLAN TO SLOW THE SPREAD:

Testing will increase in a number of ways this week. Working with Public and Community Health, more hours and more tests will be available. (Details to come.) We have also located new technology from the state and will conduct rapid antigen testing, and have testing available on campus.

The following adjustments in operations are in effect for the rest of Block 2, from October 5 through October 13, and will be re-evaluated each week.

Class delivery methods: Those courses that are being delivered face-to-face may remain so. We have little evidence that face-to-face classes that are following COVID protocols are contributing in any significant way to the spread of the virus. Of the seventy courses being offered this semester, approximately thirty are face-to-face and may remain so, at the discretion of the instructor in consultation with the division chair and notification of the provost. Strict distancing and masking must continue in every class.

Meetings should be held by conference call or Zoom, not face-to-face.

Events, extra-curricular activities, and gatherings, other than classes, must not include more than 10 people. Masks and social distancing are required. Please move these activities outdoors when possible.

Spirit Week will be rescheduled for Block 3.

Virtual events are encouraged.

Athletics practices are suspended.

Facilities: The BARC and the Garage Gym will be closed for the rest of Block 2.

Use of other facilities is being evaluated. In ALL facilities, strict social distancing and mask-wearing must be practiced.

Outdoor exercise and workouts are encouraged, but not in groups of more than 10. Physical distancing is still required and masks are required if distancing cannot be maintained.

Staff members are to stagger shifts, using teleworking agreements, where possible. Please work with your supervisors.

Students who work, either on- or off-campus absolutely must not attend work if sick or are awaiting test results.

Quarantine and isolation rules violations as well as unauthorized gatherings and parties, on- or off-campus, of which we are made aware will result in discipline, which could include suspension or expulsion as they are violations of the student code of conduct.

We are all tired of this pandemic and all of the restrictions it requires. The only way to move past it is to fight it in the only ways we know how: with masks, with distance, with good hygiene, with patience and the knowledge that we can only fight this as a community, with care and respect.

As they say in the Montana Youth Challenge Academy: Stay in the fight!

Aunt Bonnie Bryce Angell

Aunt Bonnie lived at Henry's Lake when she was twelve years old. It seemed the north wind always kept the lake a freezing cold. Well Bonnie loved to go to school but didn't like Miss Glass. Miss Glass was quite a portly gal and ate while teaching class. Miss Glass was not a fisherman but liked to eat fresh fish. She liked the fish from Henry's Lake. They were her favorite dish. One day Miss Glass asked Bonnie, "Sure would like some rainbow trout?" She said, "It's been the longest year of fish I've gone without." Well Bonnie said, "I'll help you 'cuz we live right by the lake. I'll show you how to catch some fish. It'll be a piece of cake." Right after school Miss Glass and Bonnie walked down to the boat. But Bonnie noticed that Miss Glass had on her long wool coat. Bonnie said, "A long wool coat is warm out in the snow. But way out here on Henry's Lake, there's something you should know. "Your fur will soak up water, then you won't stay up and float. Don't ever fish while standing. You'll be swimming with cutthroat." Miss Glass said, "I'm a swimmer," then she shot a nasty look. "Your job will be to row the boat. Make sure you bait my hook!" Each time Miss Glass cast out her line she stood up in the craft. Bonnie hollered, "Better sit. This ain't a floating raft!" The next time Bonnie saw her stand the boat just tipped a bit. Miss Glass went in the water. Bonnie said, "She didn't sit." Then Bonnie handed her an oar, but couldn't pull her in. She tied the teacher to the boat and couldn't help but grin. She rowed the boat back to the shore. Miss Glass was now in tow. Henry's Lake was freezing, must have felt like ten below. Well Bonnie helped the teacher warm up by the fireplace. And Grandpa Angell mused, "I see you put her in her place." The next day Grandma Angell asked, "How is Miss Glass today?" Then Bonnie answered with a smile. "Miss Glass has moved away!"

Another temporary closure scheduled for Gallatin River near Nixon Bridge

A small section of the Gallatin River will be closed to recreationists this week during a phase of construction on Nixon Bridge, just north of Manhattan.

The closure will be in effect Oct. 7 and 8, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day. The closure includes the section of the Gallatin River immediately surrounding Nixon Bridge, as well as Nixon Gulch Road.

During this time, construction crews will lift and set the 122-foot-long concrete beams from the transport vehicles. Beams for the north bridge span will be set during this time. Motorists and recreationists are advised to avoid this area during the closure.

For more information about this project, contact the project engineers with Stahly Engineering, Kathy Thompson or Nate Peressini, at 406-522-8594.

MENTAL HEALTH ADVOCACY PANEL IN DILLON

Details and insights on how to be an effective mental health advocate is the focus of "SPEAK UP", a statewide panel of Montana experts on Friday, October 9th between Noon to 2 p.m. on a ZOOM conference call (<https://zoom.us/j/99201976688>). It is open to the public and hosted by the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council. The ZOOM link is also available on the Beaverhead County home page: <https://beaverheadcounty.org/>

Panel members include: DPHHS Addictive and Mental Disorders Division Administrator Zoe Barnard, Montana Chapter National Association of Mental Illness (NAMI) Executive Director Matt Kuntz, Montana Budget and Policy Council Co-Director Heather O'Laughlin, MT Behavioral Health Alliance Director Mary Windecker, and local Dillon Assistant Police Chief Jeremy Alvarez.

Each panelist will discuss their area of expertise on the status of the state's current mental health programs, strengths and gaps in service, the impact of slashed mental health services in 2018-19 on some of the state's most vulnerable citizens in rural areas, i.e. Beaverhead County, and offer insights into how effective advocacy and mental health programs' support is needed in the upcoming 2021 state Legislative Session.

Pat Jensen Promoted to Associate Head Coach

The University of Montana Western head men's basketball coach Mike Larsen has announced that Patrick Jensen, who served as an assistant on Larsen's staff for the past two seasons has been promoted to associate head coach.

Jensen has been an integral part of the rebuilding process of the Bulldogs men's basketball program. Over the last two years, he has had his hand in all aspects of the program including player development, recruiting, scouting, and game planning.

"Coach Jensen has been a huge part of our programs development over the past couple of years," head coach Mike Larsen said. "His work ethic and the development of our players makes him very deserving of this title."

A native of Missoula, Mont. Jensen earned all-state honors at Missoula Loyola High School. Collegiately he was a part of two regular and postseason Frontier Conference Championships at MSU-Northern. He made four trips to the NAIA National Tournament and was a three-time NAIA Daktronics Scholar-Athlete (Academic All-American).

"I'm very honored and thankful to Bill Wilson and Coach Larsen for this promotion and opportunity," Jensen said. "I work with an amazing coach and even better person in Coach Larsen and I'm very excited to continue building this program with him."

Prior to UMW, he spent three seasons with Idaho State University. Two years as a graduate assistant, and the 2017-18 season as Director of Player Development. As part of his duties at ISU, Jensen facilitated on court workouts with guards and forwards, opponent scouting reports, and analytics.

For the latest on Montana Western Athletics, follow the Bulldogs on social media on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.

- Increases depression, anxiety and difficulty with problem solving
- Is connected to a user being 8 x more likely to use other drugs
- Contributes to 1 in 6 youth becoming addicted
- Increases youth thoughts of suicide by 50% and triples (3x) suicide attempts compared to non-users
