Attorney General Fox Urges Congress to Adopt New Consumer Protections for Airline Customers

A bipartisan coalition of 40 attorneys general sent a letter yesterday urging Congress to enact new consumer protection measures for airline industry customers, whether as part of a financial relief package, or in separate legislation, as soon as possible.

America's passenger and cargo airline industry received nearly $60 billion in federal stimulus funding through the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act. Congress is currently considering extending federal support by another six months and granting the industry an additional $28 billion in payroll support. In enacting the CARES Act, Congress included several taxpayer protections connected to federal stimulus funds received airline industry. Since passage of the CARES Act, however, the attorneys general note that consumers continue to experience issues with certain airlines. Consumer complaints include failure to expeditiously refund customers, as required by law, when flights were cancelled or significantly delayed; failure to provide customers a means to promptly redeem vouchers or credits; and failure to provide a reliable way for customers to resolve such problems.

"These issues resulted in consumers losing thousands of dollars in flight credits, which is particularly disturbing considering airlines benefited from taxpayer-funded federal relief payments and loans," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "While we recognize the importance of protecting the industry and its employees during this difficult time, my attorneys general colleagues and I also believe that doing so is compatible with protecting consumers. If there's not enough time or the ability to include critical consumer protections as part of the enacted relief measures, then Congress should act to do so in subsequent legislation as soon as possible," Fox added.

In a letter to House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, and Senate Minority Leader Charles Schumer, Fox and his colleagues called on Congress to enact the following consumer protections, either in conjunction with additional financial support to prevent airline industry layoffs and furloughs or as soon as possible thereafter:

- Requiring carriers that receive federal financial relief to provide full refunds to customers who voluntarily cancel their flight reservations for reasons related to COVID-19;
- Strengthening existing laws requiring refunds for flight cancellations to be remitted in full and according to federal law, and preventing delays in the issuance of refunds or expirations that effectively cancel the value reimbursed; and

- Authorizing state attorneys general to enforce federal airline consumer protection laws, thereby broadening consumer violation enforcement beyond a single federal agency.

Finally, the coalition requests that if attorneys general are not provided dual consumer enforcement authority, that the federal government provide a more transparent and robust consumer complaint process. In particular, the attorneys general request authority for the consumer complaint investigation process be removed from the U.S. Department of Transportation and moved to a more consumer protection focused agency, such as the U.S. Department of Justice or the Federal Trade Commission.

With the backing of 40 attorneys general, the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG) endorsed the letter as one of its official policy positions. Historically, NAAG endorses fewer than one dozen policies annually.

FWP needs your help in managing and monitoring CWD

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks needs your help in managing and monitoring Chronic Wasting Disease. CWD is a fatal disease of deer, elk, and moose that was first found in wild deer in Montana in 2017.

This year FWP will continue CWD surveillance in specific areas known as Priority Surveillance Areas in northwest, southwest and eastern Montana. Hunters who harvest a deer, elk or moose in these areas are asked to voluntarily submit their animal for sampling to help gather additional data for that area. This information will be used to help inform the best management strategies for the affected hunting districts.

FWP is paying for the testing of samples and can help hunters get their deer, elk, or moose tested. Hunters can take the samples themselves, fill out the online hunter submission form available on our website and mail them to our Wildlife Health Lab in Bozeman. Hunters also can bring the animal (or head) to a CWD Sampling Station or to most FWP offices. If you intend to donate your deer, elk, or moose to a food bank, FWP strongly recommends that it be sampled for CWD testing beforehand. Due to the COVID pandemic, staff presence in FWP offices can vary as many continue to work remotely. Not all FWP offices can offer help with sampling, so please call ahead to check on availability and to ensure your visit is timely, quick and smooth. Also, please come prepared to wear a mask, as required by Gov. Steve Bullock's directives, should social distancing be difficult to achieve. FWP staff will be wearing a mask as well.

Also new this year is a requirement for proper disposal of all carcasses and parts in a Class II landfill. This required disposal replaces in-state transport restrictions that were previously in place. A carcass may be moved anywhere in the state regardless of where it was harvested as long as the carcass parts are disposed of in a Class II landfill after butchering/processing. Carcass parts, such as brain, eyes, spleen, lymph glands, and spinal cord material, must be bagged and disposed of in a Class II landfill or may be left at the kill site. Dumping carcasses in other places is illegal, unethical and can spread diseases, including CWD. We now know the disease is present across much of the state. This new disposal requirement applies to all deer, elk, and moose carcasses wherever in the state they are harvested by hunters or as vehicle-killed salvage.

If left unmanaged, CWD will spread. As infection rates increase, it can have a significant impact on our wildlife and those, like yourself, who hunt them. Thank you for your help as we fight CWD together.

For more information, please contact your local FWP office or visit fwp.mt.gov/cwd, where you can find a wealth of information, including how to take your own samples, FWP sample collection locations and hours of operation, maps of our Priority Surveillance Areas and Class II landfills.

Southwest Montana Veteran's Home Update #71

By Mike Lawson

Greetings once again to you, the Veterans/Counties/Communities of SW MT who are the organizers and supporters of the SW MT Veteran's Home.

It is the 3rd of October, 2020 as I am writing this. The news of our President, the First Lady and many of his staff, getting Coronavirus was a shock to America and points to the fact that any of us can get it, no matter who we are. Wearing masks and social distancing is now at the fore-front of what we can do, to help prevent us getting it or giving it to one another. Hopefully, we will follow these safety guidelines for the sake of each other and especially the elderly family members, we so dearly love. Our prayers go out to the President and all of our people, across this great land we call America, who have this terrible Covid-19. For the love of your families and neighbors, please be safe for them, as well as yourself.

Our SW MT Vet Home Is at the point that one sub-contractor getting their part done, so the next sub-contractor can move in and do their part, is critical. There's been some hick-ups (delays) which has caused some stoppages, which really affect the completion date for a particular building. Some of these are caused by getting material delivered late, or having material having to be back-ordered, due to this Covid-19 situation the country is experiencing. Some is caused by contractors such as the NW Power not being able to get on the job-site to get the gas lines installed to the buildings, early enough. The floor-layers, sheet rockers, tile-layers and painters need heat for the installation processes they do, especially now that fall is here and the temperatures are dropping. Another issue was the electricians getting pulled off the job, for a week, to finish another job, their contractor was committed to finish. The tile-layers were pulled off this job, for about a week, to tile a job in LoLo that their contractor was committed to get done. These are all things that the General Contractor is faced with and tries to head off, before it really nails them in the rear end. All these things have a certain amount of legitimacy to them, for a lot of reasons, but as things are coming together, for the different finishing aspects, of this our Vet Home, it can be a nail biter. Cory Markovich and his Construction Site Superintendent Mike Ascherman are working through these issues and coordinating, to have smoother work transitions between the sub-contractors take place, in getting the finish work done on time. Liaison Mark Gollinger and I did a walk-through and, in spite of everything, saw some neat finishing touches, especially work done by General Foreman John Kotka's Carpenters. Mike Ascherman and John Kotka gave me a good run down on what happened this past week and what's expected to be accomplished the week we're in. A lot of outside site work happening, that I'll mention later in this article.

Construction Updates:

Community Center:— Interior: Electricians are working on hooking up the Mechanical Systems, which will enable the heating systems to be fired up once the gas is hooked into the building. This should be happening at the end of this week. Once the electricians are finished, then the acoustical ceiling tiles can be installed in the t-bar ceiling metal framework. John said this will be a relatively quick process. On our walk-through we visited with the floor-layers who just came back on the job and are laying carpet/floor-tiles. John was able to get them some temporary heat, in the one section of the building they're working in. The Plumbers are waiting for some back-ordered sinks to come in, so they can finish hooking up the bathroom utilities.

Exterior: The gas line is tied to the building but not hooked up. Expected to be at the end of this week. The curb and 5' sidewalk, coming to and going away from this building is mostly poured. A handicapped cement parking section, close to the entrance was poured. Some 3' sections of sidewalk going from the building to the 5' sidewalk/curb section have yet to be formed and poured.

Cottage #1:— Interior: Walking through this Cottage is a treat, in seeing so many of the finishing processes being completed or very close to being completed. One of these is seeing most of the toilets and sinks installed in the west resident wing. The only thing not completing these bathrooms is the overhead man-lift rail going from where the resident bed will be, into the bathroom, where it can split to either the shower or to the toilet. ARJO will probably be on site with-in the next few weeks to complete, this installation. The Plumbers also were doing trim-out work. The Fire Sprinklers are all trimmed out. The carpenters are waiting on three doors/hardware to come in, to install, as well as insulation strips and door-seals. These can't be done until the cement-finishers get the 3' sidewalks, from the exterior doors to the curb and 5' sidewalk, formed and poured. The electricians are busy hooking up power to all the mechanical systems, so when both the gas and electricity are turned on, the electrical/heating systems can be fired up. The present plan is for this to be done in both the Community Center and Cottage #1, by a "speciality outfit" out of Missoula, during the week of October 12th. The gas line is to the building and should be hooked into the building gas system, by the close of this week. Once the heating is in place, the floor-layers can then, lay their flooring. The tile work is complete in all the resident rooms but they still need to lay tile around the fireplace and kitchen back-splash area.

Exterior: The outside entry-way columns were sided and the outside handrail connecting these columns was installed.

Cottage #2:— Interior: Attic insulation installed. The Plumber's were working on the heating zones/rough-in. Sheetrock taping will be in full force this week, with painting to follow. John's carpenters will be ready to move into this Cottage, next week, so it's important these two processes get completed by then, to prevent a hold-up in them moving in.

Exterior: Siding Crew were wrapping the Entry-Way Columns.

Cottage #3:— Interior: The Carpenters really shined in getting so much finish work done in this Cottage. The Coffered Ceiling Crown Molding was completed. Most of the doors were hung, trimmed out, with the hardware installed. Most of the window casing and trim was completed. Fireplace trimmed out. Two Panic doors and enclosures installed as well as Fire-doors/closures for the Janitor, Electrical and Dryer Rooms. The cabinet crew out of Great Falls will be installing Counter Tops this week. The fire sprinkler system was trimmed out and the attic insulation completed.

Cottage #4:— Interior: The sheetmetal folks were tying in their louvers/directional controls from their ductwork to the HVAC Systems. The Mechanical insulation is also in progress. The drywall taping and metal ceiling framing has started.

Exterior: The siding process continues and is looking very good.

Cottage #6:—Interior: Electricians are installing a lot of conduit and electrical boxes as part of their rough-in work. The Plumbers are running copper pipe to the bathrooms as well as waste and sewer PVC plastic drain pipe. As more of the work gets done in the other Cottages, more of the work-force will be assigned to this location.

Exterior: Nothing

Outside Site Work: This work is very visible for any of you to drive by and see from your vehicles or from the "Viewing Hooch". The NW gas crews were busy getting the gas line ditches dug and then getting the yellow-gas-lines buried. On the Southside of the Vet Home site, a main gas line was run from Blacktail Loop Road, on up in front of Cottage #1, #2, #3, #4 and #5. A gas line for each of the Cottages was tied into this main gas line and then tied into each building. Another main gas line was run, from the Blacktail Loop Rd., on the Northside of the Vet Home site, up in front of the Community Center Building to the Electrical Vault Building area. A gas line will be connected from this main line to the Community Center and the Maintenance Building. The hope is to see the gas connected/turned-on into this CC building and Cottage #1, by next week, so the start-up folk can do their magic in making these buildings fully functional. The gas termination tie-ins, located underneath Blacktail Loop Road will be tied in, once the road is dug up for that to take place. Another neat twist in our Vet Home story is that the Butte Silver Bow Road Department is widening the road from Highland View Drive to our Vet Home site. They have already widened and rolled gravel on the sides with the expectation of paving it once the aforementioned gas-lines are tied in and the compaction-bury process is complete. Zemljak Excavating continues to be all over this site doing various jobs. The storm drain catch-basin looks to be mostly complete. He continues to do prep-work for the cement finishers sidewalks and doing the gravel prep-work for "Hoffman Construction" to lay asphalt, which they did pave about half of the paving on Saturday.

The Southwest Montana Veteran Foundation Meeting will have taken place on Monday and the Governor will tour the Vet Home site on Thursday, with myself being the tour guide. This place is impressive and really sells itself.

I'll leave you for now with a please be careful and follow the mask and distance guidelines for yourself and those around you. Our numbers are really going up which is more then frightening. Until next time. Take Care
