Men Don't Listen

Bryce Angell

My wife suggested taking down our brand-new teepee tent. Our grandkids used it every day. The cost was dang well spent. But the know-it-all that I've become said, "Leave it for a while." You should have seen the look she gave, a slightly, "We'll see," smile. Why do men seldom listen to a good wife's sound advice? Are we afraid we might be called brow-beaten, hen-pecked mice? One thing I've learned for certain and doggone it sure does bite. The words that she dispenses me are darn near always right. It must have been a day or two the wind began to blow. I'd say it blew almost Mach II. I'd soon be eating crow. I made a dash toward the tent. The wind blew at my tail. My feet were taking lift off! Turned my coat into a sail! The tent was flapping like a flock of cackling, angry geese. And the rain had soaked our teepee 'bout as slippery as pig grease. In vain attempts I tried to hold the teepee down in place. But the rain drenched cloth was slick and wet. I tumbled to my face. Then all at once a chunk of tent tore off and took to air. Our brand-new teepee tent was doomed. My life was in despair. I watched in abject horror while our tent was blown to shreds. And once again I'd call myself the dumbest of eggheads. My wife was calm, said not a word still, "Told you so," rang loud! I'd have to swear I walked that day beneath the blackest cloud. My good sense tends to tell me, "Have you learned your lesson yet?" But it takes a heap of changing so it sure ain't worth a bet. Are we really all that stubborn or do men have too much pride? And will I learn to listen 'fore I reach the other side?

Scott Rigdon, MPH, DNAP, CRNA, NSPM-C is Board Certified in Anesthesia and Non-Surgical Pain

Management and will be joined by Kenny-Joe (KJ) Wallen, DNP, CRNA. Scott Rigdon received a Doctor of Nurse Anesthesia Practice from Midwestern University in Glendale, Arizona in 2020, and a Master of Science in Nursing from the same university in 2008. He earned a Master of Public Health from Portland State University in Portland, Oregon in 2002 and is proficient in providing non-surgical pain management (NSPM) clinical services through a variety of interventional therapies. These latest advancements in therapies oftentimes help patients avoid major surgery, long-term medication management and provide relief from debilitating pain.

Scott is passionate about helping patients experience relief from pain and improving their quality of life. He addresses patients' needs on an individual basis, assessing lifestyle and incorporating a combination of therapies with a holistic approach, treating the whole person.

"KJ and I are pleased and proud to be working with Barrett Hospital & HealthCare to provide comprehensive non-surgical pain management clinical services with the utmost care and compassion," said Scott Rigdon. "By aligning our proficiency and more than 12 years of diverse experience with the impressive facility and medical infrastructure of Barrett Hospital & HealthCare, we are now able to provide local non-surgical pain management care to Beaverhead County residents and the surrounding communities."

Greg Moore, M.D., Chief Medical Officer, said the ongoing opioid crisis has created a need for the kind of high-quality treatment of chronic pain that patients will receive at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare's non-surgical pain management department.

"At a time when more and more Americans suffer from chronic pain, even more than the number of people suffering from diabetes, cancer, stroke, and heart disease combined, this is a perfect time for Barrett Hospital & HealthCare to invest in non-surgical pain management services," Moore said. "The providers at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare are excited about our partnership with Scott Rigdon and Kenny-Joe Wallen. It enables us to introduce other forms of pain therapy as first-line options in the effort to provide safe, effective pain management that is fresh and new, which should create positive patient outcomes to the members of the community."

To schedule an initial pain management consult with Scott Rigdon, please call 406-683-1188 or visit <https://www.barrethospital.org/pain-management> for more information.

Letter to the Editor

We are currently experiencing a surge in Covid19 cases and hospitalizations across the state of Montana as well as in Beaverhead County. The number of cases currently are much higher than anything we have seen previously.

We in public health are very concerned about the patterns we are seeing. Typically a rise in case numbers is followed by an increase in hospitalizations and deaths.

Our local health department and medical professionals have expanded our testing and contact tracing capability, but these continue to be stressed to maximum capacity.

We are also seeing the large referral center hospitals in Montana operate beyond their typical capacity. This could mean that for our county residents--if they require higher level/specialty care-- they may need to go to more distant facilities in other states to receive this care.

In this pandemic, PEOPLE are our greatest resource. Our dedicated frontline healthcare workers need our help. We must decrease the numbers of covid19 infections in our county to preserve the hospital capacity we have.

NOW is the time to double down on covid measures. If you are an at-risk community member, please shelter in place. For all others, please avoid group settings of more than 10 people. If you must meet with people, try to meet outside. Even outside, please maintain your distance from others. Avoid indoor restaurants and bars. Do not patronize a business that is not following public health guidelines. Do your part to minimize the deaths and injuries in our county. We must protect each other with our actions.

Please do not go anywhere (school, work, etc.) if you have ANY symptoms of illness. Please contact your primary care provider to review your symptoms and to determine if you need covid testing. Please do not go anywhere if you are awaiting a covid test!

If you become aware that you are an identified close contact to a positive case please take personal responsibility to quarantine, as it may be several days before you are notified by the contact tracer.

Remember the W's: Wash your hands, Watch your distance, and Wear a mask!

Beaverhead County Health Officer
