Arletta Howard 86

November 9, 1934 – October 20, 2020

Arletta "Leta" Howard passed away on October 20th, 2020 at her home in Dillon MT.

Arletta an only child, was born to Theodore and Elma Wright on November 9th, 1934 in Dillon Montana. Arletta graduated from Beaverhead County High School and lived most of her life in Dillon.

She married Harrison "Jack" Howard in Dillon at the First Baptist Church on August 19th, 1951. They had three children Ray Howard, Beth (JR Moore), and Kirk (Hope) Howard all residing in the Portland Oregon area. Arletta and Jack have three grandchildren, Darla, Cole and Jordan who also reside in the Portland area.

Over the years Leta worked in various clerical jobs eventually retiring from Western Montana College. Arletta enjoyed doing needlework and other crafts. Arletta and Jack spent 17 years traveling in their RV with their dog Ryder. They enjoyed many winters in Arizona and Nevada.

Arletta was preceded in death by her parents and her in-laws Ray and Esther Howard.

The family would like to thank Dr. Madany and staff and the Barret Hospital Hospice staff, especially Cindy Yarbrough.

At Arletta's request no service will be held. Please direct any memorials to Barrett Hospital.

Attorney General Fox Encourages Montanans to Participate in National Prescription Drug Take Back Day

On Saturday, October 24, from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm, Montanans are invited to bring their unwanted prescription medications for no-questions-asked disposal at one of 17 participating collections sites across the state. National Prescription Drug Take Back Day in Montana is sponsored by the US Drug Enforcement Administration, the Montana Department of Justice, and local and tribal law enforcement agencies.

"Now more than ever, it's important for each of us to properly dispose of outdated or unneeded medications and help prevent prescription drug abuse and theft," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "I appreciate the continued support of our many law enforcement partners during the COVID-19 pandemic in making it convenient for Montanans to drop off unwanted prescription drugs that might otherwise be diverted or abused."

Towns hosting Take Back events include Billings, Bozeman, Browning, Columbus, Cut Bank, Gardiner, Glendive, Helena, Lewistown, Libby, Lincoln, Red Lodge, Superior, Thomson Falls, and Whitefish. To view the details of each event, click here. This site will be continuously updated with new participating locations up until the day of the event.

drugs, chemotherapy drugs, needles, sharps, mercury (thermometers), oxygen containers, pressurized canisters, and radioactive substances. Montanans who can't make it to a Take Back Day event, or who aren't near one of the hosting towns, can dispose of their unwanted medications by visiting one of many permanent drug drop box locations across the state. Additionally, thanks to collaboration among Google, the Montana Department of Justice, and the Montana Department of Public Health and Human Services, smart phone users can search for permanent box locations by typing "medication disposal near me" into Google Search or Google Maps on their device. For smart phone users who don't have the Google Maps app installed, they can access the locations by navigating to google.com/maps in their browser and using the same search term.

National Prescription Drug Take Back Day addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. Nationwide, a total of 882,919 pounds, or 441 tons, were brought to 4,896 collection sites last October. Over 42,240 pounds of prescription drugs and over-the-counter medications have been collected at Montana National Take Back Day events since 2010.

FROZEN ELK

By "Swede" Troedsson

Early one November afternoon, during the late 1990's hunting season, I received a phone call from Dan Pence. (Dan retired at the same time I did, in 1994, from the Forest Service.)

Dan had received a request from Game Warden Mike Mehn to retrieve a spike bull elk that had been accidentally shot the previous day in the Middle Fork of Little Sheep Creek. The area is southwest of Lima, Montana. Dan asked me to go along to help retrieve the elk.

The report was that a member of a hunting party did not see a spike bull standing in the shadows behind a cow elk. When the hunter shot the cow, the bullet went through the cow, killing both the cow and the bull. The hunting party dressed out the spike elk before the hunter turned himself in. Mike contacted a local outfitter to see if he would pack out the mistakenly shot elk. The outfitter was too tied up with his clients to retrieve the elk.

Dan and I unloaded his two horses at the trailhead and rode the first two miles up the Middle Fork Trail. The temperature was in the single digits, and the deeply shaded trail got more icy as we progressed. The trail became so icy that we dismounted and led the horses for the last mile to the kill site.

We had to quarter up a thoroughly frozen elk. Dan recalls: "The hunters had dragged the still warm elk carcass onto the frozen creek, apparently to help it cool out, not a necessary precaution in the too cold canyon. The elk's body had melted down through the ice and it froze into place as the body cooled. So we encountered an elk carcass that was both frozen solid and embedded in the frozen creek. Our first challenge involved rocking the frozen animal back and forth until we got it free of the ice, an effort that took almost an hour. We left a good share of the elk's hair frozen to the ice when we finally got him extracted."

The elk cavity was not entirely cleaned out, and the trachea and esophagus had not been removed. Dan's saw was old, and the blade came apart. Luckily, I had my large Wyoming Game Saw. It took a lot of effort in very cold temperature to finish dressing out the elk and quarter it up. There was no exit bullet wound in the bull, which appeared to verify the hunter's story.

We finally got the elk quarters loaded onto the horses, and led them back to the trailhead, arriving very late in the afternoon. (The elk would go to the local food bank.)

Students' Editorials

By: MJ

Students at the University of Montana Western (UMW) wrote editorials sharing their concerns about an email sent out by the Chancellor to the student body, faculty and staff members.

In the Chancellor's letter she addresses the upcoming presidential debate and how students of color are telling her they are worried, feel endangered and lonely. The Chancellor says the University condemns white supremacy unequivocally. She personally joins those who are expressing the need to take the president's words and actions seriously, as they have the capacity to endanger our people and our democracy. She goes on to say that we need to take a good look at what is happening and how it is impacting our students and community. She asks for ideas and how to open a dialog and engage in a difficult but essential conversation.

Question: Does it give the impression the Chancellor may be speaking in the letter about President Trumps view on white supremacy. I have personally heard President Trump denounce, condemn and criticize "white supremacy" on many TV news channels, on interviews, on radio, in newspapers... Yes, we need to take a good look at what is happening. Never forget there are two sides to every issue and we must look at both sides when having discussions in order to get a clear honest view before making our final decisions. There were no actual facts or cross-references supporting her view on the president's words and actions.

It appears there is cause for all of us to worry with election day approaching. Riots, burning, killings, looting, defunding of police and social media triggering dread, fear, anxiety, hatred...

I commend the students that spoke up and challenged this type of action by a Chancellor. These words from a leader have deep emotional impacts and may easily end up with physical actions being taken.

Let's join forces to conquer and not divide the people when resolving problems.

Hunter check stations, CWD sampling stations ready for general season

Big game hunter check stations will be in operation across Montana beginning this weekend.

General big game season runs from Oct. 24 - Nov. 29. At check stations public safety as it relates to the spread of COVID-19 will be important. Each check station may handle this process a bit differently. Please follow all directions and signs from FWP staff. If social distancing is difficult, please be ready to wear a mask.

Additionally, in the northwest, eastern and southwest parts of Montana, FWP will be operating CWD sampling stations where staff priority will be collecting samples rather than the traditional check station process. These CWD sampling locations are as follows:

- Dillon - 730 N. Montana St.
- o Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to dusk
- o Monday and Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m.

For more information on CWD, please look online at fwp.mt.gov/cwd.

Letter to the Editor

I know that COVID-19 is not a joke and that it is serious especially to the elderly and people with underlying health conditions. But I look at the other side too.

I feel that I was robbed the last 6 months of my mom's life as she passed away in the rest home.

The elderly have been isolated in care facilities and elderly housing. Humans need socialization and human contact including seeing their family members.

I don't understand why precautions couldn't have been done so we could go in and see our loved ones. One on one. My mom was a hugger and needed that human contact as I did. People working at these facilities do not stay there 24 hours a day. They come and go in our community. It just doesn't make sense.

When some people hear about my mom's death, the first thing they ask is did she die of COVID-19? No she did not. Could it possibly be from a broken heart?

Everything is being cancelled, will things ever come back, are we cancelling life?

We can't have the prevention worse than the disease. Fear has overtaken precautions.

People are struggling in so many ways. They are struggling to make a living, children not able to go to school, being socially isolated and the list goes on and on.

People are waiting for a vaccine. Does that mean everything stops until that happens.

You may not agree with what I think, but that is what is great about our Country. We have the Freedom of Speech.
