2020 OYM Award winner

This years OYM award winner is not only an outstanding member and contributor to our community also a close friend and colleague.

This years OYM award winner was born and raised in Dillon and it the epitome of all things outdoors. He is an avid athlete and participated in sports including football and track. After graduating from BCHS he continued his education at University of Northern Colorado, were he played football and pursued a degree in athletic training.

It was here that he met his future wife and began the process of convincing her that there was no better place to live than the Big Sky Country of Montana. While Colorado boasts of high mountain peaks they could never stand up to the Blacktail Mountains.

He married the love of his life and they went on to have 3 children. He wanted to move home so badly and would boast to his wife all the things that Dillon had to offer; all things outdoors where literally just our the door, a safe community and great youth programs. He must be a good salesman because he finally convinced his bride and they took a great leap and moved their young family back to his home town of Dillon.

Upon moving home over the Christmas holiday, his first priority was to get his children enrolled in Little Skiers. After finding my number on the internet he called me the day after Christmas that year hoping it wasn't too late to get his kids signed up for the program. That was the start of a great friendship between this years winner and myself. It was not long after that he started showing up to Jaycee meetings. As a Jaycee Brandon has served only served as a leader and mentor to the group but also for the community. As a Jaycee he has served as Rodeo Concession Chair, Chaplain and President. He is currently our parliamentarian. I had pleasure of working with Brandon as President while I was the Rodeo Chairman and we hosted one of the most successful rodeos in recent years.

As much as he loves the Jaycees he also wanted to serve his community in other ways. He is an avid outdoorsman and sports fan. This led to his involvement Little Guy wrestling and coaching for the BCHS Track Team. He, like most dads, wanted his kids to play sports and wanted to coach their teams just has his dad did. This role expanded and led to him leading the Little Guy Wrestling program for 3 years. He loves being involved with youth sports and watching the kids learn and excel in their sports.

He is also very active in his church and serves as a youth leader and deacon and filling in the pulpit when the pastor is absent. He also volunteers to oversea boiler operations in the church. Through the outreach program of Love INC. he co-leads Financial Peace University that has been offered twice to the community to aid in financial support and encourages new strategies to get out of debt.

His character abounds so much further than volunteering in his community and church. It is extended towards strangers, friends and anyone in need. One of his best traits is his willingness to always lend a helping hand. He has a plethora of skills that he is always happy to offer to anyone in need without ever asking for anything in return. He has used his carpentry skills to help strangers in need and help elderly folks with household projects.

When he finally convinced his wife to move back to Montana he was willing to work whatever job he needed to to make ends meet for his family. His patience was rewarded as he now spends many days working in Montana's great outdoors as a fishing guide. Through his job as a guide he also gives back to our nations wounded veterans by being involved with the Project Healing Waters.

His knowledge, experience, patience makes him a respected leader. His willingness to help anyone with whatever they need shows his reliable and dependable character. His spiritual leadership relays that he is trustworthy, honest and humble.

For all of these reasons the 2020 OYM Award winner is Brandon Ferguson.

FRONTIER CONFERENCE COVID-19 'RETURN TO PLAY' PROTOCOL RELEASED

Friday, Nov. 13, the Frontier Conference Council of Presidents (COP) approved the Frontier's COVID-19 Return to Play policy.

"The document was authored by the league's athletic directors and athletic trainers, conference Commissioner Kent Paulson said. "The document was designed to supplement and further detail the health protocols that have been in place for the fall sports. By following these health protocols through the support of contest administration and medical training staffs, the league was able to successfully complete play in both cross-country and golf."

Specific tenants of this document include: weekly COVID-19 testing of all in-season student-athletes followed by documented verification that will be communicated between medical training staffs of opposing schools in a given athletic contest.

Mandatory health screening will be required at each of our league's athletic facilities.

In order to decrease the transmission of COVID-19 the Frontier Conference will require that each institution work with local health authorities to follow established contact tracing protocols. Additional safety precautions will be instituted regarding facilities, suggested health sanitations and face coverings. All local and state health authorities will be regularly consulted at our various institutional locations.

At this time, the Frontier Conference institutions will NOT have spectators at hosted events through December 31, 2020. This decision will be evaluated by each institution at a later point in time as conditions change.

"The safety of our league's student-athletes, coaches and staffs will always be first and foremost on our list of priorities," Paulson said. "By continuing to follow our proven successful health protocols it is the goal that the upcoming sports of basketball, indoor track and field, volleyball and football can be successfully carried out to a positive completion.

THANKS and PRAYERS FOR OUR LOCAL AREA HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS and FIRST RESPONDERS

The Bank

Bryce Angell

Yesterday my good friend Johnson called me on the phone.
He said, "I'm running short on cash. Could you spare a little loan?"
My good friend always seemed to be a dollar short or two.
So, I'd put some money in his bank. It's the least that I could do.
I shaved then grabbed a brush and cleaned the cow dung from my boots. Banks don't care for cow manure but I'm cowboy to my roots.
I drove into the city, found the bank's new parkin' lot. Then walked into the lobby. Quickly eyed my six-foot spot.
I said, "I'd like to make a small deposit here today." She said, "How much?" I said, "Five hundred green bills, if I may?"
Her answer came so swiftly. I was taken back aghast.
She said, "We can't accept your cash. A policy since passed."
A bank that doesn't take your cash, is that a brand-new fad?
I'd never smoked on dope. Right then I wondered if she had.
I wrinkled up my nose then said, "You can't take any cash?
I asked, "Do you take bottle caps? I've squirreled up a stash."
She said, "We'll gladly take a money order from you sir."
But then my head was spinnin'. All my thoughts were just a blur.
She said, "Are you a member?" Just for once she seemed polite.
I joked, "My bank's the bunkhouse in a mattress pulled down tight."
Was this cashier even human, all puffed up and full of pride?
She said, "We cannot help you. Would you kindly step aside."
So, I walked back to my Chevy truck, sat on my worn-out seat.
I swear I felt about as low as six feet down dead meat.
I called up Western Union. They were glad to take my cash.
My good friend got his money faster than a lightning flash.
Why do our banks refuse to take our hard-earned bills of green?
I'm dang sure disappointed. It's the darndest thing I've seen.

Southwest Montana Veteran's Home Update #77

By Mike Lawson

Greeting once again to you, the Veterans/Counties/Communities of SW MT who have been and are the organizers/supporters of this, our Southwest Montana Veteran's Home.

The weather isn't cooperating very well, as far as outside work is concerned, on our Vet Home. The inside work on some of the heated Cottages and Community Center is proceeding at a good clip. The delivery "on-time" of construction material is a continued problem, due to Covid-19. The contractors, for the most part, adapt and keep things moving forward. As with any new construction, there are needed design changes/change orders that are needed to make things work properly, that weren't anticipated. This is not surprising due to the scope and complexity of this complex of buildings, that make up our SW MT Veteran's home. The final finishing work, that creates the punch-lists of things that need to be made right, according to the inspection specifications, is a quality control process. This happens before the specific building is turned over to the State of Montana (the owner). This process can be time consuming but is extremely important. The Community Center and Cottage #1, are presently going through this process and Cottage #3 will follow, in the near future. A dark cloud that has hit our Vet Home Construction Site, is that a couple of the construction workers have come down with the Covid-19 Virus. Silver Bow County, is the worst in the state for Covid right now and it was inevitable that this site would probably get hit. The State of Montana is very concerned as is Cory Markovich, (Project Manager—Markovich Construction). The Silver Bow County Health Department has been alerted and is concerned.. Between these three entities, a comprehensive, mandatory work place set of guidelines, will likely be put into practice. Something like this virus has the potential of shutting the whole job down or severely curtailing the work. These are frightening times and everyone needs to respect one another and help in the battle in combating/overcoming this terrible virus. On another note, I again got briefed on the progress of our SW MT Vet home by Mike Ascheman and John Kotka, which enables me to accurately let you folks know, what has happened the week before and what is expected to happen, durning the week this article is published. Liaison Mark Gollinger and I then follow this up with a walk-through of the site, which verifies and makes sense of things. I thank all three of these guys, as they care and give me the straight scoop.

Community Center—Interior: The finishing touches are well along in this building. The painters have worked through their punch-list and the paint is beautiful. They'll be done in here this week and will move on to Cottage #1. As we walked through this building, it really gave one the feeling of being completed, except for the bathroom sinks which the plumbers are waiting on parts for. Theres also a small bit of tile around the Fire Place to be laid. The heating system is working beautifully. Getting the furniture moved into this building, will be the next step after the cleaning contractors do a thorough "top to bottom cleaning", of the complete building, inside.

Cottage #1—Interior: Lots of things getting done in this end-phase of the inside construction of this building. The Plumbers are trimming out, throughout this building, concerning sinks, toilets, etc.. The Electricians were wiring for the Refrigerator/ Freezer in the Pantry. On our walk-through, we could see that the Floor Layer guys, had the West Wing Resident Rooms, completely laid. The base-wall borders were glued in place, where the floor meets the walls. The main hallways/living room/library will get carpet, after the linoleum is all laid. The kitchen/dining/pantry/dining areas were all laid. The North Resident Wing Rooms floors will be laid this week and possibly into next week. The carpet areas will then be laid. This building will then be moving more into the punch-list phase, followed by getting ready for the final inspection. Once this takes place this Cottage can be turned over to the state. In the meantime, appliances have been delivered and will be installed this week. The Carpenters are waiting on a closet door jam and a package containing the soap dispensers/hand-towel dispensers/hand sanitizers. Once this package is on site, they'll be installed. Lots of this small type of work that's important, but takes time. There is also some wall paper that needs to be hung in the Central Area of this Cottage #1.

Exterior: Rear Patio finish up work left to do at some point. Not major work but important.

Cottage #2: The Dry-Wall Tapers and the Painters are making good progress and scrambling to stay one step ahead of the carpenters. The Carpenters are installing doors and trimming out the windows/doors/hand-rail/picture-rail/etc.. One resident wing is pretty well trimmed out, with the central area being worked on. The Plumbers were working on the domestic water line and the gas lines. The Electricians were pulling wire to their breaker panels. Johnson Controls (Dean) was installing conduit and pulling wire for the low voltage control systems. The Tile Guys should be moving into this Cottage in about a week.

Exterior: Rear Patio finish work for the future.

Cottage #3—Interior: I really like going through this Cottage #3, because it is biting at the heals of Cottage#1, in getting it's finish work done. The Plumbers have their domestic water lines in and most importantly, they have the gas lines installed, to the point that the testing, is supposed to take place this week. That should pass, which will then have the Northwestern Gas Division, install a gas meter. Once that's in place, the heating-system can be brought on line and tested. Cottage #3 can then be self-heating. This is exciting, to say the least. The Electricians are trimming out lights/switches/receptacles. The Tile Layers have the tile installed in the resident rooms, with only the grouting left to do. The tile crew were working on the spa room and were close to having it done. The grouting is left to do. John said they can do about three rooms per day, which once complete, will allow them to move into Cottage #2 and begin tiling there. Johnson Controls (Dean) was installing conduit and pulling wire for the low voltage programing/control systems. These systems control the air louvers, boilers, thermostats and other systems. The pipe insulators were insulating pipe and wrapping duct-work.

Exterior: Rear patio finish work in the future.

Cottage #4: Interior: Not a lot happening here as the focus is on the other Cottages. Some in and out work by the Plumbers and Sheet Metal guys.

Exterior: Some siding finish-up and Column/Beam work by the Carpenters.

Cottage #5—Interior: Little if anything done here, as the other Cottages are the focus.

Exterior: The siding crew have made great progress and have put quite a bit of the colored siding on. This can be seen best on the Continental Drive side of our Vet Home Complex. It a great looking blue and is another feature of enhancement.

Receiving/Maintenance Bld: The two big garage doors are installed and give this building a finished look on the outside. The inside still needs to be finished with sheetrock, lighting, etc.. Unknown when that will happen, but guessing after the Community Center and Cottage #1, are turned over to the state, once completed.

Again with cold weather and the Covid-19 surging all over the country and especially in SW MT. I would say, for the love of God, protect yourself and your loved ones, by following our Health Officials guidelines. Until next time, please take care.

The balance of power in

Our Democracy is at stake in the Georgia Senate Race. If the Democrats win the 2 Senate seats there, they take control of the Senate. The Democrats would be in control of the U.S. House, we need to have control of the Senate to have balance of power, otherwise we could come under over regulation, higher taxes, higher fuel prices, gun control, single payer health care, reduced grazing, open boarders, defunding police, more government controlled media, government controlled schools, and loss of free speech and more.

To support President Trump's Campaign for justice in the election, go to American Center for Law and Justice.

To support the two Republican Senators from Georgia, go to Kelly Loeffler for Senate and David Perdue for Senate on winred.com official donation platform for the GOP.
