Dillon Jaycees Auxiliary for Outstanding Woman

I Bessie Richardson, wish to nominate my daughter; Mary Kempf, for the prestigious honor from the Dillon Jaycees Auxiliary - for Outstanding Woman award. As pertaining to the Jaycee Creed - "Service to humanity in the best work of life"

Ski Team, Ect.

Property manager (for several), Owner of several rental homes and properties, Engaged in the flower designing classes for youth. Accredited flower show judge, though the National Garden Club. Title life member of the Montana Federation of Garden Club. Own multiple Businesses. Land lord of rental homes.

Mary and Bill have 2 active children, Bridger, 15 and Kira, 13. Both are active in sports (as Mary hauls them and many times several other children to and from these events)

Bridger: Baseball (a pro.) hunting, fishing, bow & arrow, football and gun classes.

Kira: dance classes, acrobatics, piano, skiing (possibly more)

For her husband Bill, she sets up appointments on their computer for the many who desire an outfitter to guide them as they fish or hunt; animals/birds.

Plus, she has an 87 year old mother who depends on her to see that she has what she needs, such as, shampoo, tooth paste, hand soap ect. She is well taken care of at the Legacy Assisted living here in Dillon.

Mary has her mom's power of attorney (POA) I must say - that keeps her on her toes - plus seeing that i have the money and where with all to live here w/o worries. She also setup beautifully my room here.

I had 9 children, 5 sons and 4 daughters. I said I need another little girl (I wasn't thinking to even them up). I wanted another baby girl. How blessed am I to have my Mary. She takes such good care of her mom! And her kids, Husband, their dogs and cats, and anyone and everyone who needs her help.

Sincerely Bessie C. Richardson

Montana Outdoor Hall of Fame 2020 inductees announced

Virtual, free ceremony set for December 5

The Montana Outdoor Hall of Fame recently announced the class of inductees for 2020. MHOFF was created to honor individuals, both living and deceased, who have made lasting contributions to the restoration and conservation of Montana's wild animals, places and rivers. The awards also capture the stories of these conservation heroes to enhance public awareness of Montana's conservation history and inspire others to do their part to keep Montana special.

The inductees for 2020 are:

- Stewart Monroe Brandborg
- Bruce Farling
- John & Carol Gibson
- George Bird Grinnell
- Hal Harper
- Dale Harris
- Gayle Joslin
- Bob Kiesling
- Paul Roos
- Gene Sentz
- Richard Vincent
- Vince Yannone

"This is a remarkable list of individuals whose accomplishments span a lifetime of keeping watch over Montana's natural wonders," said Thomas Baumeister, executive director of MOHF.

Earlier in the year, a diverse review committee selected the 13 inductees from a record number of 53 candidates nominated by the public. The 2020 class of Montana Outdoor Hall of Famers—the fourth since 2014—will be honored during a virtual banquet on Dec. 5 at 6:30 p.m.

"The Hall of Fame inductees cover a range of personalities who worked to advance what could be termed Montana's conservation consciousness," Baumeister said.

For more information and to register for the free event, visit <https://mtoutdoorhalloffame.org/> or contact Thomas Baumeister 406-431-4326 or mtoutdoorhalloffame@gmail.com. Biographies of the inductees will be available to the public by Nov. 15.

UMW Receives E.B. Craney Award for Wildlife Outfitters Degree Option Commercial

The University of Montana Western Communications Department, in partnership with ABC Fox Montana, received the E.B. Craney Award from the Montana Broadcasting Association for its commercial on the Outdoor Guide and Wildlife Outfitters business degree option.

The E.B. Craney Awards are named in memory of Montana broadcast pioneer Ed Craney. The awards recognize excellence in local news, production, promotion and public service and are presented annually during the Montana Broadcasting Association convention.

The Montana Western Outfitting commercial was produced by Frank Palazzi and Brian Mellott from KMYB-TV, Butte, with assistance from Jackie Rawson, UMW faculty, staff and students, and the local outfitter and guide community and won "Television Commercial of the Year." To watch the commercial, visit the University of Montana Western's Facebook page.

The awards are sponsored through the generosity of the Greater Montana Foundation which Craney established to encourage communication, with an emphasis on electronic media, on issues and trends of importance to Montanans.

The Business and Technology Department at UMW offers a bachelor's degree in Business Administration with several available minors including Outdoor Guide and Wildlife Outfitters Enterprise Management and Farm and Ranch Operations. For more information, please call 877-683-7331 or email admissions@umwestern.edu.

The University of Montana Western is the only U.S. public university offering a block scheduling program in which students take one course at a time using an innovative approach called Experience One. With Experience One, students concentrate on one course for 18 days, take a short break, and then move on to their next course.

"UMW offers several unique degrees and options that can't be found anywhere else. This minor in wildlife outfitters management, combined with the Business Administration major, allows students to graduate with the knowledge they need to be successful in starting their own outfitting or guiding business, a significant portion of Montana's economy each year," said Matt Raffety, Director of Communications at Montana Western.

Those interested in Experience One and learning more about UMW's degree offerings are encouraged to visit the University of Montana Western's website for more information: www.umwestern.edu.

Attorney General Fox Announces Record Settlement with Tobacco Companies

Attorney General Tim Fox announced today Montana will recover all funds wrongfully withheld from the state by tobacco companies under the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement (MSA), as well as a premium and protection for Montana's future MSA payments.

Under Fox's direction, the Department of Justice took on the largest tobacco companies for wrongfully withholding $3 - $4.5 million from Montana each year from 2006 through the present under the MSA. The settlement will return more than $49 million to the Tobacco Trust, Children's Health Insurance Program, critical public health programs, and, as per statute, a percentage to the State General Fund. The settlement will also generate nearly $10 million for the General Fund and protect Montana from the tobacco companies' withholding owed funds in perpetuity. Importantly, Fox obtained the tobacco companies' waiver going forward of any right to recover the approximate $4.5 million per year through 2030, protecting forever an additional estimated $55 million. Consequently, the value of this settlement to Montana through 2030 and beyond is well over $100 million.

"I am pleased to achieve immediate payment of the funds rightfully due Montana and forever protect the remedy struck over twenty years ago when Montana entered into the Master Settlement Agreement," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "Montana needs these resources now more than ever to pursue its work in smoking prevention and cessation, help the disabled and seniors, fund critical public health programs, and insure Montana's children through the Children's Health Insurance Program. This is an historic settlement no other state has been able to accomplish," Fox added. Fox went on to praise the work of Chief Deputy Attorney General Jon Bennion, Consumer Protection Chief Mark Mattioli, Assistant Attorney Generals Anne Yates and Chris Abbott on the case, as well as Paoli & Leisher and Morgan & Morgan.

Montana was previously forced by the tobacco companies to individually litigate these wrongfully withheld payments for the years 2003 and 2004. Montana received full payment after the defendants conceded, but only after substantial cost and effort. In 2018, the state's lawyers discovered the tobacco companies had overwhelming evidence that Montana had completely and faithfully complied with the MSA yet had jointly agreed to withhold 10% or more of each of Montana's annual payments under pretense. As a result of the conspiracy and wrongful withholdings, the tobacco companies deprived Montana of more than $49 million owed dating back to 2005. After Montana discovered these highly profitable and cash-rich companies had acted in bad faith, it filed this lawsuit, now resolved by this settlement.

The case was settled while on appeal to the Montana Supreme Court by the tobacco companies. The Montana Supreme Court previously ruled that Montana's enforcement of MSA can be litigated only in Montana court, a ruling — like today's groundbreaking settlement — no other MSA state has been able to achieve. The tobacco companies sought again in the current case to have Montana's claims arbitrated nationally in an expensive forum far from Montana rather than face a Montana jury. District Court Judge Mike McMahon agreed with the state that the case should be tried in Montana, and the tobacco companies appealed his ruling. As part of the settlement, the tobacco companies have agreed to withdraw that appeal; in doing so, the district court opinion stands.

More information about the distribution of Montana's tobacco settlement money is available online: https://leg.mt.gov/content/Publications/fiscal/leg_reference/Brochures/tobacco-settlement-2018.pdf

The Children's Giving Tree is ready for Christmas 2020!

The Giving Tree helps families in need with Christmas gifts for their children. Children's requests are written on a tag and put on the tree for interested Santas to take and fill the request. (no names are given out) If you would like your children to be included on the Tree, pick up an application at Rattlesnake Alpacas. The Tree will be decorated on Monday, November 23. Gift delivery will be Saturday, December 19, so gifts need to be back under the tree by December 17th (the earlier the better!) If you have any questions, call Gail at 660-2528

The balance of power in

Our Democracy is at stake in the Georgia Senate Race. If the Democrats win the 2 Senate seats there, they take control of the Senate. The Democrats would be in control of the U.S. House, we need to have control of the Senate to have balance of power, otherwise we could come under over regulation, higher taxes, higher fuel prices, gun control, single payer health care, reduced grazing, open borders, defunding police, more government controlled media, government controlled schools, and loss of free speech and more.

To support President Trump's Campaign for justice in the election, go to American Center for Law and Justice.

To support the two Republican Senators from Georgia, go to Kelly Loeffler for Senate and David Perdue for Senate on winred.com official donation platform for the GOP.
