Dolores Irene Mallon

Dolores Irene Mallon was born to Arvid and Irene Coleman on October 7, 1927 in Eveleth MN. She passed away due to COVID on December 15, 2020 in Dillon, Montana.

Dolores and her parents traveled west to Bingham Canyon, UT when she was a baby and then settled in Butte, Montana. She and her siblings grew up in the Dublin Gulch area of Butte. She attended the Blaine School in Centerville and rode to school on the streetcar which went by her home for the first four years. Dolores later had to walk to and from school, and if you know Butte, she really did have an uphill climb in the snow! She graduated from Butte High School in 1945.

Dolores worked at the Silver and Grand Dime store, Decker Brothers Food Brokerage and then landed a job as a secretary at the First National Bank. She went on to work there for four years.

On February 10, 1952 Dolores married the love of her life, her "handsome cowboy" and Wise River native, Lowell Mallon. They went on to have five children who all grew up on the family cattle ranch in Wise River. Dolores loved to cook, which was a good thing as she had to make plenty of meals for family, hired men, branding and haying crews over the years. She also enjoyed sewing and was an avid reader. Lowell and Dolores were able to take some exciting adventures once they were semi-retired. Trips to Hawaii, Alaska, New Zealand, and Australia were life highlights for both of them.

Dolores loved her five children very much and was proud that they all grew up to be decent, kind, and caring adults. She adored her seven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. She was overjoyed when her son Jerry and his wife Katie had their three girls and she got to watch them grow-up on the ranch. Dolores was a member of the Church of the Big Hole and taught Sunday school for 23 years. She later became a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Dillon.

Dolores thought family and friends were extremely important in life and it brought her great joy to keep in touch by sending birthday and anniversary cards, as well as Christmas cards and letters. Just a few days before her passing she asked her daughter April if this year's cards had been mailed out! Taking photos of her family brought her great joy. Dolores worked on photo albums until just recently when her vision failed her. Her family is blessed with an extensive collection of memories through her photos.

Dolores was predeceased by her husband Lowell, sisters Betty Jane Coleman, Audrey Bukema, her bother Ronald Coleman, and son-in-law Murray Phelps. She is survived by her children: Larry Mallon (Pixie) of Dillon, Jerry Mallon (Katie) of Dillon and Pasco, WA, Linda Ferguson (Tom) of Shelton, WA, April Bordelon of Dillon, Julie Phelps of Shelton, WA. Her fourteen grandchildren and great grandchildren are spread out through WA and western MT.

Dolores wrote the following statement a few years ago. "When I leave this world, I do not want people to feel sad for me. I have had a long and very happy life on earth. It began with my wonderful mom, dad, and siblings. We lived a simple and sometimes hard life, but the love was always there. Marrying my true love and having wonderful children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were the icing on the cake. I have so much to be thankful for, I am a lucky lady!"

The family wants to thank the kind and caring staff at the Legacy Assisted Living facility in Dillon, MT. Our mother enjoyed many years in her studio apartment and would often comment that she loved living the life of leisure! A memorial will be held for our mom in late spring or summer as the pandemic allows.

The Christmas Star

Submitted by Fran Schisler

I received this article in a Christmas letter. I was encouraged to pass it on so here is something to help lift our inner feelings.

"I know some have see the post about The Christmas Star appearing this year on December 21st. I couldn't help but really take a deeper look at how amazing that this occurrence would be happening in the year 2020. In the year that Jesus was born, there was violence, chaos, political and social unrest. It was dark. The Magi found him by way of the star, which was the "meeting" of 3 stars: Jupiter, Saturn and Mars. They followed the star until it rested on where he was and they began to worship him. In a time where it was dark, Light was brought into our world. Jesus stepped into the chaos and brought peace. Fast forward to this year 2020. It's a time of violence, chaos, political and social unrest. It is dark. Winter Solstice, December 21st, being a time where the day is the shortest and night is the longest....it is literally the "darkest day" and is the beginning of what most would say the cold, dark winter season. But on the darkest day this year, Jupiter, Saturn meet, giving us the Christmas Star! How fitting...that in the moment of time during the Christmas season that we get to see this beautiful reminder...that even in the darkest of times...Light will, and has, stepped in. In our chaos He is there. In our darkest time, He is there. He brings light, and makes all things new. So, as you look out on Dec. 21st for the Christmas Star, may you be reminded of His power, and His light that he brings for all mankind. He is perfect at stepping into chaos and bringing it into peace. Copied from a friend...you may do the same."

CRUISE MARK

By Nils ("Swede") Troedsson

In the summer of 1960, three of us recent graduates from the Forestry School in Missoula, hired on as "timber cruisers" for the Northern Pacific Railway (NP - now part of the Burlington Northern & Sante Fe Railroad - BNSF). We worked out of a rented cabin in the Swan Valley, MT.

In 1864 the Railway Act granted 200 feet of federal land on either side of the tracks, and odd numbered sections (square miles) 20 miles on either side of the right-of-way to the Northern Pacific Railroad. These lands were granted to provide federal subsidies for construction of the railroad.

Much of this land in the west contained timber, which the NP sold. Foresters were hired to lay out the timber sales and designate the trees to be harvested.

In preparation of the timber sales, section (property) lines had to be traced. This involved finding the section (property) corners, and designating the connecting property lines.

In order to protect the land ownership monuments (usually a set rock or a pipe with a stamped brass cap), we would "flag" the corners, and chop our "cruise marks" on adjacent trees. These cruise marks were our "calling cards", and faced the monuments so as to facilitate revisiting the property corners.

Our "cruise marks" identified us as NP cruisers. Each cruiser had his own mark. Included, and above each mark, was chopped two slant eyes and a nose (called a "monkey face"), which was in respect to the Chinese that built the railroad. (The Ying & Yang symbol in the center of the NP logo was also in respect to the Chinese.)

Cruise marks were generally a combination of the first letters in the cruiser's first and last names. My mark was:

Some cruisers added a unique touch to their cruise mark:

- Jack Winthers would find a small stick in the shape of a pipe and, after adding a mouth to the monkey face, insert the "pipe"

- in the mouth. The pipe pointed to the monument.
- Tom Milkey, whose family owned a dairy farm in Wisconsin, displayed a cow's udder under the monkey face as his cruise mark:

My year with the NP was the most physically demanding of my career. I came close to death twice that year. Once when I fell through the ice in the Swan River in 12 below zero weather, and the other time while dodging falling spruce trees during a wind event. We worked on eight feet of snow that winter, laying out cutting units on snowshoes and marking trees to be cut. Our instructions were that the only times we could stay indoors was if it was colder than thirty below, or if there was a howling blizzard. We had to document the extreme weather condition on our time sheet. We experienced neither one that winter. One morning it was 27 below zero when we left our cabin. We were hoping our vehicle would start when we returned to it. It did.

The 2020-21 holiday season is unlike any other before. Holidays are often challenging, but COVID-19 created a major upheaval for all of us. Here are some helpful tips & insights to use during this unpredictable time.

REACH OUT

If you feel lonely or isolated, seek out community, religious or other social events, many of which may be accessed virtually. They can offer support & companionship. Leaning into trusted others is the most powerful way to feel better. If you may do so safely, volunteer your time to help others as a good way to lift your spirits & broaden your friendships.
