Tuesday Trivia

Happy New Year!! Be the Change 406 Coalition is continuing Tuesday Trivia into 2021! Every Tuesday in January, you will have an opportunity to win a $20 gift certificate at a local business. Answers to the Tuesday Trivia Questions can be found somewhere in the body of the bordering Dillonite Daily local advertisements.

Here is this week's Tuesday Trivia Question:

Mental health conditions are common and have nothing to do with being lazy or weak. Mental health issues affect thinking, mood, and behavior and can be associated with distress and/or impairment of functioning. People with mental health issues cannot simply "snap out of it" by trying harder. Research shows that 1 in _____ Americans will experience a mental health issue in any given year. With this in mind, may we acknowledge that there are those struggling all around us. Might we seek to understand others and offer our kindness and compassion to all.

If you want to play, please go to bethechange406.org and enter your name, location of the answer and a phone number. Entries are due by January 8th at midnight.

Holiday Trivia Tuesday contest

As we welcome in the New Year, we want to thank all of you who participated in the Be the Change 406 Coalition Holiday Trivia Tuesday contest.

Congratulations to our last week's winner, Lorraine King, who won a $20 gift certificate to Emporium 406!!!

Be the Change 406 Coalition has been working diligently throughout Beaverhead County to empower youth, engage parents, and eliminate substance misuse and abuse. To get involved or to learn more about Be the Change 406 Coalition, please visit <https://bethechange406.org/> Happy New Year!

COMPANION ANIMALS BRINGING MORE JOY THAN EVER

by Tom Purcell

My new puppy entered the world on Christmas and he's already bringing incredible joy into my family – just as many dogs, cats and other bundles of joy are doing for millions during these unusual times.

I drove to Punxsutawney over the weekend to choose a Labrador puppy. Sunny, the Lab mom, and Tank, the proud Lab dad, produced nine healthy pups born, fittingly, on Christmas morning.

So cute are they, five had been claimed when I called. I had to move fast to claim one of the remaining four.

Early the next morning, I made the two-hour drive with great anticipation. No sooner did I set eyes on one little guy, the most docile of the bunch – and no sooner did he nestle happily into my arms – than I knew I'd found my pup.

I can't wait for him to turn eight weeks old in mid-February, so I can bring him home.

My first hope was to find a rescue dog, like my lovable childhood mutt, Jingles.

Long a Lab lover, I was hoping for a Lab mix with the affable traits of one of my best buddies, an incredible Lab/Pit mix named Stanley, who lives on a large, heavenly ranch with my friends Dan and Jen.

After hours searching and a few weeks of trying, I had no luck matching with a canine pal. When I stumbled upon a still-available litter of Lab puppies, then, I acted fast, and I'm happy I did.

During my dog search, I discovered some wonderful worldwide trends.

First, there has been increasing demand to adopt rescue animals of every kind.

Humans, isolated at home, long for the love, affection and many other benefits that companion animals bring.

In the era of social media, it's all too easy to get lost in the narrowness of our limited points of view regarding politics and other matters, but lovable animals shatter such self-centeredness.

A few bats of puppy-dog eyes will transform anyone lost in himself to being completely concerned for the total well-being and happiness of a lovable Lab who wants his belly scratched.

A lovable animal brings out so much empathy and compassion, we're prone to be more humane to other human beings – even those who voted for the other candidate.

Another wonderful trend: Many big-hearted people are opening their homes to rescue animals, to foster them and make sure they're well-matched to forever homes – where they can flourish for the rest of their lives.

Third, millions of Americans are donating funds to help rescue organizations care for and place in-need animals. Giving is way up. Even if you aren't ready to adopt or foster, donating money to support these activities will bring you joy.

Lots of wonderful animals are waiting for their forever homes. If you're ready to invite a bundle of joy into your home, there are many legitimate foster agencies to choose from.

Though I chose a puppy this time, I may adopt an older dog next. Older animals can have a harder time getting adopted than puppies and kittens, and adopting an older dog next would give each dog a canine companion to enjoy.

My little pup may have been born on Christmas, but as far as I'm concerned, every companion animal was. Because they're all precious gifts from God.

Unfiltered Clerk

Bryce Angell

My wife and I went shopping at the local hardware store. We paced the isles but could not find what we were looking for. So, I walked up to the counter, asked the clerk where twine would be. She answered, "Three rows down and at the end of isle three." I thanked the gal most kindly. Seemed to be right up to snuff. 'Cuz she knew just where the twine was stacked, along with ropes and stuff. 'Bout then my wife decided she would need a new paint brush. So, she hurried to the counter, but the clerk said, "What's the rush?" While shopping in this tiny store you'll be within earshot of every word you say or hear. A fact, like it or not. My wife politely asked the clerk. "Paint brushes and paint pan?" But the clerk had her agenda. Said, "You with that poor old man?" I must admit I looked around to check who that might be. Then sure enough it registered. The poor old man was me! The young gal called me, "Poor old man." She spoke it right out loud. I swear she laughed a little. Did it make her feel so proud? Her unkind words came echoing like piercing to the gut. I wish she'd used some filter. Maybe kept her big mouth shut. The graying hair that's on my face shows proof of getting old. My mug looks worn and tired. It's the wrinkles I've been told. I dang near told the clerk, "Ace Hardware's looking good right now!" I felt the pangs of damaged pride but calmed myself somehow. I'd have to be a knucklehead to think that I'm not old. But it kinda hurt my feelings when I heard the words she told. So, I set my thoughts to thinking 'bout the unkind words I say. And from now on I'll change them to a nicer, kinder way.

NINE-TOE JIMMY

By "Swede" Troedsson

The following story was related to me by Jimmy Harrison. Jimmy currently owns the Double H Custom Hat Co., in Darby, MT. At the time of this incident Jimmy was a member of our ski patrol on Maverick Mtn. This story is submitted with his permission.

In 1970, Jimmy was cutting poles on a ranch near Wisdom, MT, when he sunk an axe into his boot. Jimmy could feel his foot getting wet inside of his boot. He pulled the boot off, then as he pulled the bloody sock off, a toe fell out. Hoping he could get the toe reattached, he placed the toe into a "snoose", (snuff) can.

On his way to the ranch house, Jimmy got the desire for a chew as he was crossing a creek. The bloody toe was stuck to the inside of the lid, and when he opened the can, the toe fell into the creek. Jimmy lost the toe.

As the rancher was driving Jimmy to the hospital in Dillon, he asked Jimmy if he had a chew. Jimmy handed the rancher the snoose can. The rancher pinched a dip, stuffed it into his lower lip, and handed the can back to Jimmy.

It was then that Jimmy told the rancher about the toe having been in the can, and how he lost the toe. The rancher started to gag, and stuck his head out the window in anticipation of throwing up. The rest of the trip into town was uneventful.

This is why Jimmy is referred to as "Nine-toe Jimmy"!

PLEASE NOTE: The City of Dillon understands that citizens have the right under the Montana Constitution to observe and participate in local governmental affairs by personally attending all public meetings of the Dillon City Council and other City boards and committees. This meeting is open to the public as normal (pre-virus). Any who would like to physically attend, are asked to please wear a face covering and practice 6-ft social distancing at the meeting. For those who are cautious about physically attending, a Zoom link is available. Join the meeting with Zoom ID: 770-316-6528, allowing permission for mic and camera (if using a computer go to <https://zoom.us/j/7703166528>) and use Passcode 4245. Please mute your mic until you desire to comment. Any problems or questions, call City Hall at 683-4245.

Thank you, Michael L. Klakken, Mayor
