Thank You

The family of Evan Wellesley Huntsman would like to thank all our family and friends for the phone calls, cards, delicious food, beautiful flowers, memorials and all your thoughts and prayers and words of encouragement during this difficult time.

A special thanks goes out to all the providers at Barrett Hospital and Healthcare and Barrett Home Health, Julie Briggs and staff, Lima School and staff, Lima Branch of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Lima Community Church, Steve Ingram, all those involved that set up Zoom for those that could not attend his service in person, and the Dell and Lima Communities that were there for us with whatever we needed.

We will be forever grateful.

Jean, Evan (Eugene) & Bev, Jan & Coco, Scott & Lori, Brett & Michelle and families, Bill & Bonnie, Sandy & Val, Lee (Buzz)

Thank you

The Nield Family would like to thank the doctors and nurses at barrett Hospital for the excellent care that Max received when he was ill with the Covid 19 virus. We would also like to thank our friends for the telephone calls, the flowers, the cards, and the wonderful food.

Bless you and stay healthy.

Max & Barbara Nield

Wildlife Habitat Protected Thanks to South Dakota Family

A conservation-minded family with a long history of safeguarding the wildlife values of its land collaborated with the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation to permanently protect an additional 3,163 acres of South Dakota habitat.

"We salute Jim Scull and his family and thank them for stewarding their land in such a way that positively impacts elk and so many other wildlife species," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "This conservation easement is the latest example of their deep commitment to our mission and further cements their conservation legacy."

The property lies just southwest of the confluence of the Cheyenne and Belle Fourche Rivers in west-central SD.

Scull is a long-time RMEF life member. In 2004, he and his family placed their first RMEF conservation easement on a 160-acre tract of their property. Then with 160 more acres in 2007 and an additional 11,078 acres later that year. In 2019, they permanently protected 4,798 acres of habitat and capped it off with this latest 3,163-acre project in 2020.

"Thanks to the Sculls, 19,359 acres of wildlife and riparian habitat are now protected in perpetuity.

In addition to being a dedicated conservationist, Scull mentors at-risk youth in outdoor skills and hunting for big game and upland birds on his land.

Letter to the Editor

Our high school kids deserve full time in-person instruction. The school board of BCHS recently approved their plan to return to Level II learning (full time, in-person instruction with safety precautions in place). All BCHS students will return to in person learning this week (M-TH) and will continue to offer help to non-proficient learners on Fridays. However, the plan is a tiered system, with 4 day a week instruction this week, back to 2 day a week instruction the next week, followed by 4 day a week instruction, followed by 2 day a week. Then 2 weeks at 4 day a week instruction, followed by 2 day a week, then 2 weeks of 4 day, then a week of 2 day. So finally, on April 12, the district proposes to return to Mon-Thursday in person learning for all students. I do not understand this system, or what Co-vid 19 data is going to tell us from this. What data is there to support this type of restricted in person instruction? There is good Co-vid data from the beginning of school. Since the beginning of the school year, BCHS has had a total of 26 Co-vid positive student cases and 3 Co-vid positive staff members. (1/15/2021 BCHS data) Also, as of the writing, Beaverhead County has a total of 13 positive Co-vid cases. I believe these numbers should be driving the decision for back to in person learning full time, Monday thru Friday.

But I also question as to how much weight we solely give the data, as it is important to consider other factors, such as the students mental health. As you are aware, Montana has one of the highest suicide rates in the country. As we work towards meeting the educational needs of the students, we need to work just as hard in this pandemic, to meet the mental needs of our students. We must consider the risk of transmitting the virus, but I feel the risks can be managed. We need to consider the risks of being out of school and the devastating consequences that it is having on our youth.

There is a great amount of data and guidance from the Harvard Global Health Institute, the CDC, and the American Academy of Pediatrics. These guidelines cite findings from the fall that indicate that schools are relatively safe in terms of virus transmission, provided certain conditions are met and safe PPE is utilized. These organizations advocate for students being in school full time.

Bozeman school board voted recently to transition to a 4 day a week in person model on Jan 27. They are calling it a 4 plus 1 model, with that 5th day being dedicated to remote learning. Gallatin County would of course, have a much higher percentage of cases and higher positivity rate than here in Beaverhead County. They looked at the COVID-19 data from their matrix, but they also considered the fact that online learning was not working for many students, despite the teacher's best efforts. They also considered the mental health effects that online learning was potentially creating. Missoula schools are also going back to all in person learning this week. Most schools in Montana are now in school with full-time in person learning.

As an educator, I fully support teachers and administration. It's a tough job, I know. I believe we can offer safe working conditions for staff so that our kids can get back to full time in person learning.

To be honest, I was disappointed in the plan going forward. I would have hoped that full time (Mon - Fri, and not Mon - Thur) in-person instruction would start much sooner than April 12. In my opinion, that is just not soon enough.

Weekly Legislative Update By Representative Tom Welch Montana Hd 72

Week three of the 2021 Legislative session saw a big boost in committee activity and bill movement. We have many legislators and staffers who are working remotely. It's a learning curve for everyone that has caused unique challenges and opportunities, but we are still working for the people of Montana and will accomplish our business in the 90 days we have.

The Appropriations subcommittees are busy putting together a responsible state budget and funding the various state agencies that they oversee. The policy committees, such as the House Taxation and Human Services committees upon which I serve, held many hearings and votes this week on a wide variety of Bills. Bill activity is picking up tremendously as this coming week in House Tax committee alone we will be hearing 14 Bills over the course of three days. Time later in the week will then be allotted for discussion of the various heard Bills and eventually the committee will vote on whether to move the individual Bills out of the committee to the House floor for discussion and further action in the process of becoming Law. Some will pass committee and some will not!

As the number of Bills passing thru committees has increased so has the contentiousness of the Bills themselves. Bills dealing with right to work, transgender issues, guns, COVID 19, and abortions were heard this past week. This in turn has resulted in packed committee rooms and in many cases packed hallways here at the Capitol for the first time this session.

I do need to acknowledge the tremendous effort put forth by our Legislative staff. Our on-site staffers along with those working remotely are putting forth tireless efforts to ensure that we as Legislators and you as Montanans have as positive and seamless experience as possible. I have received requested info from staff as late as 9pm and before 7am.

Lastly, I will mention that this Thursday evening, January 28th at 7pm, Governor Greg Gianforte will come to the House of Representatives and present a live update address to members of both the Montana House and Senate. This address will be picked up by state-wide news outlets.

Thank you for your continued interest in your Montana Legislative process. I am honored to continue to serve you. Best wishes and stay safe!
