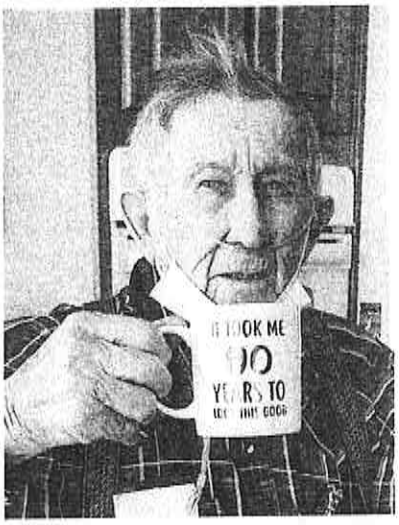
Happy 90th Birthday Charlie Hahnkamp!



Some call you a Legend, but we know you as a Dad, Grandfather, and Great-Grandfather. You not only taught us all how to work and ride, but also how to have fun and appreciate a good story and a funny joke. Your love and devotion to grandma through sickness and health taught us volumes about love as well! Here's to many more adventures this year!

With Love, Your Family

Happy 90Th Birthday

Charlie Hahnkamp will celebrate his 90th birthday, Tuesday, February 2nd.

I, for one, am so blessed to know and keep company with a gentleman and honest to goodness real cowboy. He is an answer to my prayers. Cards and birthday wishes would be awesome.

Hard to Catch

Bryce Angell

I woke one July morning, cleared my throat and scratched my head.
Then threw the covers off and gladly climbed right out of bed.
I gobbled down three hotcakes, finished off an egg or two,
and headed for the round corral. I had a job to do.
I loved to see the sunrise, while I tossed the horses hay.
But looked square in the gelding's eyes-the hated dapple gray.
The gray was needing horseshoes, getting long on every hoof.
But first I had to catch him. He was dang near capture proof.
He didn't have a horse's name like Whiskey, Blue or Scratch.
The cowboys named him what he was and called him Hard to Catch.
The doggone, ornery dapple gray would circle 'round the corral.
If you stepped within a foot or two, he'd turn and run like %$##.
Ole Hard to Catch was prob'ly thinking, "Sorry looking fool."
I had the means to catch the gray but never used the tool.
I heard a fellar holler, "Go and get yourself a rope.
And make the biggest loop you can then toss it with some hope."
I hadn't learned to toss a rope or throw a lariat.
But Hard to Catch had pushed me to a place he might regret.
So, I walked back to the saddle shop and found a dusty rope.
I crossed my fingers for good luck. Am I a wishful dope?
Hard to Catch was eyeing me and looking full of heck.
But when I tossed the rope it landed clean around his neck!
I don't know who was more astonished, me or Hard to Catch.
His roguish running 'round the corral had finally met its match.
And now Ole Hard to Catch ain't really hard to catch no more.
Cuz when he sees my lariat, he knows he's plumb done for.

Senator Welborn's Weekly Review

HELENA:

This past week saw the action ramp up a tick. In the Senate Resources committee, among other things,we took up the confirmation of DEQ Director Chris Dorrington. Mr. Dorrington was conformed by the full Senate 50-0 and is now officially the new Director.

I also debated Senate Bill 104 before the full Senate this week.

It's a proposal that I was asked to introduce, by local Attorney Lori Harshbarger, who is Chair of the Family Law Section off the State Bar. This measure would allow the use of Arbitration in divorce and family law cases.

This gives families another tool to settle disputes, perhaps sidestepping having to take their disputes to District Court. This passed the Full Senate 50-0 and is waiting to be introduced in the House of Representatives.

HB 102, the highly publicized conceal & carry gun legislation, which has already passed the House, is being amended in the Senate to make Concert and Sporting venues or any where for that matter on College Campuses, that serves alcohol, or has metal detecters in use.

There are also changes being made to address concerns made by K-12 education, and State and local Governments.

I'm thinking with the proposed amendments, there will be the needed votes to pass the measure in the Senate, sending it to the Governor's desk for his signature.

Wrapping up this week's report, I'd like to recap Governor Gianforte's first State of the State address this past Thursday night.

We heard the Governor talk about his Montana Comeback Plan, which should deliver results . The plan addresses our immediate needs of getting the state's economy opened up, supporting small businesses and families, and meeting healthcare demands. After 16 years of Democrat leadership in the Governor's office, I'm happy join all GOP, and a handful of Democrat Senators, in working with Governor Gianforte, to make our shared policy goals a reality. Expanded healthcare and education opportunities, fewer taxes and regulations, better jobs, and greater individual liberty will drive Montana to a more prosperous future.

WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

REPRESENTATIVE TOM WELCH MONTANA HD 72

We are one month into the 2021 Legislative session. We are seeing activity pick up considerably with both Floor sessions and Committees lasting longer. My typical day at the Capitol begins around 7am and I try to leave by 6pm knowing I will be reading Bills and doing paperwork or participating in a Zoom meeting before I get to bed. I have been home once since the Session started!

A highlight of the past week was Governor Greg Gianforte delivering his first State of the State Address where he laid out his Montana Comeback Plan. I look forward to working with Governor Gianforte and his staff to expand healthcare and education opportunities, reduce taxes and regulations, and create better paying jobs.

This week is National School Choice Week. The House Education Committee is highlighting several Bills that will expand educational opportunities for Montana families. Legislation being considered will put the focuses back on students instead of systems.

One proposal will revise the Tax Credit Scholarship Program to increase the maximum deduction and reduce burdensome regulations on those assessing the scholarships. House Bill 129 has already passed the House Tax Committee on which I serve as Vice Chairman. HB 129 amends the existing Montana Family Education Savings Program to allow for K-12 expenditures as opposed to just college expenses. Another proposal being drafted will create special education savings accounts.

The Senate is putting forth Bills to strengthen opportunities in Montana's public schools by requiring gifted and talented programs, expanding Career & Technical Education programs, and allowing public school diplomas to be issued for students in alternative programs.

On the healthcare front, House Bill 43 had its first committee hearing this week in the House Human Services Committee on which I serve. This Bill would expand access to healthcare by permanently eliminating the regulations on telemedicine that were temporarily waived due to COVID.

On a more personal note, I had the pleasure of carrying Senate Bill 5 on the House floor this week. This Bill honors

Montana law enforcement officer Otto Fossen who lost his life while on duty back in 1957. Not only during my youth in Powell County was I raised around some of his grandchildren but a granddaughter, Arlene Williams, is a long time Dillon resident. This recognition of Otto Fossen was long past due and I am humbled to have played a small part in this lasting memorial.

Be careful, stay safe and Thank You for allowing me to continue to represent you in the Montana Legislature.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Directors of West Side Canal Company will hold a meeting on Wednesday, February 03, 2021 at 10:00 a.m. via telephone conference call by dialing 781-448-4382 and entering 87873 when prompted. The agenda includes adjudication issues, budget issues and other matters which may properly come before the Board.

Letter to the Editor

The short piece on a horse story, by someone who drops names for unknown purpose was interesting and thought provoking. I worry that the author may stand in with people he does not know.

He may have forgotten some 1980s history where Mr Zlobin's boss remarked on Sen. Kennedy's letter to the KGB as coming from a 'useful idiot' who was of little account, being a dilletante who not grown within the Russian-Soviet system.

The Russian tiger remains unchanged --- a threat to near and far.

Sincerely
Daniel H Eudaily
