GOVERNOR GIANFORTE SIGNS LIABILITY PROTECTIONS BILL INTO LAW

Governor Greg Gianforte today signed Senate Bill No. 65 into law. The new law shields businesses, health care providers, nonprofit organizations, and places of worship from coronavirus-related lawsuits, provided they take measures to protect individuals from COVID-19 and follow public health guidelines.

"On January 5th, I addressed how critical it is to protect businesses, nonprofit organizations, places of worship, and health care providers from lawsuits if they make a good faith effort to protect individuals from the spread of the coronavirus and follow clear public health guidelines," Governor Gianforte said. "And the legislature delivered."

Governor Gianforte continued, "On January 5th, Senator Fitzpatrick introduced SB 65, and within a month, it cleared the Legislature with bipartisan support. I want to thank every legislator – Republican and Democrat – who recognized the importance of protecting businesses, nonprofits, and others that protect their workers, their customers, and their clients."

Senator Fitzpatrick, the bill's primary sponsor, joined Governor Gianforte with Senate President Mark Blasdel, Speaker of the House Wylie Galt, and Rep. Mark Noland in celebrating the bill's signing.

"As an attorney, I know how important it is for folks to be protected from frivolous lawsuits. If you're taking reasonable and responsible precautions to protect your employees, your members, your customers from COVID-19, you shouldn't have to worry about unnecessary litigation. At the same time, this bill doesn't give anyone a free pass and it makes clear that Montanans are protected from bad actors. There's no immunity from lawsuits in the event someone is intentionally or recklessly creating a situation that leads to serious COVID-19 problems," Sen. Steve Fitzpatrick, (R., SD-10) said.

"It's fitting that the first major piece of legislation signed by our new Governor is key to getting Montanans back to work and kickstarting our recovery from the economic devastation of the COVID-19 pandemic. With Senate Bill 65 signed into law, we're beginning the Montana Comeback," Senate President Mark Blasdel (R., SD-4) said.

"The Montana House worked quickly to ensure that Senate Bill 65 was one of the first bills to reach Governor Gianforte's desk. This is a priority bill for Republicans to get Montana's economy opened up and protect businesses, churches, and individuals from COVID liability. I am glad to see the Governor signing it into law today," Speaker of the Montana House Wylie Galt (R., HD-30) said.

"We need folks to be allowed to get back to work. In order to do this, businesses must have protections from frivolous lawsuits. That is why I was honored to carry Senate Bill 65 through the House and thank Governor Gianforte for signing it today," Rep. Mark Noland (R., HD-10) said.

Organizations representing Montana businesses welcomed Governor Gianforte's signing of SB 65.

Todd O'Hair, president and CEO of the Montana Chamber of Commerce: "Liability protections related to COVID-19 emerged as a top issue for the Montana Chamber and the businesses we represent within weeks of the pandemic arriving in our state. On behalf of the business community, we'd like to extend our thanks to Governor Gianforte for his leadership in getting this bill to the finish line. SB 65 and its signing, is an important step in rebuilding our state's economy."

Brad Griffin, president of Montana Retail Association and Montana Restaurant Association: "Restaurants and retailers across Montana have worked hard over the last year to keep their doors open while also protecting the health of their staff and customers. SB 65 is a critical to getting our economy going again, and I thank Governor Gianforte and the bill's sponsor, Senator Fitzpatrick, for getting this legislation across the finish line."

Steve Snezek, executive director of Montana Building Industry Association: "Since the start of the pandemic, home building professionals have taken seriously their duties to protect their clients' and employees' health as we work in to keep folks safe and comfortable at home. SB 65 allows home builders to continue their work for Montanans with the assurance that observing best practices for COVID safety are a defense from unnecessary litigation."

Cary Hegreberg, president and CEO of the Montana Bankers Association: "We are extremely grateful to the Legislature and to Gov. Gianforte for recognizing the importance of getting this bill passed and signed into law as quickly as possible. Bankers throughout the State have worked tirelessly for a year now working with families and business owners struggling to make financial ends meet, and SB 65 goes a long way in minimizing liabilities for just trying to do the right thing."

Ronda Wiggers, on behalf of National Federation of Independent Business, Montana: "Montana's Main Street businesses breathed a collective sigh of relief after Gov. Gianforte signed SB 65 into law today. The Governor's action sends a clear message that he will not allow Montana small businesses to become victims of frivolous lawsuits. I commend Senator Fitzpatrick for shepherding this vital piece of legislation through the Legislature, and thank the Governor for signing it into law. Small businesses can now turn back to their normal, everyday struggles of keeping their doors open and working towards Montana's economic recovery."

WINTER WINDS

LaVon D. Brillhart

The cold Arctic winds whip bitterly throughout the day
the coldness ached with revenge
sun dogs bring glory to the skies
now geese formed a V and sounded
the skies
cars and trucks chugged and puffed as ancient dinosaurs that once roamed the lands
the chimneys busy with continued smoke
smells of burning wood fill the frozen nostrils
the warm days of summer a faint thought the warm winds forgotten and now
a dream
hot chocolate.....hot coffee
make smiles in cozy rooms
sleep my bear friend
the days and nights will pass
while you hibernate
the lines of age deepen with years of weather
but tomorrow will come.....
so smile my friend.....smile.....

FWP internship opportunities

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks has offered internships to college students for 30 years. Opportunities in 2021 can be found on our FWP website at: https://fwp.mt.gov/aboutfwp/employment; click on "Internships."

College students are given an opportunity to gain practical experience in their field of study by serving as interns for the agency. Students take what they learn in the classroom into a hands-on setting in the career world. Through this combined learning program, students become better prepared for the world of everyday work. Students usually receive academic credit and a grade while completing practicum requirements through their college.

Students are urged to contact their college career placement office for current postings of announcements or visit the FWP website. Most application deadlines are in early March. For more information or questions, contact Debbie Cheek, statewide intern coordinator, at 406-439-8299.

WEEKLY REPORT BY SENATOR JEFF WELBORN

I've received a lot of correspondence regarding HB 102, regarding fire arms concealed carry. A very emotional issue regardless of where you stand. I respect all opinions on the matter, but in the end I voted in favor of the proposal, after we in the Senate overhauled many elements of the original version, coming from the House. Due to limited time and space, I won't dive into the changes in detail, however its important to note we addressed the major concerns of Higher Education, K-12 Education, Local Governments, and business owners, before passing the final version, and sending it back to the House where they will most likely accept our changes.

With the changes made HB 102 achieves a common sense approach, while allowing law abiding citizens to better protect them selves.

HB 102 changes nothing about who can own and carry a firearm and who can't. If a person is not allowed to possess a firearm, then that person is not allowed to carry one. HB 102 changes nothing about that. Every homeowner or business owner has the right to maintain control over what rules they want established in their home or place of business. If they want people to be able to exercise their Second Amendment rights on their property, they can allow that. If they would prefer folks don't carry firearms on their property, they can prohibit them. HB 102 does not change that. It simply leaves that designation up to the property owner as opposed to the government making the rules.

Here's what this bill will do. HB 102 will allow anyone who is legally allowed to own a firearm to carry that firearm wherever they have a legal right to be. Not to brandish it, but to have a firearm on their person, for use in case they need to defend themselves or others.

There is plenty of data to back up that Constitutional carry acts as a deterrent. When criminals know law-abiding gun owners can carry firearms wherever they go, those same criminals can no longer pinpoint locations where potential victims will be defenseless.

Shifting gears to the budget process:

The past couple of weeks in the Natural resources and transportation budget sub-committee, which I sit on has been taking testimony from and asking questions of the different agencies, regarding different programs and spending within their respective departments. This is a very lean budget cycle, and we have much work to do to fund vital and critical programs and projects, with the available dollars. Not an easy thing to do, but something our constitution charges with accomplishing, is a structurally balanced budget. In other words, spending can't out pace revenue, and that's a good thing.

I've been working with other legislators and the Department of Transportation, to move ahead the bridge replacement on Granite Creek near Nevada City, currently on schedule for 2025. Vital to public safety, and commerce requirements for folks that travel Hwy 287, for business, school activities, and highway commerce, as its on the most direct route from Ennis to Dillon, and beyond. I feel its vital to get this bridge replaced as soon as possible.

We are also trying to re-align some spending within the DNRC budget to send a little more to local conservation districts for the good work that they do, from stream bank projects, to setting up wash stations for invasive species, to weed control projects, these volunteer groups get a tremendous amount of work done, on very tight budgets. It's the feeling of our committee, that the efficiencies achieved are a benefit to all Montanans.

One in Six Men
Will Develop Prostate Cancer

Help beat the odds with Barrett Hospital & HealthCare

One in six men will get prostate cancer in their lifetimes. After skin cancer, prostate cancer is the most common cancer in men. Luckily, while the odds seem intimidating, there are plenty of ways to turn them around. Eat right, exercise, and schedule your PSA screening. As with all cancers, the sooner prostate cancer is caught, the sooner it's fought. Don't live in fear that the next one could be you—and don't be a statistic. Take action against prostate cancer today.

Schedule your PSA screening at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare today by calling 406-683-1188.
