Former Butte/Dillon mother pleads guilty in baby daughter death

Reportedly under the influence of meth at the time as reported on KXLF by John Emeigh

A former Butte / Dillon woman pleaded guilty Thursday in connection with the death of her infant daughter in 2019.

Audria Rose Shannon Nickerson, 31, changed her plea to guilty to negligent homicide in Butte District Court via remote video from the Butte jail, according to Butte Chief Deputy County Attorney Samm Cox.

Nickerson is accused of falling asleep on her baby daughter while in her car parked near the Butte police department in September of 2019. Nickerson was under the influence of methamphetamine at the time.

Cox said a pre-sentence investigation will be conducted before a sentencing date is set for Nickerson, who remains jailed.

Nickerson was in the process of packing to move from Butte to Maine, when the incident occurred. She had gotten into an argument with her husband and left in her car with her children. Nickerson, who was under the influence of meth at the time, parked near the police station, where she accidentally smothered her infant daughter by falling asleep on her.

Nickerson was not arrested at the time. She had moved to Maine and was arrested three months later after toxicology reports showed meth in her system.

performance among the nation's rural hospitals based on the results of the Hospital Strength INDEX®. Over the course of the last eleven years, the INDEX has grown to become the industry's most comprehensive and objective assessment of rural hospital performance. Based entirely on public data and utilizing 36 independent indicators, the INDEX assesses rural hospitals across eight pillars of performance, including market share, quality, outcomes, patient perspective, cost, charge, and financial efficiency.

In addition to The Chartis Center for Rural Health Top 100 Critical Access Hospital award, Barrett Hospital & HealthCare has also been a four-time recipient of the National Rural Health Association (NRHA) Top 20 CAHs. There are only six critical access hospitals in the nation that have achieved Top 20 national ranking four times, and Barrett Hospital & HealthCare is proud to be among this elite group.

BEAVERHEAD COUNTY

Campus Compact Announces 2021 Newman Civic Fellows

Campus Compact, a Boston-based non-profit organization working to advance the public purposes of higher education, has announced the 212 students who will make up the organization's 2021-2022 cohort of Newman Civic Fellows. Savannah Vannett, a student at the University of Montana Western, will join students from 39 states, Washington, D.C., and Mexico to form the 2021 cohort. The students selected for the fellowship are leaders on their campuses who demonstrate a commitment to finding solutions for challenges facing communities locally, nationally, and internationally.

Vannett is the true embodiment of a civic leader. While double majoring in psychology and elementary education, she utilizes her spare time to volunteer and engage her community in events to support those in need. The majority of Savannah's civic engagement has been targeting the issue of food insecurity in her community. Savannah has helped in the origination and implementation of monthly events to serve food to those in need. Beyond that, Savannah also hosted events to improve social belonging and support to the same population.

On campus, Vannett is a member of PATH (Peers Advocating Towards Health), a student group that works to engage and educate students about various health topics, as well as a Mentor in the TRIO SSS program. In both roles, she works to organize and implement tabling events, interactive educational events, and increase social belonging. Some of the events that Vannett has had a hand in making successful are Voter Registration Day, First-Generation College Student Day, and sexual health awareness events.

"Throughout my entire life, there have always been resources to help me through most of life's many challenges. I want to give back to the resources that helped me along the way. My passion is to help people. That is why I am going to school and volunteering to make the community I live in a better place. I want to help people so they can pass it on!" said Vannett.

FAMILY, PARENTING, and MENTAL HEALTH

Three-part ZOOM and in-person series in Dillon - March/April Parenting children from toddlers to teens is never easy. Family dynamics are always undergoing change. And when an epidemic is added to the mix, a lot of norms undergo serious upheavals. The upcoming three-part series on "Family, Parenting, and Mental Health" addresses many of the changes while providing insights and parenting tools to make the numerous transitions a little smoother.

"Our families, teachers, and community have been through a lot since last March" according to Randy Shipman, Elementary District Superintendent. "This series provides everyone, but especially parents, some additional resources and support as we look to a future where COVID isn't the main topic of discussion."

The first presentation is Wednesday, March 17 at 7 p.m. The focus is on a newly available free and confidential family resource: <https://parentguidance.org>. Dr. Kevin Skinner, Clinical Director and family therapist said the website offers education and therapeutic support to empower and give parents hope as they support their child's mental health. "We discuss all that rough-life stuff parents sometimes feel discomfort discussing with their children."

While some attendees may watch the ZOOM presentation at home, the Parkview School Cafeteria is open for those who wish to view the presentation on a big screen. Refreshments will be served. Registration for all those interested is online at: <https://cookcenter.info/BeaverheadCountySchools>. Attendees may also register at the Parkview Cafeteria upon arriving.

The series continues on April 7th at 7 p.m. with a focus on "Supporting Children's Mental Health in a Pandemic." Billings based clinical therapist and addiction counselor Michelle Pinnow believes "counseling should be a human experience; one in which you feel supported and connected as you wrestle with life, parenting, and a pandemic!" She concentrates her practice on children and teenagers.

This presentation will be on ZOOM and available for big screen viewing at the Parkview Cafeteria. Refreshments will be served. As the date gets closer the registration link will be shared.

Last, but not least is the April 28th in-person presentation by Deputy Dave Gomez with the Boise Sheriff's Office and his insights on "Hidden Danger: Social Media and the Internet." Gomez is a proactive police officer who works and deals with social media issues on a daily basis. He focuses on the top "apps" youth use which often

Dillon Middle School News March 8-12, 2021

Here's the Dillon Middle School News for the week of March 8 through 12th, 2021.

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: Today, Monday, we will enjoy chicken fajita tacos. Tuesday, hot dogs with trimmings will be served. On Wednesday, we will enjoy local beef hamburgers served with trimmings. And on Thursday, we will have chili salad on chips with trimmings.

We will not be in school on Friday, March 12th. School will resume Monday, March 15th.

Last week was parent teacher conferences for the middle school. If you missed this very important event, and you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to email your child's teachers.

Mr. Williams' classes have been busy with badminton and ping pong. This week, his classes participated in a badminton tournament. This semester's badminton champions are Carter Curnow and Taylor Handlos. They had a great battle in the championship versus Colby Garland and Aden Harding. Carter and Taylor will play last semester's champs, Braxtyn Turney and Cohen Hartman for the all school championship. Stay tuned for results of this and the upcoming ping pong tournament.

In Mr. Anderson's technology class, the 8th graders have been learning how to create spread sheets and formulas for calculating data.

In Mrs. Gibson's Montana history classes are hard at work studying Montana railroads. They are also doing an extended study on Charlie Russell, the famous American artist of the American Old West. The sixth graders are beginning a study of famous Roman individuals.

In Mrs. Bartlome's art classes, the seventh grade is learning about Pablo Picasso and are making cubism musician collages. The sixth graders just finished making radial design mandalas, which are circular designs that started in the Tibetan culture but is seen in other cultures around the world.
