Chloe Lynn Worl

Chloe Lynn Worl passed away in a motor vehicle accident on March 10, 2021 in Dillon, Montana. A beautiful soul gained her wings and joined her beloved grandparents in heaven.

Chloe, 25, was born on August 10, 1995, the first-born daughter to Keith and Connie Worl of Anaconda, Montana. She attended Dwyer and Lincoln Elementary Schools and was a proud Copperhead attending Anaconda High School. During her high school years, Chloe was an all-around hard-working student and leader. She was a leader in the National Honor Society, HOSA, Orchestra, Choraleers, and was student representative for the Anaconda Community Intervention program. Chloe played softball for four years and played one heck of a game as second baseman. She was known as a power hitter. She worked hard between sports, demonstrated dedication to her schoolwork, and juggled three jobs during high school. Chloe was very musical and was blessed with a beautiful voice. She loved to sing. She was a very accomplished cellist and performed two years with the Butte Symphony Orchestra. Chloe blessed us all with her talents.

Dillon, MT Since 1991

Following graduation in 2014, Chloe moved to Dillon to attend the University of Montana Western where she earned a bachelor's degree in molecular biology. Chloe worked in the materials department at Barrett Hospital and had planned to attend the University of Montana, School of Pharmacy, in the fall.

In Dillon, she met her soulmate, Ron Freeman. Chloe and Ron were planning their marriage and future together. Chloe and Ron, along with their fur babies, Lattie and Winchester, were excited about their future together. If you knew Chloe, you know she would have had a pair of cowboy boots on under that wedding dress! Chloe loved Ron with all her heart. He was her soulmate and best friend and will forever be a member of the Worl family.

Chloe's love for horses developed early in life. She cleaned stalls and took horseback riding lessons at the Kissonck Horse Ranch near Butte when she was a young child. Those skills led her to competing in state horsemanship competitions. Her love for riding was renewed when she joined the Ramblin Rose Drill Team in Dillon. Chloe loved her horse "Tank" and took great pride in the drill team. Chloe and her team performed throughout Montana at fairs and rodeos, winning several state competitions.

At the age of two, she became a big sister when Brooke was born. Chloe loved her role as big sister. She loved her siblings, Brooke, Masen, and Riley. Chloe was always there for her siblings, whether it was to give advice, a hug, or a kick in the behind. Chloe pushed them to reach their goals and was always proud of their accomplishments. Chloe loved watching Masen play baseball. She was his biggest fan. Great times were had when Chloe attended dance competitions to watch Riley perform. She was so proud of her sister when she won the most photogenic award at a competition in Billings. She was the person to call when things got tough or confusing as she knew what to say to relieve whatever burden was at hand. She was also an honorary big sister to Madison and Hunter Collinsworth. There was not a situation that Chloe couldn't handle.

Chloe loved her cousins. From chasing Keyera around the house with fish guts, punching Keith in the arm, having spit ball fights with Edd, Eric, and Shane in Grandma Riley's basement, Chloe would laugh a mischievous laugh. Chloe was the apple of her grandparents' eyes. She loved them dearly. She was her Papa Ray's best buddy.

Chloe loved the outdoors. She treasured camping with family in Princeton and riding ATV's. Some of her best times were with the Hagger, Baumgartner, Faulkner, Connors, and Michalsky families. Family dinner night with the Collinsworth's was always a fun time.

Chloe was never afraid of a little dirt. She and her sister, Brooke spent many days making mud pies, forcing their cousin Shane to taste-test them. She was an excellent hunter and always looked forward to the yearly trip to Forsyth to hunt with her cousins. At five foot tall, Chloe was tough as nails and a spitfire. Chloe knew how to get things done right and was not afraid to tell you to get out of her way so she could just do it herself. She had a sailor's mouth and an infectious laugh. She would brighten any room up with her smile and her beautiful blue eyes would sparkle when she laughed. People were drawn to Chloe because she just brought out the best in everyone. Chloe was always there to give a hand to anyone who needed it.

Chloe is preceded in death by her grandparents Ed and Mary Shea, Leeanne and Ray Riley, Robert Worl, Uncle Russell "Rusty" Worl, great grandparents, Catherine and John Shea, Lorraine and Leo Michalsky, and Frances McCord; great aunt Helen Kingsberry, great uncles Paul McHugh, Dan Shea, Bob Shea and Don Shea, and great aunt and uncle, LaVonna and Tony Baumgartner.

Chloe is survived by her parents Keith and Connie Worl and siblings, Brooke, Masen and Riley Worl, the love of her life, Ron Freeman and future in-laws, Nicole and Chris Booth and Matt Freeman; aunts and uncles, Criss Shea, of Philipsburg, LaLani and Mike Tarrant, of Butte, Mike and Shonna Worl of Butte and Marissa Worl of Spokane, WA. Cousins, Edd Rigby, Eric Rigby, Shane Rigby, Keith Tarrant, Joshanne Tarrant, Keyera Forrest, Joe Worl, Samantha Worl, Shyanne Worl, Krisha Leadingham, Selena Worl, Daniel Worl, Alex Coco, Nural Coco, and Ursula Delgado.

The world will never be the same without you Chloe. May your grandparents wrap their arms around you and welcome you warmly to heaven.

A celebration of life will be held on March 16, 2021 at 12:00 pm at the Washoe Theater in Anaconda. A reception will follow at the Elks. Please follow Covid-19 restrictions by wearing a mask so we can all gather safely to celebrate Chloe's life. It would be lovely if you brought a flower to the celebration that reminds you of Chloe.

Attorney General Knudsen Joins Lawsuit

Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced that the State of Montana has joined a lawsuit against the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) over its dangerous immigration policy that halts nearly all deportations for 100 days, even for those charged with or convicted of crimes. Arizona and Montana also filed a motion for preliminary injunction asking the court to stop the DHS policies from being implemented.

The original complaint filed by Arizona challenged the DHS Memorandum issued on the first day of the Biden Administration, called the "immediate 100-day Pause on Removals." In addition to the DHS policy, Arizona and Montana are also now challenging the "Interim Guidance" issued by the Acting Director of ICE on February 18, 2021, which tries to supersede the original Memorandum but does not substantively change the policy to pause nearly all deportations of those who entered the country before November 1, 2020.

The amended complaint alleges that the original Memorandum and the Interim Guidance were promulgated without providing notice to Arizona and Montana, in violation of each State's Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with DHS. Additionally, both policies are in direct violation of federal law, 8 U.S.C. § 1231, that requires an alien, who has received a final deportation order, to be removed from the United States within 90 days.

The DHS Memorandum states it is to be in effect for 100 days, and the Interim Guidance states it is to be in effect for 90 days, but no apparent limiting factor is explained. If this action is permitted to stand, DHS could implement these policies for a longer period or even indefinitely, thus allowing the current Administration to unilaterally amend immigration laws without the required congressional action.

In a filed declaration, DOJ Division of Criminal Investigation Administrator Brian Lockerby states that nearly all of the methamphetamine available in Montana originates in Mexico from drug cartels. Further, law enforcement has confirmed via arrests that cartel members were smuggling meth into Montana. Pausing removals is likely to "increase the infusion of drugs into Montana, increase drug-related violent and property crimes, and harm the State's effort to promote public safety and health."

"Meth trafficked into Montana by Mexican drug cartels has wracked our state. The problem will only be made worse if the Biden administration continues to allow criminals to stay in the country," Montana AG said.

"If asked about the poorest policy choice I've ever seen in government, this would be a strong contender," said Arizona Attorney General Mark Brnovich. "Blindly releasing thousands of people, including convicted criminals and those that may be spreading COVID-19 into our state, is both unconscionable and a violation of federal law."

DMS News March 15-19, 2021

Here's the Dillon Middle School News for the week of March 15 through 19, 2021.

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: Monday we will enjoy chicken alfredo served with a biscuit. Tuesday, sub sandwiches will be served with trimmings and chips. Wednesday we will have local beef hamburgers served with trimmings. Thursday, we will enjoy chicken teriyaki served with rice and a bread stick. And on Friday, we will have chicken patty sandwiches served with bean salad.

In seventh grade COVID Recovery Reading, students are working on individual projects. Each student was able to decide what area of study he or she wished to pursue. If you were to visit the room you would see models of Normandy Beach on D-Day, a covered wagon, and an Egyptian pyramid being built. Students are even going to meet a Paralympian and have a Zoom meeting with him. This should be a fun way to learn about the games. It has been enjoyable for everyone to learn what each student finds interesting and wishes to share with the class.

Seventh graders spreading random acts of kindness... What?? Yes, you heard correctly. Seventh graders are learning that when a person does something kind for another, it feels good. They are building the habit of helping others, that good feeling that comes with it, and realizing they don't always need to be recognized for it.
