A Memorial is being held in her honor on March 15th at 1 PM at Our Savior's Lutheran Church Memorial Contributions may be made to Beaverhead Senior Citizens Center - Building Fund or P.E.O. Sisterhood.

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE FROM REP TOM WELCH

Greeting from a very busy Montana Legislature! The second half of the 2021 Legislative session started this past week with focus on putting together a conservative State budget including meaningful tax reductions.

The Appropriations subcommittees finished their reviews of State agency budgets the first half of the session. The full Appropriations Committee came together this week to begin compiling Montana's budget for the next biennium.

Along with that, the House and Senate have been moving tax reduction Bills to jump start our economy and put more money back into the hands of families and businesses. This week, the Senate passed House Bill 303 the BIG Job Act which will increase the business equipment tax exemption from $100,000 to $200,000. This particular Bill positively benefits many area small businesses as well as many locals involved in the agricultural industry.

As the Majority Vice Chairman of the House Taxation Committee, I am deeply involved with the Governor's office, the Senate, and Legislative Fiscal Services as we begin to address the dozens of Bills remaining in play which impact State revenue. This upcoming Friday, as a Committee, we will hold a Hearing on HJ 2, the statutorily required revenue estimating resolution that the House Tax Committee must set and pass as a key part of the Budget process.

Additional Bills that the Tax Committee expects to hear in coming days include those dealing with the recreational marijuana industry and the millions of dollars involved as well as those dealing with the movie industry in Montana. With respect to the eight Bills introduced by myself this Session, all eight remain alive and moving forward. Two, HB 38 Establish Legislative Intent for Home and Community Based Service Waivers and HB 52 Revise Property Tax Reporting and Clarifying AUM Calculations, are headed to the Governor for his signature.

My HB 170 titled Revise Laws to Include Renewable Hydrogen passed the House this past week on extremely strong bi-partisan votes of 89-11 and 85-14 respectively on 2nd and 3rd reading and is now headed to the Senate for Committee and Floor action. This Bill establishes the initial operating and tax framework for a proposed new green hydrogen plant within my House District near Butte which if it comes to being, would involve hundreds of construction jobs over the next 3-5 years, dozens of permanent jobs when completed, a near Billion-dollar up-front investment in Southwest Montana and estimated annual property tax payments in excess of $10 million per year.

Lastly, I want to mention that I appreciate hearing from all of you on the various Bills and issues we are addressing. I am currently receiving hundreds of emails per day in addition to dozens of phone calls. In that we do not enjoy the luxury of having support Staff, I am simply unable to always reply in a timely manner if even at all. I do, however, want you to know that I am receiving your messages and do appreciate hearing your views on the wide variety of issues we face daily. Thank you!

The Camp Cook

Bryce Angell

A camp cook isn't just a cook. His job has many tasks.

The cowboys all depend on him. His face wears many masks.

He wakes you up at 5:00 am to eat fried eggs and ham, then toss you two hot biscuits with some butter and some jam.

He'll holler, "We ain't got all day. Let's move on up the trail;

unless you think you're special or a feelin' mighty frail."

The camp cook has a sewing box. He'll mend a torn up shirt.

He carries rolled up bandages to fix a cowboy's hurt.

I've seen the cook set broken legs with ties and wooden splints.

He doesn't seem to mind their pain. I've never seen him wince.

The camp cook listens to a cowboy's daily sad complaint, then tells him what a lonesome picture he has tried to paint.

Each cowboy gives the cook respect. His name they won't defile.

You cause him grief; he'll taint your food and do it with a smile.

At night the cook will tell each cowboy he's a knucklehead. Yet will check the young men's sleeping bags to see they're safe in bed.

And when the men are all asleep the cook will reminisce.

He remembers back when he was young. Those days he sure does miss.

He dreams about the girl he loved. His life was not for her.

A cowboy she could never love. Her life was jewels and fur.

His mind goes back to fixing food. Those cowboys sure can eat.

For breakfast, maybe just this time, an extra little treat.

So, he'll fuss up top the wagon shelf, find old, outdated spam.

Then grab Backstrap Molasses, call his breakfast Fried Toe Jam.

Then climb back in the wagon and his eyes will start to droop.

But first he'll thank the Good Lord that he's still part of this group.

ABOUT TOWN

There have been a few happenings about town: There was a single rollover accident Monday morning about 7 am a mile north on Highway 41. No injuries reported.

The Dillon Volunteer Fire Department was called out to Webster Lane Saturday when a grass fire caused by someone burning ditches went out of control.

Early in the morning Saturday, a semi loaded with onions rolled over onto the railroad tracks by Browns Bridge.

Montana Department of Justice Joins FTC to Shut Down Massive Charity Fraud Telefunding Operation

The Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection, the Federal Trade Commission, and dozens of agencies from around the nation, have stopped a massive telefunding operation that bombarded 67 million consumers with 1.3 billion deceptive charitable fundraising calls (mostly illegal robocalls). The defendants collected more than $110 million using their deceptive solicitations.

Associated Community Services (ACS) and several related defendants have agreed to settle charges by the FTC and state agencies that they duped Americans into donating to charities that failed to provide the services they promised. The complaint names ACS and its sister companies Central Processing Services and Community Services Appeal, their owners, and ACS senior managers.

"We're glad to be taking these scammers offline. On my watch, the Department of Justice will continue to crack down on people who seek to take advantage of Montanans and their good will," Attorney General Austin Knudsen said.

"Deceptive charitable fundraising can be big business for scammers, especially when they use illegal robocalls," said Daniel Kaufman, Acting Director of the FTC's Bureau of Consumer Protection. "The FTC and our state partners are prepared to hold fraudsters accountable when they target generous consumers with lies."

According to the complaint, the defendants knew the organizations for which they fundraised spent little or no money on the charitable causes they claimed to support. The defendants kept as much 90 cents of every dollar they solicited from donors on behalf of the charities. The complaint also alleges the defendants made their deceptive pitches since at least 2008 on behalf of numerous organizations that claimed to support homeless veterans, house fire victims, breast cancer patients, autistic children, and other causes. ACS was also the major fundraiser for the sham Cancer Fund charities that were shut down by the FTC and states in 2015.

In many instances, the complaint alleges, ACS and later Directele knowingly violated the Telemarketing Sales Rule (TSR) by using soundboard technology in telemarketing calls. The complaint also charges ACS with making harassing calls, noting that ACS called more than 1.3 million phone numbers more than ten times in a single week and 7.8 million numbers more than twice in an hour. More than 500 phone numbers were even called 5,000 times or more.

ACS defendants were the subject of 20 prior law enforcement actions for their fundraising practices. These defendants stopped operating in September 2019. Gilstorf purchased Directele and Dale Corp in October 2019 and, with Lia, the Directele defendants allegedly continued the deceptive fundraising and illegal telemarketing practices. The complaint alleges the defendants violated Montana laws, the FTC Act, the TSR, and numerous other state laws.

Montana consumers with concerns can visit the FTC Consumer Response Center, call the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Protection (OCP) at 1-800-481-6896 or (406) 444-4500, or email contactocp@mt.gov. For ongoing consumer tips, follow OCP on Facebook.
