Fredrick "Butch" Girard

Word has been received of the passing of Fredrick "Butch" Girard. November 17, 1954 - March 21, 2021

David Joseph Carpenter

April 06, 1989 - March 15, 2021

On April 06, 1989, the Lord blessed Dale and Roseann Carpenter with a retirement present, David Joseph Carpenter. David was the youngest of their six children and the apple of his sibling's eyes. They would jokingly refer to him as 'King David'. Growing up on the family ranch in Melrose was where his adventurous life began. As a child David was able to learn the necessary skills of cattle ranching from his father. He was taught love, compassion, and caring for others from his mother. Traits he would carry throughout his life.

He was educated in Melrose Elementary with his life-long friends Jake Kearns and J.M. Peck. David graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 2007 and was a member of Beavers 2006 Championship Football team.

Dave's passion was fishing. If there was a fish, he wanted to catch it. He often would say he was taught by the best, "Decker". Steelheading with his extended family the D'Arcys (whom he loved dearly) was his favorite.

Hunting was his second passion. Bow hunting with Tom John and McLeod was his favorite. He loved rifle hunting with his father, brothers, and sister-in-law Twylla. Dave also was passionate for motorcycling/snowmobiling with his best friend Jory Lawrence and floating the Big Hole River with his buddies.

David and Rachel Yerkich were married April 12, 2013. From that union, they were blessed with their two beautiful children, Coy Leighton (7) and Charlee Rose (5). They later divorced yet remained friends. The role of father was our David's destiny. There was nothing he loved more than his children. Camping at Browns Lake, fishing the 'Gates', floating the Big Hole, hunting in Melrose and Elk Park; everything he loved to do he wanted his children to learn and love, which they did. A day never passed that Dave would not share a milestone or accomplishment of his two precious babies. They were his everything!

David's work career started early on the Ranch with his father and brother Travis. He realized working with his hands was what he wanted to do. He worked as an Apprentice Carpenter building the Meriwether Ranch, Tobiness Construction, and helping his big brother, Dale, on rental properties. He later landed a job at Montana Resources where he worked for several years on the maintenance crew. From there he worked at Rocky Mountain RV for a short period before going to work at Silver Bow Truck Center. David Joseph Carpenter was killed in a tragic accident on March 15, 2021 at 4:10 PM; an explosion while attempting to repair a holding tank is what took his life on earth.

David is survived by his parents, Dale and Roseann Carpenter, children Coy Leighton & Charlee Rose (Rachel & Chad Verlanic); brothers & sisters, Dale & Twylla Carpenter (Sarah & Tyler

Weekly Report from Helena

By Senator Jeff Welborn.

As Those of us scrambled in budget committees this past week, to begin drafting a plan for spending the nearly $3 billion heading to the state under the new round of federal COVID-19 stimulus, even as work on hot-button social policy, election administration and other issues continued.

FISCAL POLICY

Legislators assigned to budget committees spent much of the week collecting ideas for the stimulus money heading to the state under the American Rescue Plan Act, signed into law by President Joe Biden last week. While that work was hampered by uncertainty about the specific rules, federal agencies will ultimately adopt for large portions of that money, early contenders for stimulus dollars include state investments in water and sewer infrastructure, as well as a $350 million broadband connectivity program.

Lawmakers plan to amend allocations for the stimulus money into House Bill 632. Another $461 million in spending from an earlier round of federal stimulus, allocated by House Bill 630, cleared an initial vote in the House Friday. Both bills come on top of the state's routine two-year budget bill, House Bill 2, which passed out of the House Appropriations committee last week.

ELECTION ADMINISTRATION

After several days of work sessions, the House State Administration Committee unanimously endorsed House Bill 613, the Native American Voting Rights Act, on Friday. The measure would in essence expand a 2014 lawsuit settlement between the state, counties and tribes to improve voter access on three Montana reservations statewide. The bill's sponsor, Rep. Sharon Stewart Peregoy, brought it in response to Republican-backed proposals she and others say would make it more difficult for Indigenous people to vote.

As passed by the committee, the bill would require tribes and counties to agree on at least one on-reservation alternative or satellite voting office. Counties and tribal governments could also work to place ballot drop-boxes in tribal communities and allow tribal IDs issued under less restrictive requirements than drivers' licenses as proof of identity for voter registration.

WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

Several bills that make it easier to hunt wolves advanced this week. House Bill 224, which allows for wolf trapping in Montana, and House Bill 225, which establishes a wolf trapping season, both cleared the Senate, setting them on track toward the governor's desk. Additionally, Senate Bill 314, which would remove bag limits, authorize hunting with bait and legalize nighttime wolf hunting, or spotlighting, on private land, passed the House Fish, Wildlife and Parks Committee Thursday.

TAX POLICY

A third effort by the Legislature's Democratic minority to pitch Republicans on progressive tax policy was struck down in its initial committee. House Bill 631 would have bumped up the state Earned Income Tax Credit for working families at a cost of about $12 million a year, but was tabled Friday by the House Taxation Committee on a party-line vote. A prior Democratic bill that would have created an income tax credit to help lower-income Montanans pay property taxes, and another that would have bumped up income taxes on high earners to expand the Earned Income Tax Credit, suffered similar fates.

George Faulk	DUI	Monitoring Reinstated
Lance Tetzlaff	Probation Violation	New Trial Trial Set

WATERCRAFT INSPECTION STATIONS OPEN

Montana's first watercraft inspection stations are opening for the 2021 season. Inspection stations near Dillon and Ravalli opened earlier this month. The Anaconda station opened Saturday, March 20, and intercepted the first mussel fouled boat of the year. A used motorboat that had been recently purchased in Wisconsin was found with zebra mussels attached to the anchor. The Anaconda inspectors reported the mussels were dry and dead. The motorboat was en route to Sandpoint, Idaho.

Watercraft inspection stations are Montana's first line of defense to prevent the movement of aquatic invasive species (AIS) which can have devastating impacts on Montana waterways.

Boat owners should ensure their watercraft, trailers and gear are clean, drained and dry before transporting and need to be aware of Montana's inspection rules.

Snowbirds returning to Montana with a watercraft must seek out an inspection. Watercraft that have been used in mussel-infested waters in other states are of major concern. Boat owners coming to Montana must have their vessel inspected at a Montana watercraft inspection station prior to launch. Montana will accept inspections conducted in Idaho and Wyoming, too.

Watercraft can also be inspected at some FWP offices. For a map and list of inspection stations, visit CleanDrainDryMT.com or call the FWP Aquatic Invasive Species Bureau at 406-444-2440.
