Attorney General Knudsen Joins 13-State Coalition to Sue Biden Administration Over Energy Lease Moratorium

- Biden's 'America Last' energy agenda picks up where Obama left off
- Leasing moratorium will cost hundreds of Montana jobs, millions in lost revenue
- Executive actions violate Mineral Leasing Act to detriment of Montanans

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen, Louisiana Attorney General Jeff Landry, and 11 other state attorneys general filed today to block the Biden administration's ongoing violation of the Mineral Leasing Act (MLA) and Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (OCSLA). This reckless abuse of Presidential power threatens the livelihoods of rural Montana families and will cost the state millions in tax revenue if allowed to continue.

In January, President Biden issued Executive Order 14008 declaring a moratorium on future oil and gas leasing and drilling permits on federal lands. The Biden Executive Order halted all oil and gas leasing operations, days after the Interior Department halted development and exploration of existing leases.

"Like Joe Biden's attempt to cancel the Keystone XL pipeline, his efforts to end responsible energy development on federal land is something he doesn't have the power to do. It is a violation of the law. Biden's 'America Last' energy agenda picks up where the Obama administration left off and shows no regard for rural communities or the people who live in them."

An ongoing lease moratorium will lower employment by 210 jobs, reduce personal income by $13 million, and cost the state $4 million in oil and gas taxes, according to a University of Wyoming study published in December 2020. By 2025, the cumulative effect would be 702 fewer jobs, $170 million reduced person income, and $199 million in foregone oil and gas tax revenue.

"Federal oil and gas production in Montana is in rural areas," the report says. The economic losses resulting from a leasing moratorium – like the one Biden has imposed – "will have an impact on rural communities and local governments reliant upon mineral tax revenue."

The MLA and OCSLA set out specific statutory duties for the Department of the Interior to "further the expeditious and safe development of the abundant energy resources on public lands and the Outer Continental Shelf." These laws affirm Congress's intent to responsibly use our own resources as a means of achieving energy independence.

These leases allow America to reach its full energy-production potential. For the states specifically, they also provide significant environmental benefits because portions of the lease proceeds are invested into vital environmental and restoration projects. The federal government returns billions of dollars to states each year and environmental reclamation projects from OCSLA and MLA lease proceeds are critical for environmental restoration and protection projects.

The Biden administration purports that its lease moratorium protects the environment; but instead, it constitutes what is likely the single-largest divestment of revenue for environmental protection projects in American history. Making matters worse, the agencies implementing the Order – the Bureau of Land Management and Bureau of Ocean Energy Management – rushed to stop long-planned lease sales without any consideration whether the action complies with the law, the public good, or the procedural requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act.

In addition to Montana and Louisiana the following states joined in the lawsuit filed this morning in the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana: Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah, and West Virginia.

Landowners Have Until April 2 To Apply For Fwp Public Access To Public Lands Programs

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks has extended the application deadline for landowners to enroll in the Unlocking Public Lands (UPL) Program or the Public Access Land Agreement (PALA) Program to April 2.

These programs are designed to provide recreational public access to state (Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation) or federal (Bureau of Land Management or United States Forest Service) land where no or limited legal public access currently exists.

For enrollment in UPL, landowners will receive a tax credit in the amount of $750 per agreement and up to a maximum of $3,000 tax credits in exchange for allowing access across the private lands, roads or trails to reach inaccessible public land. Landowners decide how the public may cross their private property and may limit access to foot traffic only.

For enrollment in PALA, landowners will receive monetary compensation, including possible reimbursements to facilitate public access to inaccessible public lands based on the location, duration and opportunity provided. Compensation amounts vary based on a variety of factors. The governor-appointed Private Land/Public Wildlife (PL/PW) Advisory Committee will review complete applications at an upcoming meeting and make a recommendation to the FWP director whether to extend an agreement.

While Montana contains millions of acres of public land, much of this land is inaccessible and requires landowner permission to cross private land to reach the adjoining state or federal land.

More information about these two programs, including enrollment criteria, application forms, and fact-sheets describing these and other FWP public access programs can be found at: fwp.mt.gov/hunt/landownerprograms.

FWP seeks public comment on proposed trail rehabilitation at Madison Buffalo Jump State Park

Proposed project detailed in environmental assessment

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is requesting public comment on an environmental assessment for improving public access within the trail system at Madison Buffalo Jump State Park and protecting the resource from degradation.

Proposed developments include rerouting two trails, revegetation of multiple social trails and delineation of the current trail system. The project would eliminate some of the excess social trails that are heavily eroded and lead to the same areas within the park.

Rerouting the trails would eliminate some extremely steep grades, providing safer access to park visitors. A clearly defined and safer trail system would also discourage off-trail travel and minimize subsequent impacts to the many sensitive cultural sites that exist within the park.

The environmental assessment can be viewed online at <https://go.usa.gov/xsd5f>.

The public comment period will be open until 5 p.m. on April 8. Please submit comments by email to mark.filonczuk@mt.gov or by mail to:

Applications For Open Fields Program Due

The deadline to apply for the Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Open Fields for Game Bird Hunters is April 16. Open Fields is offered through FWP's Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program and is available to private landowners with existing Conservation Reserve Program contracts with at least two years remaining on the contract. Landowners applying for enrollment in the 2021 general CRP sign-up are encouraged to apply for Open Fields.

Up to 320 CRP acres per landowner may be enrolled. In cases where landowners have CRP on different properties separated by more than a quarter mile, they may be able enroll up to 320 acres of CRP on each property.

All enrollments must be on private land that is legally accessible. Landowners must agree to allow free walk-in game bird hunting without further permission.

Enrolled lands will be clearly signed to allow for walk-in game bird hunting. Because this program is intended to expand areas open to the public for game bird hunting, lands that are already enrolled in FWP's Block Management Program or the Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program do not qualify. Landowners already enrolled in those programs are encouraged to contact FWP for other CRP-related habitat improvement and incentive options, including Habitat Management Leases and CRP Seed Cost-shares.

Applications for enrollment in Open Fields for Game Bird Hunters may be submitted through April 16, 2021. For more information and an application, visit FWP online at fwp.mt.gov; and then click "Open Fields Application."

Help Wanted

GroundWork Renewables is looking for a part time technician to complete weekly maintenance (one visit per week) on a small scale solar monitoring station. You would need to clean and level various sensors, fill out an online form, and email in a specific set of photos each visit. Maintenance usually takes about 30 minutes. Training and materials will be provided. The site is about 5 miles North of Horse Prairie Stage Stop. Compensation starts at $200/month. Call 435-232-3288 or estewart@grndwork.com.

Happy 50TH Anniversary!

March 26, 1971

Please join us in wishing Coy and Mary Bearden a fantastic 50th Anniversary!

If you are in Dillon, feel free to drop by and pick up a little favor — and we will have a spot to drop off a card/note (card/note is optional, we will not hold your favor ransom) 😊

Dad and Mom—you've been a great example to your kids (and everyone around who was paying attention) of how to find joy in spite of life's challenges. You bring out the best in each other, continuing to grow in your faith. You always let us know, next to Jesus, family is most important and you made time for fun family memories. You continue to partner together to give back to communities wherever you are, including delivering a few baked goods every now and then! Sending you lots of love as you begin your next 50!
