Government money spent by representatives

By: MJ

At the joined council finance committee meeting spending the money coming from the federal government was discussed. There is money coming the Cares Act and the American Rescue Plan. Cares Act is for supporting Covid in the area and another is for supporting the infrastructure. NOTE: What is infrastructure? Examples of infrastructure include transportation systems, communication networks, sewage, water, and electric systems. These systems tend to be capital intensive and high-cost investments, and are vital to a country's economic development and prosperity.

Council person O'Rourke stepped up to the podium and spoke of updating and modernizing Ibeysville Park located off Noble Street. She has connected this park rebuild as a Covid project. I personally am having a hard time relating it to Covid. How is this rebuild related to Covid or benefit the entire community as a whole to protect against Covid? I could understand if the park had infrastructure in place and she was applying for supplies to protect against Covid. Dillon has many parks such as Ray Lynch Park, basically used for baseball, Jaycee Park, more centrally located with a broad selection of activities that benefit local and out of town visitors... My question is, should money be spent repairing and adding to these other established parks rather than creating a new one in a small residential area? Has the council person presented the council with a 20-year plan for Ibeysville Park?

The council lady spoke against the City Hall repairs. She made a statement that maybe it would be better to tear down city hall and rebuild another building. She gave an example of the hospital tear down and rebuild.

Question: Is the greenest building the one that is already built? Mr. Carl Elefante well known Principal Emeritus with Quinn Evans Architects, thinks so. Is historic preservation of past old buildings more "green" than the most of energy efficient LEED and etc. buildings? Take an old home that has plaster walls when completely finished were approximately 1" thick compared to thinner walls in today's builds. Consider that the products are already on sight with an old building and does not require harvesting new wood, expensive freight cost, insulation, gypsum and many more raw materials thus impacting the environment. Question: Why is it today that O'Rourke wants to tear down the City Hall and build new when this building has been through major earthquakes and does not have a crack? That says a lot about the structure of the building. O'Rourke wants a 20-year plan done on the city hall. Mayor Klakken spoke up and said that the plan did exist. The city has done a 20 year plan for repairing the building including all costs. You may look at it on the City Web site, clicking on miscellaneous link and feasibility study.

Putting an elevator in the City Hall seems to be a problem for several council persons. It appears that the building being ADA accessible is a law. An elevator brings the building up to ADA requirements and may at some time save the city a great deal of money if sued. By not having an elevator, you are saying some of the people can't use the local government building. Maybe the laws should be followed.

Question: How is creating blank sheet, Ibeyvill Park, Covid related? The government is distributing millions of your hard-earned tax dollars and is it up to the local representatives to spend those tax dollars in a manner that does the most for the entire community instead of someone's pet projects?

ELECTION INTEGRITY BILLS SIGNED

Two of the priority bills requested by Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen, Senate Bill 169 (requiring voter ID) and House Bill 176 (a deadline for voter registration), were signed into law by Gov. Greg Gianforte on Monday.

"Montana sets the standard for elections across the country, however, there is always room for improvement, and voter ID and voter registration deadlines are best practices in protecting the integrity of elections," said Secretary Jacobsen.

Sen. Mike Cuffe (R, SD-1) sponsored SB 169, and echoed Secretary Jacobsen's views on strengthening Montana's election process.

"SB 169 could be the most important bill I ever carry in my Legislative career. Election integrity is truly the rock, the cornerstone of our nation, and voter ID is a key component in protecting the integrity of Montana elections," said Sen. Cuffe.

HB 176 changes late registration to noon the day before an election, which will improve the voting process on Election Day. Rep. Sharon Greef (R, HD-88) sponsored the bill.

"Let's be the ones today who say, 'Election officials, we just made your job a little bit easier on Election Day,'" said Rep. Greef. "And fellow Montanans, we just shortened the lines at your polling place."

HIDDEN DANGERS ON SOCIAL MEDIA AND INTERNET

APRIL 28, 2021

Social media plays a big role in teen culture today. Surveys show 90 percent of teens ages 13-17 use social media. Seventy five percent report having at least one active social media profile, and 51% report visiting a social media site at least daily. Two thirds of teens have their own mobile devices with internet capabilities. But the internet and social media is not all about staying in touch with friends or playing games.

On Wednesday, April 28th in the Frontier Event Center Deputy Sheriff Dave Gomez sheds the light on potential risks of social media to children including exposure to sex, drugs, violence, oversharing personal information, and interference with many youths' sleep, exercise, homework or family activities. His public presentations are 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. and again at 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The 7 p.m. presentation will be live streamed. Visit YouTube or Facebook and search for: "Southwestern MT News" to connect to the presentation online.

Gomez' presentation is the final in the three-part Family and Mental Health series sponsored by a variety of youth focused groups including: Project Aware, Dillon Elementary District, Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch, Be the Change 406 Coalition, ACES Taskforce, and Beaverhead Mental Health Local Advisory Council.

Deputy Gomez works with the Boise Sheriff's Office, and was a school resource officer for 10 years in Idaho schools. His work led to him considered a regional expert with a national reputation about the dangers of social media. "Teenagers need support and education to develop the skills to manage their social media sites responsibly," he said. "Talk about their social media use and your family rules, including consequences for too much use or inappropriate use of social media and internet sites. Most importantly, monitor their online activities!"

While Gomez acknowledges there are positive benefits to "connecting online", he explains social media can negatively affect teens, distract them, and expose them to bullying, rumor spreading, unrealistic views of other people's lives and peer pressure.

Some risks related to how much social media teens use were shown in a recent study of more than 6,500 12- to 15-year-olds in the U.S.. It showed pre-teens and teens who spend more than three hours a day using social media are often at heightened risk for mental health problems. Another study in England of 13- to 16-year-olds found that using social media more than three times a day predicted poor mental health and well-being in teens. And other national and international studies observe links between high levels of social media use and depression or anxiety symptoms in youth.

The pandemic has merely reinforced the use of electronics, Gomez said, due to online school and college classes. "There are thousands of "apps" kids use to communicate with each other. But the biggest danger with some of these applications is the ability to talk to strangers."

He breaks down the pros and cons of popular apps including Snapchat, Tik Tok, Instagram, Roblox, Twitter, and a long list of others. He cautions parents there are also a number of "secret" applications that allow kids to quickly switch to an innocuous site if a parent or teacher comes near.

Deputy Gomez will also meet with area law enforcement and judicial representatives while in Dillon.

The presentation is free. All area parents and anyone who works with youth are encouraged to attend.
