Randy J. Albrecht

Randy J. Albrecht, 59 of Dillon, Montana passed away at St. James Healthcare in Butte surrounded by his family. There is a Celebration of Life potluck scheduled for Wednesday, April 28th starting at 2 PM. A full obituary will follow.

Gwendolyn Mary Doner

On April 21, 2021, heaven gained an angel that will forever change the stars and cosmos, and certainly the orbit of our worlds. Gwendolyn Mary Doner born September 5th, 2001 in Dillon, Montana left our world far too soon at the spirited age of 19.

The incredible impact that Gwen leaves behind can be attributed to the many facets and stages of her captivating life. In her younger years,

Gwen loved gymnastics, sports, animals, arts, youth group, and the outdoors. In her teenage years, Gwen explored her spiritual and nature-loving side, becoming the most perfect and beautiful little hippie girl this world has ever known. She possessed a wild heart and a gypsy soul. Most recently, her love of holistic healing, dreadlocks, tattooing, and astrology was where she really found her ultimate passions and tribe of people.

Gwen lived in Dillon, Montana from 2001-2005; Tooele, Utah from 2005-2014; and Casper, Wyoming from 2014-2020. She graduated from Kelly Walsh High School in Casper, Wyoming in 2020. After graduation, Gwen moved to Salt Lake City, Utah, and later pursued her certification in massage therapy and holistic healing. Gwen started school at Healing Mountain Massage School two weeks before her passing. She was beyond excited to embark upon a path in which she could synchronize her passions and work and belong to something she could excel in.

Gwen could light up a room just by being in it, her presence was impossible to overlook. Gwen had the ability to make everyone laugh (mostly through her inappropriate jokes) and was a social butterfly at any family or group event. She made sure the unseen felt seen and the unheard felt heard. Gwen was kind, thoughtful, loyal, determined, strong, encouraging, conscientious, empathetic, and passionate. Throughout her life, Gwen was true to herself. She lived by the mantra, "Don't let the tamed ones tell you how to live." Those who knew Gwen will know she sure didn't! Gwen didn't need to be saved, she needed to be found and appreciated for the breathtaking soul that she was. She gracefully refused to conform to this world, and we are all better people because of this. Gwen always loved and held tight to her family and made sure they all knew how much they meant to her and how grateful she was for their role in her life. Her constant "I love and miss you" texts and calls will be so deeply missed.

Gwen is survived by her parents Brett and Brook Doner, and John and Heather Myers; sister Adyson Myers; brothers Braylen Myers and Wyatt Jacobs; soul-sister Jessie Szymczak; boyfriend and love of her life Tyler Shoemaker; grandmothers Debbie Allen-Low, Kathy Williams, and Shelly Myers; grandfather Dave Bradley; great-grandmother LaVerne Bradley; aunts and uncles Nicole Bradley, Stephen Resset, Kelly Bradley, Brian and Talea Doner, Matt Doner, Dan Doner, and Steven Doner; cousins Shane Doner, Reece Doner, Carter Kastning, Kennedy Kastning, Harper Donnelly-Resset, Jory Doner, Chandler Doner, Isabelle Doner, Braden Doner, Quinn Doner, and Ashlee Rich; and numerous additional cousins, friends, bonus grandparents, aunts and uncles; and her beloved dog, Blue.

Gwen was preceded in death by her sister Vanessa Myers; grandmother Mary Doner; grandfathers Don Doner and Bill Myers; great-grandfathers Bill Allen and Larry Bradley; and great-uncle Fred Eaton.

The family would like to extend a sincere thank you to the Utah Highway Patrol, EMS services of Murray, and Intermountain Healthcare nurses and staff for their exceptional care of Gwen and her family during this time. We would also like to thank Steps Recovery and Healing Mountain Massage School for welcoming Gwen with open arms during her time in Utah.

The family would like to express our sincere gratitude for the outpouring of love and support we have received

Two Count Auctioneer

Bryce Angell

On Tuesdays, while growing up, we'd head to the cattle sale. I'd sit next to my father, back behind the cable rail. And being young and curious, like boys at eight years old, I quickly learned the breed of cows while they were being sold. I soon discovered black and whites were dairy in their make. And steers with bawley faces soon would be a T-bone steak. But most of all the time I spent while at the cattle sale, was listening to the auctioneers. Their voice could sing a tale. No auctioneer would sound the same. They rattled out their style. My mind would wander from the cows. Just listening was worthwhile. I could not rightly figure how they auctioneered so fast. And hollered out the numbers. Not a one to be outclassed. Well, that was sixty years ago, still vivid in my brain. To be an auctioneer might yet be something to attain. I opened up the internet and watched a video. The auctioneer was rattling and I'm sure enough too slow. 'Cuz I couldn't wrap my tongue around my worn-out crooked teeth. My doubt was taking over causing me some disbelief. But then I found an auction chant just right for this old kid. It goes, "I'm bid one dollar, now two, now two dollar bid." I practiced that one-liner for a week or maybe two. And came to realize that auctioneering's for the few. My family won't believe their ears. An auctioneer I'll be. Who knows, I might be famous. I'll sign autographs for free! So, if you need an auctioneer who only counts to two. Then pardner I'm your man. I'll auctioneer until I'm blue.

First Montana case of white-nose syndrome detected in Fallon County bat

A myotis bat, found dead in Fallon County in southeastern Montana, has been confirmed positive for white-nose syndrome.

The bat was sent to the U.S. Geological Survey National Wildlife Health Center in Madison, Wisc., for analysis. It tested positive for Pseudogymnoascus destructans (Pd), the fungus that causes white-nose syndrome (WNS) in bats. A pathologist also confirmed characteristic WNS lesions in the skin of the bat.

Biologists with Fish, Wildlife & Parks have been closely monitoring for WNS in recent years as part of an effort to track the impacts of the disease once it arrives, but this is the first case detected in Montana. Bat droppings and environmental samples collected in six eastern Montana counties last summer tested positive for the Pd fungus; however, presence of the fungus does not necessarily confirm the presence of the disease. Also last year, WNS was detected just across the border in North Dakota.

WNS has killed millions of bats in North America since 2006. A powdery white fungus grows on the skin of hibernating bats, often on the face—hence the name “white nose.” The fungus causes irritation and dehydration, causing bats to arouse early from hibernation and to exhaust fat stores they need to survive the winter.

WNS has now been confirmed in 36 states and seven Canadian provinces. It can wipe out entire colonies of bats and has caused dramatic population declines in eastern states. WNS is not known to affect humans, pets, livestock or other wildlife.

In 2020, FWP temporarily prohibited the capture of all live bats due to unknown risks of COVID-19-infected humans inadvertently transferring the virus to bats. While some sampling of live bats has resumed in 2021, particularly to survey for Pd and WNS, biologists are taking recommended precautions to minimize any risk of COVID-19 spillover to bats. In many places, to substitute for sampling of live bats, biologists have been collecting bat droppings or environmental swabs at roosts to sample for Pd and to look for any bat mortalities that might be attributable to WNS. They visit known roost areas, including the undersides of bridges.

State and federal agencies are asking for help to monitor the spread of this disease. Anyone seeing a dead or sick bat, or group of bats, should not handle them, but rather call a local FWP office for further guidance.

14th WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE UPDATE BY REP TOM WELCH

We put in some long days this past week at the Montana Legislative as we worked hard towards completing our work. On this past Thursday, the House of Representatives dealt with 57 Bills on the House floor followed by another 47 on Friday. This is in addition to running to Committee meetings as needed. We will start off this week addressing 60 Bills on Monday's agenda alone.

I want to touch a bit more on the recreational marijuana Bill that I mentioned last week. HB 701 by Representative Mike Hopkins out of Missoula is the surviving vehicle being used, at this time, to formulate the needed regulations to implement the recreational marijuana business in Montana as approved by Initiative 190 last November. This now 162-page Bill which originated in the House has been changed in the Senate and will be returning to the House this week for our review, possible changes and ultimately will end up in a Conference Committee made up of Representatives and Senators to iron out the conflicting details before likely receiving final Legislative approval.

One provision within the current Bill deals with Counties such as Beaverhead County which voted last November against legalizing the sale of recreational marijuana. In Beaverhead County, 2792 voters (49.8%) said YES to legalizing recreational marijuana while 2819 voters (50.2%), a majority, said NO. All 4 Counties--Deer Lodge, Madison, Ravalli, and Butte/Silver Bow--which surround Beaverhead County voted YES. The Bill as now written provides that Counties that voted to approve legalization last year will see retail sales begin in January 2022. Counties such as Beaverhead that voted NO last November would need to hold a local election gaining local approval to allow County recreational marijuana sales before beginning sales. As an aside, my House District as a whole, which includes some Butte/Silver Bow precincts did approve I190.

On another major subject, I spent some time this past Friday visiting with Appropriations Chair Llew Jones about the status of our State budget as now proposed. Rep Jones indicates that our Budget for the next 2 years is taking good shape as well as that for the following biennium. The House of Representatives will be reviewing and voting on our State's new budget this week.

Lastly, I want to mention that late this past week, we had 3 Cadets and Director Trent Gibson from the Montana Youth Challenge Academy visit the Montana Legislature. They drove over to participate in the Governor's signing of HD 71 Rep Ken Walsh's HB 556 entitled 'Provides Alternative Means of Earning a High School Diploma'. This Bill is a great example of the many instances throughout this Session where Sen Welborn, Rep Walsh and I have combined forces to work together not only for what is best for Southwest Montana but for Montanans as a whole.

Please take care and THANK YOU for the opportunity to serve you and for your continued support!

"Hidden Dangers: Social Media and the Internet"

Idaho Deputy Sheriff Dave Gomez speaks on "Hidden Dangers: Social Media and the Internet" on Wednesday, April 28th at the Frontier Event Center (former Shopko). His public presentations begin at 9 a.m. or 7 p.m. Those interested may also live stream the evening presentation on YouTube or Facebook by searching for "Southwestern MT News" on the respective websites.

The majority of teenagers use social media on a daily basis but the increased "online" activity is linked to poor mental health, increased depression, and anxiety symptoms in youth.
