Montana Western to Receive Nearly $15 Million for Block Hall Renovation and Facilities

The University of Montana Western has been granted nearly $15 million by the Montana State Legislature to undertake major upgrades to the campus's facilities. These include a $12 million renovation of Block Hall, $2.4 million to replace the central campus boiler, and $450,000 to replace numerous roofs.

"Please join me in thanking Senator Jeff Welborn and Representative Tom Welch for their support of this project," said Montana Western Chancellor, Dr. Beth Weatherby. "Senator Welborn has been a tireless Bulldog this session in his efforts to get Block Hall done. I am so grateful to Jeff and Tom and to Commissioner Christian and his team for their advocacy in Helena for Montana Western. These funds will provide our students, faculty and staff with the top-quality facilities that they deserve."

The news was announced on April 29th at the close of the 67th Legislative Session in Helena, known as "sine die," wrapping up 80 days of legislative action. Sine die, meaning "without day" in Latin, indicates that the 2021 legislative body has adjourned without appointing a day to assemble again.

The Block Hall renovation will receive $4.8 million from HB 632, the vehicle which appropriates the federal stimulus and COVID recovery funds Montana is receiving as part of the American Rescue Plan Act and $7.2 million from HB 14, the Long-Range Building Bonding Program. HB 5, the Long-Range Building Appropriations bill, includes the funding Montana Western will receive for the central boiler and roof replacement projects.

Constructed in 1969, Block Hall requires renovation in order to accommodate the university's growing science programs and bring the building up to modern safety and air quality codes. Upon completion, the building will offer updated classroom and lab facilities to all Montana Western students for courses in both general studies and specialized science programs.

Wildflower Walk: Lewis & Clark Caverns

In celebration of National Wildflower Week, Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park will host a guided wildflower hike on Saturday, May 8, at 11 a.m.

As the weather continues to warm and things start to look a bit greener, early flowers will begin to emerge. Visitors who join this guided hike can learn about plants on the Greer Gulch Trail, one of the most biodiverse and scenic areas of the park.

Beginning at the upper picnic area, the hike will last about one and a half to two hours and traverse 2 miles of trail, including some steep inclines, sunny slopes and plenty of flora. Participants should bring sturdy hiking shoes, clothes for a variety of weather and shade conditions, sunscreen, water, and a light snack.

Up to 15 people will be able to attend this guided hike, so sign up today. Admission costs $4 per person and will need to be paid for ahead of time. There are no refunds available after purchase.

To reserve your spot or for information, call 406-287-3541 or email Emily at Emily.Dickerson@mt.gov your questions.

Parks board moves forward with two-year lease for Hell Creek State Park

The Montana Parks and Recreation Board approved a two-year lease with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for the continued operations of Hell Creek State Park.

The lease will give Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks time to work on transitioning park operations to the Little Shell Tribe, which has expressed continued interest in taking over management of the recreation area. The decision also will ensure park operations continue for recreationists to access south side of Fort Peck Reservoir. The current lease expires April 30.

Hell Creek State Park is a nearly 400-acre park on the south side of Fort Peck Reservoir, north of Jordan. The lease has the option of two, one-year extensions to ensure a smooth transition to the Little Shell Tribe.

BILL REVISING ELECTION LAWS RELATED TO MINOR PARTIES SIGNED TO MONTANA LAW

Gov. Greg Gianforte signed to law Senate Bill 350, sponsored by Sen. Greg Hertz (R, SD-6) and requested by Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen. SB 350 is an act generally revising election laws related to minor parties.

The new law creates hard deadlines, including when an elector may withdraw the elector's signature from a petition. It also creates a clear timeline with deadlines for county and state duties, including certification of a minor party petition with enough time for candidates to register as a minor party candidate.

Additionally, the new law fixed minor party disclosure rules to ensure that opponents of a minor party petition comply with the same disclosure rules that previously only applied to supporters of a minor party petition.

"State and county election officials need to have finality and a clear process to perform their important administrative duties during an election year," said Secretary Jacobsen
