Caverns Friday Summer Speakers Series - Crawl, Fly and Hop: Bugs on Parade

A campground talk exploring the creepy crawlies of Montana. On Friday, June 4, Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park will host a free talk entitled "Crawl, Fly and Hop: Bugs on Parade" at 8 p.m. in the park's campground amphitheater. It will be presented by Sherry Staub, a master naturalist with a love for Montana's small, many-legged friends.

This is the second presentation in Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park's annual Friday Summer Speakers Series, which introduces a new speaker each Friday at 8 p.m. throughout the summer.

Some people may cringe or shriek at the sight of a spider, cockroach or wasp, but with understanding and empathy, you can learn why some "bugs" are among our greatest allies. You need only bring an open mind and heart to this talk. This is not so much about learning the distinctions between bugs, but knowing them as co-inhabitants and partners. You'll also learn why "bugs" is in quotation marks.

About the speaker

After receiving an undergraduate degree in secondary education from the University of Minnesota as well as a graduate certificate in environmental education from Hamline University in St. Paul, Sherry Staub became a Montana Master Naturalist, Yellowstone Naturalist, Iowa Master Conservationist, and a Certified Interpretive Guide (NAI). Her interest in bugs was honed when she worked as a volunteer in Yellowstone National Park for two years. As a naturalist, Staub believes her greatest mission is to lead others to a natural affection for "all creatures great and small."

Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park is about 15 miles southeast of Whitehall, along Montana Highway 2. For more information about the park, please visit stateparks.mt.gov/lewis-and-clark-caverns or call 406-287-3541.

FWP seeks comment on proposed fish removal projects

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking public comment on several proposed fish removal and restoration projects. A description of each of the projects is available online at fwp.mt.gov. The Fish and Wildlife Commission held a work session May 18 to generally review this topic and their role.

Currently, there are 22 fish removal projects planned for the 2021 field season. Types of projects for this year range from mechanical removals to reduce competition or hybridization risk of native species, piscicide treatments to remove nonnative fish above barriers and reintroduce native species, piscicide and mechanical removals to improve sport fisheries, and piscicide treatments to remove unauthorized introductions of fish. Many of these removal projects have completed review under the Montana Environmental Policy Act, which requires an Environmental Assessment (EA) and Decision Notice. Others have EAs still pending. Some mechanical removals have been ongoing for several years, some piscicide projects have already completed initial treatment (leaving a waterbody completely or partially fishless), while others are just getting started this year.

The commission approves all angling regulations, projects funded through the Future Fisheries Improvement Program, and aquatic invasive removals. After a review of these projects and statutes pertaining to commission authority, projects that involve fish removal will now have review and approval by the commission.

The commission will consider public comments received regarding these projects prior to approving them.

To view and comment on the fish removal projects, visit online. Comments can also be emailed to fwpfishcomments@mt.gov. Public comments will be accepted through June 3, at 5 p.m.

Retirement and Social Security:

By: MJ

When you retire are you the type of person that that wants to know what your Social Security dollar amount of benefits will be or are you the person that wants to know in detail how the government figures out how much money you will receive via Social Security? After looking into my social security, I found it may be easier just to accept what you get and not worry about the HOW.

When you retire and fill out all the paper work to receive Social Security the administration will look at the highest earnings history in 35 years. If you have not worked the entire 35 years the SSA will put in zero (0) for an annual salary for every year you did not work. They then take that figure and adjust it for inflation. Your year of birth will make a difference in this calculation.

Short explanation: Social Security benefits for your retirement years is a percentage of the average monthly income using the highest years 35 years that have been adjusted for inflation. For more details go web site.

Note: If you want all the ins and outs, go to Social Security web-site; click on 'Retirement Estimator' icon on the homepage. You will be able to walk through the process of figuring out your Social Security benefits.

Bike Walk Southwest Montana

Bike Walk Southwest Montana (BWSW) is a non-profit public charity leasing land from Beaverhead County. We are located on Overload road just north of Kris Craft County Park. BWSW operates on donations only with all donations going to support citizens wishing to lead an active lifestyle.

We are in the process of building a facility for public use and camping to meet the needs of the local and travelling bicycling and walking public. Hundreds of bicyclists travel through Dillon on the TransAmerican route each year. Our goal is to have them stay with us and spend money in Dillon to help Dillon's economy.

We recycle and repair bicycles for donation to local residents who are in need and recommended by various local agencies. We also host numerous local and regional bicycle and walking outings for all ages throughout the year.

Many people use the general area as a dog walking park. However, recent encounters with off leash dogs have become a safety problem where campers have been harassed, camp workers have been threatened by snapping dogs, dog poop is not cleaned up, and packs of dogs have dug holes and destroyed our landscaping.

Our organization welcomes dog walkers with dogs under control and on leash. Our insurance and liability dictate we take action to protect those using the park. That is why we have recently posted signs stating unleashed dogs cannot trespass on our leased property. We thank those dog owners who control their dogs and pick up their waste.

Letter to the Editor
Beaverhead Co. Contractors

Thank you L.S. Ready Mix for clarifying the issues with your Concrete, as Contractors we were also scratching our heads trying to figure out the delamination problem. Now we can see that before 2020 there were no premature finishing issues, hence no delamination issues. So our question is, why were no Contractors informed of the change of product so we could change our method of finishing if that's what we had to do? L.S. Ready Mix has always been a stand up Company, for both the Contractors and the community of Dillon, we personally have the utmost respect for everyone out there on a personal level. On a professional level we are very concerned, most of us finish Concrete the same way, and have for a very long time, now since 2020 its not the right way. Honestly we don't know what percentage of the concrete goes to commercial use where they require a slag blend, but our best guess is over 75% is residential use where it is not required. While we do accept some responsibility as Contractors because we need a good working relationship to be successful. In return we also expect L.S. Ready Mix to accept its fair share of the problem. We as Contractors believe that we should get a more consistent product for every job site and from every mixer truck.
