Shirley Jean Pitts

Shirley Jean Pitts, born Shirley Jean Deans in Dillon Montana to Rela "June" Deans and Robert Deans of Grant Montana.

Shirley spent a large part of her early life on the Welborn ranch in Horse Prairie. Shirley and her siblings spent a lot of the time in the mountains timbering with their parents. Shirley was only two weeks old when her parents took her to camp for the first time. Her first home was a tent. She also spent time in Lima, Butte and Choteau during her years growing up. she graduated in 1964 from Beaverhead County High school.

Shirley's daughter Kimberly Joyce Proctor, the pride of her life, was born on August 31st 1968, in Pocatello Idaho. Her second pride and joy; her grandson, Ryan Paul Henderson was born in Dillon Montana on August 31st 1990 her daughter's birthday. Shirley had many jobs, among these her favorite was working in road construction. You may have walked into a diner or the local Town Pump and been greeted with her effervescent smile over the years. She cared deeply and worried about everyone. After she retired, she moved back to Dillon where she met her longtime life partner George McAlpin.

Shirley had a love for travel and became addicted to travel trailers and they spent several winters touring the southern United States together. Shirley also enjoyed camping and spent several vacations at "Roaring Gold Camp," in Central California, and many trips into the mountains in Southwest Montana.

Shirley is survived by her longtime partner in life George McAlpin, her daughter Kimberly Proctor, her grandson Ryan Paul Henderson, and many nieces, nephews, cousins descending from the Welborn family and the Walker family tree. This included the Unruh Family, the Ries's and the Dean's families. she was preceded in death by her parents; Rela "June" Walker and Paul C. Walker, Robert "Bob" and

Carbella Recreation Site near Yellowstone re-opens with a fresh upgrade

Campers and boaters will find a lot to love about the just-renovated Carbella Recreation Site along the banks of the Yellowstone River, 20 miles north of the nation's oldest national park.

The Bureau of Land Management's Butte Field Office has re-opened the campground and boat launch after it was closed for about 10 months while work crews moved dirt, paved roads and improved the launch ramp. Among other things, they put a hard surface of aggregate material on the site's road, parking areas and camp pads.

Visitors to the site can expect to find a cleaner and more streamlined recreation experience.

"In the past, it's been a bit of a free-for-all when it comes to parking," said Casey Trang, Civil Engineer with the BLM's Western Montana District. "We are going to delineate use now so that everyone has a nice, level camp pad and a well-marked parking space."

The BLM has also installed bear-proof storage boxes at the campsites.

For more information, call the Butte Field Office at (406) 533-7600.

ROTARY SPEAKER

Kevin Engellant will speak to Rotarians and guests at noon Wednesday, June 23, 2021. He will provide updates of current events for the junior golf program in Dillon and his vision for the junior golf program in the future. Visitors are welcome.

MONTANA LEGISLATURE VOTES AGAINST OVERRIDING GOVERNOR'S VETOES

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen released the results of eight veto polls from the 67th Legislative Session on Friday, with Montana Representatives and Senators voting against overriding Governor Greg Gianforte's vetoes in each of the eight bills polled.

House Bills 158, 277, 397, 522, 688 and 691, along with Senate Bills 231 and 306, were vetoed by Gov. Gianforte, but because each bill was approved by two-thirds of the members voting on the final vote on the bill, Article VI, Section 10 of the Montana Constitution and § 5-4-306, MCA, require the Secretary of State to poll the members of the Legislature.

If two-thirds or more of the members of each house vote to override the veto, the bill becomes law. Because each of the eight bills did not receive the number of votes required, the vetoes stand.

Veto polling results can be found on the Secretary of State's website

UMW Names Interim Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Affairs

The University of Montana Western is pleased to announce that Dr. Ashley Carlson, currently Professor of English and Division Chair for the Division of Humanities and Social Sciences at UMW, will begin a new role as Interim Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Affairs.

Dr. Carlson has a Ph.D. in English Literature from the University of New Mexico and has published work on nineteenth-century literature, women's studies, and popular culture. In 2019-20 she taught and conducted research in Madagascar as a U.S. Fulbright Scholar. At the University of Montana Western, she has also served on Faculty Senate, as Vice President of the Faculty Union, and as Chair of the Department of English.

"Although Ashley is already a member of the Montana Western community, please join me in welcoming her into this new role. We look forward to her leadership in this position on our campus," said Chancellor Michael Reid.

Current Interim Provost, Dr. Jenny McNulty, will begin her new position on July 1 at the University of Alaska Anchorage as the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences after serving as the Interim Provost at UMW for the past year. Dr. McNulty will continue her responsibilities as Provost through June 22 while working with Dr. Carlson through the transition. Dr. Carlson will officially start her new role and duties as Interim Provost on June 23.

A search for the next Provost will begin later this summer with the objective of identifying a permanent Provost by the end of 2021.

Department of Justice Wins Conviction in Billings Human Trafficking Case

A New Mexico man was convicted of aggravated promotion of prostitution Wednesday in Yellowstone County District Court following an investigation by the Montana Department of Justice (DOJ) Department of Criminal Investigation (DCI) that found he engaged in human trafficking and coerced a child into prostitution. DOJ attorneys prosecuted the case.

While keeping in contact and directing activities over phone calls and text messages, Lavondrick Terelle Hogues, 35, sent a woman and a 17-year-old girl on a trip across the country to work as prostitutes in 2015, including New Mexico, Texas, North Dakota and Montana.

"This was a tough case, but our prosecutors did an excellent job winning the conviction that I hope will lead to a strong sentence from the judge," Attorney General Austin Knudsen said. "The Montana Department of Justice is committed to fighting the scourge of human trafficking in our state. DCI investigators and Highway Patrol troopers are on the lookout and our legal team will aggressively prosecute these cases."

A DCI agent acting in an undercover capacity found a website posting that offered "escort services." He called the phone number and made arrangements to meet at a Billings hotel. Upon entering the room, he identified himself as a police officer and learned that one of the females was only 17 years old. The woman traveling with the minor was convicted of felony promotion of prostitution in 2016.

An ensuing investigation found that the women constantly reported her and the minor's location, activities, patrons, and how much money they were making and spending, and sent photos to Hogues. He made comments to the effect that they "better get to making some money." Hogues and Zubia also sent money back and forth using electronic and wire transfers.

He was eventually arrested by New Mexico authorities and extradited to Montana and pleaded not guilty to the charges.

A sentencing date has not been set. Hogues is currently being held without bond at the Yellowstone County Detention Center. District Judge Donald L. Harris presided. Department of Justice attorneys Chris McConnell and Melissa Broch prosecuted the case.

HELP PLAN THURSDAY NIGHT PARK EVENTS

Thursday night's Evening in the Park sponsored by Friends of the JC Park was an obvious favorite - a beautiful summer evening, perfect weather, good, good music, easy visiting, kids on the splash pad and the playground.

At this point there's been no publicity about more of these, so Dillon has an opportunity to get quickly creative. If you'd like to contribute your ideas to an ad hoc group trying to generate some more summer evenings like this, especially before wildfires bring smokey skies, please show up at the Pavilion in the Park Tuesday night, the 22nd, at 7:00 PM.

Our summer goes quickly, but by thinking outside the box we might find way to generate food and music and posters to make this event a reality.

We'll never know if we don't give it a try. 7:00 Tuesday at the Park. See you there.
