WILL THESE PET PEEVES DEFINE YOUR SUMMER?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

Prospects of a long, hot summer bring pet peeves to the surface.

Surely someone besides me encounters deceptive packages of frozen microwaveable meat. "Tear here," they cajole. So, you tear on the dotted line, only to discover that it's an inch BELOW the grooves required to reseal the package. Are the designers at the meatpacking plant cross-eyed, or just bad with math? Instead of calculating how many insect parts per MILLION are allowable, they're probably singing a Mary Poppins-ish, "A spoonful of thoraxes makes the sausage patties go down…"

Yes, "resealable" is an asterisk-worthy marketing blurb. Packages ought to say, "Resealable – UNLESS you get a bunch of breading in the grooves and have less than 15 minutes to vacuum them out. Under those circumstances, we recommend resealing with the carpet staplers manufactured by one of our subsidiaries."

Technology will lie to you, too. When I have completed a data transfer in the nick of time, I want to disconnect from my laptop, take my thumb drive or USB cable and hit the road. I don't need to be scolded. ("Try again later. The device is currently in use.") Unless there's an ill-timed virus scan going on, what kind of "use" is the device invariably undergoing? Have HP and Windows 10 conspired to rent out rooms in my backup drive to tourists from Switzerland? ("We're paid up. We have Army knives and we know how to use them!")

Do you ever greet an opportunity with "At least it's an excuse to get out of the house"? Who is it you're forced to give excuses to? Is the mantel going to get all weepy? Will the laundry room cut you out of its will? Come on, grow a backbone – unless the hall closet has something against vertebrates.

Why do we reserve the term "anatomically correct" as a euphemism for dolls/mannequins that have some semblance of reproductive organs? Are naughty bits the only qualifiers for inanimate objects looking like real people? What is realistic about figures with no ear hairs, slumped shoulders or irregularly shaped moles? Show a woman a doll with two perfectly matching breasts and announce, "This is anatomically correct!" Then AFTER you awake from having a bra tightened around your throat…

Do you have friends or co-workers who take credit for "process of elimination" advice? For instance, neither one of you can figure out whether the green button or the blue button activates a machine, so you venture an attempt with the green button. Nothing. "Maybe you should try the blue button," they chime in, expecting a marching band parade when they get it right. Never give these people the satisfaction. ("Well, you might be right about THAT being the emergency 'off' switch, but I was saying just the other day that I NEED something to remind me not to wear a long necktie around the garbage disposal…Ow! Ow!")

What is the deal with people who use a single-occupant public restroom while leaving the door unlocked? Are they exhibitionists? Claustrophobes? Or are they just absent-minded professors formulating a new Theory of Relativity? ("In summary, the energy I use to release this mass at the speed of smell…")

Southwest Montana Veteran's Home Update #111

By Mike Lawson

Greetings once again to you the Veterans/Counties/Communities of MT, who are the chief organizers and supporters of the SW MT Veteran's Home.

As I sit here writing this article, the sound and sights of fireworks are filling the sky. From my viewpoint on the East Ridge, the whole Butte Silver Bow from the flats to the uptown/Big M areas were in full view. The Fireworks display from the Big M was spectacular but In our friendly competition with our sister city, Anaconda, their display was even more spectacular in my opinion. Way to go Anaconda. The 4th of July parade was good to have back in Butte again, after not having it last year due to Covid-19. Our population usually swells to great numbers, due to the many tourists/visitors who come to watch our Parade and this year proved that to be true, once again. Many thanks to Matt Boyle who has been so instrumental to keeping this parade alive these past 4 plus years. The Veteran's were part of the Parade, with a Veteran Honor Guard marching in the lead with our American Flag, followed by the Trolley Car carrying Veterans, than came the SW MT Veteran's Van carrying three of the Resident Veterans, followed by DAV Van. The American Legion's Veteran Float, finished the Veteran contingent section of the parade. The Marine Corps League put on a BBQ for Veterans and their families after the Parade with good attendance. It's a solemn memory time, for Veterans, in remembering those they served with, who gave the ultimate sacrifice. They aren't here to see this Day of celebrating our countries's birth and the many freedoms most take for granted. It's also a day of joy, knowing that all the Veterans who have ever served, have served for us to be able to celebrate, without being suppressed. Thank our Veterans when you see them,

On Tuesday,June 29th, the long awaited Grand Opening of our Southwest Montana Veteran's Home, took place. It really turned out great with many of the SW MT VET HOME Foundation members/Eduro Staff/ others, volunteering their time on both Monday and Tuesday. The ceremony, with many of our political dignitaries being there to applaud its opening and giving recognition to the many who have fought to make our Veteran's home a reality, was a great success. Bob Pavlovich was especially recognized as the guy, who as an early day Legislator of the 90's, introduced legislation to start getting the ball rolling, to have what we have today. He continued to be at the forefront, these past 30 years, and got many of his political friends involved in the many political battles we fought through the years in keeping our Vet Home in survival mode. He's to be applauded, for sure.

Construction Updates:

The Community Bldg., Maintenance Bldg., Electrical Vault, Cottages #1/#2/#3 are all turned over to the state and under the operational control of the Operation Contractor, Eduro.

Cottage #4: The Carpenters have finished their trim work and FFE package installation. The Electricians are wrapping out their trim work this week. The Floor Layers are continuing to lay the flooring and hopefully will have that finished this week or next. This Cottage is ready for the final inspection once the Floor Layers and the Cleaners have completed their work.

Cottage #5: Drywall taping is about complete, with the Painters not far behind. The Carpenters are working on the Door/Window trim out. The Tile Layers are laying tile in the resident bathrooms/showers.The Sheet metal guys continue doing their HVAC equipment installation. The Plumbers are working on piping installation.

Becker Landscaping: These guys are doing a great job raking out topsoil, planting trees/bushes, spreading bark/rock and laying sod. Their work is impressive.

Just to the north, down the road from our Vet home, is the new Veteran's Medical Building (CBOC), which is progressing well. The building is all sheeted on the outside and all the Windows/Door opening are cut out. Electricity breaker-boxes will be installed to the building by Elk Horn Electric, this week. The Plumbers are now doing some of prep work. Todd and Mark, the carpenters, continue to impress with amount of framing they get completed. Hoffman Excavating continues working on the parking-lot, pouring curbing and landscaping the perimeters. Talked with a lady who has been hired already for this facility as a Physician Assistant. It was her understanding that two Physicians Assistants and a Doctor will work full time, once this CBOC is up and running.That's good news for the Veterans of SW MT.

Our Veteran Funeral Honor Guards across Montana have seen an increase in funerals due to the Veterans dying durning the Covid-19 Pandemic, which prevented gatherings of any kind. Those of us involved in the Funeral Honor Guards are honored we're able to bring closure to these Veterans families, who have passed away.

The newly established Veteran's Court is operating with more Veteran Mentors soon to be assigned a mentee Veteran. It's Veteran's helping Veterans, guided by the Community team of professionals involved from the Judges to the Counselors/lawyers/Probation Officers/etc.

I'll go for now. Until next time, take care.
