Michael Stephen Connors

Michael Stephen Connors decided to take one final hike into the unknown on July 12, 2021. The cost of the many years of farming, building, and hiking in the sun finally was paid when melanoma came to stay.

Mike was born in Sidney, Nebraska in 1951 to Harold and Evelyn Connors. As a child growing up in Greeley, Nebraska, Mike dreamed of traveling west to the mountains and building a home. His first stop on his journey west was Colorado State University, where he met his wife Joyce, who shared his dream of going further west still. After college, a fortuitous response from the Beaverhead Chamber of Commerce facilitated this dream. Mike and Joyce came to this community in 1976 and built their home nestled in the mountains. In Dillon at that time, party line phones still existed, there were only two doctors, and the eventual interstate ran through Sparky's Garage parking lot and around the high school.

Mike and Joyce enjoyed learning the area so much they decided to share it with others. They brought two sons, John and Josh, into the world and taught them a love of nature, life and the outdoors. The Connors family spent every moment possible exploring the public lands that are the heart of Beaverhead County. When the boys were too young to walk, they were carried across sagebrush hills looking for rocks. As the kids grew, the quartet forged their way through the thick forest to spend their days fishing and relaxing in high mountain lakes. Soon the top of the mountain peaks called, and the family met the challenge. Even after the boys began forging their own lives, the family would circle back together to explore the hills and mountains searching for antlers and the unknown.

When not out exploring, Mike tended the woodland and field around his home. From seedlings the size of sticks he grew the great forest that now envelops the property. His farming roots shown through as he diligently watered and cultivated the land. The fruit trees and flowers, products of his persistence, now provide nourishment for birds, beast and man.

This soft-spoken man was one of the structural beams supporting this community. He began his career as a journeyman apprentice for Lee Sturm. After this, Connors Carpentry was born, and the breadth of his work expanded. Many buildings, homes, and trails have his signature strive for perfection interwoven into their being. Look through the windows at University of Montana Western and you will see the graceful arcs in each piece of trim shaped and sanded by his hand. Descending the stairs at the library you can see where a thousand cuts turned oak boards into a masterpiece. When sharing stories at the brewery rest your arms on the reclaimed fir beams he merged to create the bar.

Mike took pride in doing jobs for many of the seniors in our community. He knew that many did not have the means to have their homes repaired, so he did the jobs for his little old lady friends for what they could afford. Many times, payment came in the form of cookies, chicken soup, or a sincere thank you.

Mike disliked two things in life, cucumbers and hypocrites. His sense of purpose, honesty, and integrity drove everything he did. "Do things so you never have to look back," was some of the parting wisdom he left to his sons and grandsons.

Our many miles may bring us to the end of life, but it is where we stepped along the way that defines us. Mike lived his life to the fullest. Stories told around the dinner table include stare downs with mountain lions, wolves and bears, panning for gold in the remote corners of the west, and recounts of how and where he had found so many perfect rocks.

Those who are going to miss traveling with him the countless miles of dirt roads, with dust in their eyes and the faint scent of pipe tobacco in their nose, are his wife, Joyce, his sons John and Josh, John's wife Laura, Josh's partner Hannah, and his grandsons Everson and Corrick.

True to his humble personality and dislike of crowds, Mike has requested only a simple family celebration of life at some point in the future.

Mike spent his life learning and teaching about the natural world. To continue his legacy and because he knew it would help keep Joyce busy, in lieu of flowers please send memorial donations to the Beaverhead Trails Coalition at beaverheadtrails.com.

SW MT VET HOME/VETERAN CORNER UPDATES #114

BY MIKE LAWSON

Greeting once again to you the Veterans/Counties/Communities of SW Mt who have been the faithful readers of these update articles, whose focus has mainly been on our Southwest Montana Veteran's Home.

As you can see my greeting is a bit different as I'm expanding to include different areas, concerning Veterans in SW MT.. I have already started doing this in previous SW MT VET Home articles, so things shouldn't look very different. The Editor of the Butte Weekly asked if I would continue to write about Veterans and their activities/concerns/ etc., in our Southwest Montana part of the state. I agreed to do so and this article will be titled "Veteran's Corner". Please let me know of newsworthy Veteran's happenings in your area.

Southwest Montana Veterans Home:

Our Veteran's Home is scheduled to be completed at some point in the next two months. As the construction continues to move forward, my go-to guys, Mike Ascheman and John Kotka, continue to be a great source of updated construction information, for this site. On the operation side of taking care of our resident veterans, Eduro's Chief of Staff Chris Cotton, is keeping me up to date on these vets and the Buildings/Cottages, under their control. The resident veteran count remains at 18 until the VA Re-Inspection is completed. This is scheduled to take place in two weeks.

The partnership of the SW MT Vet Home Foundation, the Operations Contractor Eduro and the State of Montana, is critical for this Vet Home to run well, with our Resident Veterans getting the best quality care possible. It is and will be a showcase for all Resident Veteran Homes, that we in Southwest Montana can point to with pride.

Another important thing to mention is that the state hired a new Liaison to replace Mark Gollinger, who was our first Liaison. We want to welcome Ashley Bair and from what Chris says, she seems to be a real go-getter who is very very dedicated. I look forward to meeting her.

Vet Home Construction Updates:

The State accepted and has given control of the following buildings/ cottages to Eduro: The Community Center, Maintenance Bld., Cottages #1/#2/#3.

Cottage #4; The finish carpenter trim and FFE package installation is completed. Furniture is placed throughout the Cottage. Beds are all installed in each resident room. Electrical trim out and mechanical systems are complete. Cleaners are doing the final deep cleaning. Start-up is scheduled for this week to make sure everything operates correctly. The Architects will also be doing their inspection, which many times, creates punch-lists for the different crafts to do touch-up corrections. This Cottage is very close to being turned over to the State.

Cottage #5: The taping and painting in the central common area is complete. The tiling of the resident bathroom walls continues. There is some Piping and Sheetmetal HVAC work being done. It's moving well and it's anticipated completion in August, is a very realistic expectation.

Becker Landscaping: This landscaping crew continues raking out topsoil, planting bushes/trees, spreading bark/landscape rock and laying sod. Sod is now laid around Cottage #2. A lot of work and very impressive.

Zemlijak Excavating: The trailers/connex boxes/etc., that were parked over the proposed Cottage #6 area, were moved. This allowed Mike Zemlijak to move a lot of dirt to bring this area to the proper ground level grade.

VA Veteran's Medical Clinic: This is officially called a CBOC which is an acronym for "Community Based Outpatient Care".

All I can say is that this is going to be one big beautiful building. If you get a chance drive by and watch the progress. The framers have the two entrance porches framed in and roofing paper on them. On the inside of bottom of this roof (ceiling) you see the beautiful interlocking 6" stained tongue and groove boards. On the inside of the building, the Electricians have all the rooms wired. They are now working in the electrical room, tying things together in the circuit breaker panels. The Plumbers have the plumbing inside the walls, completed. The insulators and sheet-rockers are scheduled to be on the job soon.

There should be about 8 Community Based Outpatient Care (CBOC) Clinics, around the state, that either have already opened or are about to open. The ones which are in the construction phases, are expected to open by the end of the year or within a couple of months after the beginning of the year.

Previously I mentioned the DAV Van Program, which sole purpose is to take Veterans to their medical appointments. This includes the Veteran's caregiver if he/she is needed to travel with that veteran. Any veteran is eligible who is in the VA Health Care System. Many Veterans have their own vehicles but prefer to ride, which is a smart move for many of them. If you need a ride locally or out of town, call your Local Area Coordinator. The LOC for Dillion/Anaconda/Butte is Darlene Allen; Ph # 406-490-3692. Veterans are picked up in these cities and areas surrounding them. Darlene and all of us who drive are volunteers, who get a lot of gratification in helping our veteran comrades, get to their appointments. Many of us are veterans ourselves, so don't hesitate to call Darlene, who works hard to connect rides for anyone who calls to request a ride.

I'll close with saying, be save, be careful and avoid the smoke as much as you can. Until next time.
