Letter to the Editor

School is just around the corner. The 23 Annual School Supply drive has started. The goal is to furnish needed school supplies to over 900 grade school children. What a nice gesture of the citizens of this community. But...yes there is a but.

The politicians always tell us that the United States is the richest country in the world. But we are collecting school supplies for students!!!!

Last year the United States gave away $47 billion dollars to many different countries in the world. And we have to collect school supplies for our children.

Why can't we take care of the citizens of the United States? There is no justice when it comes to helping the Middle Class and the Working Poor of America.

Oh yes! We are the richest country in the world. And pretty damn stupid also!

LaVon Brillhart

Thank you

Thank you to Ryan Nourse and the University of Montana Western football men who volunteered on August 12th at the Beaverhead County Museum. With their help we were able to complete several projects.

My Favorite Pal Bryce Angell

I took my place on horseback riding next to the old man.
He'd wrangled for my father. Everyone called him Old Dan.
His wrangling days were done yet rode the pack line at the end.
My father said, "Stay by his side. He might just be your friend."
"I know it's hot and dusty, riding back there for a while. But this will do you good and since you're with him, wear a smile."
So, Old Dan and I would always take our place there at the rear.
Dan did all the talking and I gave a listening ear.
I learned to call him Dan and Dan would call me Mr. Bryce.
And everyday I'd get a scoop of old cowboy advice.
One morning he was reminiscing of his younger days.
He said he missed the gals and all his flirting cowboy ways.
I didn't know of flirting and was bashful to the core.
If a pretty gal would smile, I'd turn the darkest red for sure.
Dan could see my plight and said, "I've been there Mr. Bryce.
Most gals will see your bashfulness and turn from snub to nice."
He said, "I've got some sound advice and use it as your guide.
When it comes to getting' married, find a farm gal for your bride."
I'd never even had a date, what's more a fulltime gal.
But Dan's advice came from his heart. By then my favorite pal.
The summer ended all too soon. My pal moved into town.
I'd grab a 6 pack, head on in. We'd slam a Pepsi down.
My years went by from boy to man and Dan turned ninety years.
He asked me 'bout a farm girl bride. Could not believe my ears!
So, I introduced my outdoor gal, Montana way upstate.
And the twinkle in his eye showed me approval of first rate.

When Sh*t Hits the Fan

It's Friday afternoon at 2:00 in the restaurant business. The hood fan goes out -- who do you call?

Well, so thankful we live in Dillon, Montana where everyone that is needed rushes in to help!

I guess it was the "Pillow Block" and the shaft needed repair, some electrical had to be fixed and the ball bearings! It's all about "ball bearings" these days -- everyone knows that!

Time is of the Essence (standard contract language), but thanks to General Welding (Gene Loder and Bill Mancoronal), Kailey Services (Bernard Kailey), Abicus Electric (Richard and Dani Reyes) and Beaverhead Repair, we should be up and running by Tuesday. Everyone pitched in at the last minute on a beautiful summer weekend. What luck!

Thank you all very much!
