Montana Western Names JT Robbins as New Head Rodeo Coach

University of Montana Western Interim Director of Athletics Janelle Handlos has announced the hiring of JT Robbins as the university's next head rodeo coach.

"We are excited to welcome JT home to Montana Western Rodeo. His exceptional experience competing and coaching events both ends of the arena will serve all of our rodeo student-athletes well," Handlos said. "JT's understanding of the support systems for our rodeo program will allow him to get to work quickly preparing for fall competitions and strengthening our many community partnerships."

While working in agricultural management for the past two decades, Robbins has also been involved as a Director for the Montana Pro Rodeo Circuit, Montana High School Rodeo Association and youth rodeo associations. Though his collegiate and professional experience focused on saddle bronc, Robbins has also competed in timed events and has served as a coach for young cowboys and cowgirls in all rodeo events.

"My family and I are excited to be returning to Dillon and Montana Western Rodeo," Robbins said. "I look forward to working with this great group of student-athletes and our supporters."

Robbins served as a team captain for UMW rodeo and saddle bronc director for the Big Sky Region during his collegiate career. Professionally, he earned a Montana Pro Rodeo circuit title and qualified twice for the Dodge National Circuit Finals.

Robbins will assume his position immediately as the UMW Rodeo Team prepares to begin the fall season at Cody, Wyo. on September 11.

Re: Alder Creek / Christensen Fire Evacuations

Based on information received from the Southeast Blue Team, it has been decided that all evacuation notices around the Alder Creek and Christensen fire be rescinded. Containment lines and weather conditions are favorable for this decision. Although the eminent threat in the area has been reduced, residents in the vicinity of the Alder Creek and Christensen fires are urged to remain vigilant to the ever changing conditions on these fires.

This change in evacuations will go into effect at 8:00 am on August 18, 2021.

Please remember that Beaverhead County is under Stage 2 fire restrictions. Fire are only allowed using devices with an on/off switch that uses LPG fuels, in a 3-foot diameter area clear of flammable materials are allowed. Smoking in a vehicle, in a building or in a 3-foot diameter area clear of flammable materials is allowed. Only operate motorized vehicles on designated roads and trails.

We are just moving into our fire season, please be careful with any activity that could produce a spark or fire.

WOOLEY BUGGER
By "Swede" Troedsson

About thirty years ago I was returning to Dillon, MT. I was driving north in my Bronco on the east frontage road, south of Dillon. Just past the sawmill I was waved down by Bill Jappe, who had exited his pickup truck.

As Bill approached me I could see he had a large Wooley Bugger fishing hook imbedded in his throat, just above the carotid artery. (A Wooley Bugger is a popular fishing fly used during the Salmon Fly hatch on local rivers).

Bill asked me if I could remove the hook.

I retrieved a pair of wire cutters from my truck tool kit, then proceeded to rotate the hook out so as to expose the barbs. After clipping off the barbs, I then rotated the hook back out of his throat. Bill thanked me, and went on his way.

JAYCEE PARK SUNSHADES

Friends of the Jaycee Park are putting sunshades over benches in the Splash Pad. United Way donated two of the shades this year, they were delayed (because of Covid).

The installation requires concrete pad and equipment to lift them. We do not want to close down at this time so we will get them installed this fall or next spring while the splash pad is closed. We could use a couple more shades that cost around $5,000 each with shipping and base. If you can donate towards the shades please make a check to The Friends of Jaycee Park and take to RayAnn at The Bank of Commerce, Womack's Printing Place or Jim Valach.

The next step is to dig a bit deeper in order to provide clarity and reduce complexity.

"Ultimately, the aim is to have regulations that are consistent with state law and management objectives, clarify hunter opportunity, and encourage participation," Worsch said. "It's time for a better approach, and we're eager to hear what hunters think. We'll focus directly on the wildlife resource and look to the public and commission to help us get this right."

These proposed changes will be posted at fwp.mt.gov when they first become available for public comment in September.

Buck Ford, performing at Horse Prairie Stage Stop

Buck Ford, performing at Horse Prairie Stage Stop on Aug 20, 8:00 PM, does more than play country music; he feels like country music. On or off stage, Ford's energy is a reminder that while the crown may change hands, country music is its own king, and he's humbly accepted the challenge of carrying on the bloodline.

A former professional motocross rider, Buck Ford traded one circuit for another when he entered into the world of country music.

Ford's headlined international events, including the Equiblues Rodeo in St. Agreave France, and has shared stages with the likes of Cody Johnson, Jon Pardi and more.

Buck Ford's most recent single "Savin' the Planet" captures tried and true cowboy logic—why overthink about it when you can drink about it? The first glimpse of his upcoming album, "Savin' the Planet" is available now on all platforms.

Key Habitat Connectivity Secured Forever in Wyoming

Thanks to a Wyoming family that successfully worked with the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, 634 acres of important elk habitat are now permanently protected in the southeast part of the state.

"This voluntary conservation agreement is a credit to Al and Barb Johnson for their dedication to wildlife and conservation," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "We appreciate and salute them for their efforts."

The Terry Creek property lies within the Upper Laramie River Watershed and links a peninsula of the Medicine Bow-Routt National Forest to U.S. Forest Service lands in the Snowy Mountains to the west. It also falls within the Wyoming Game and Fish Department's Upper Laramie River and Little Laramie River Crucial Habitat Priority and Sheep Mountain Mule Deer Initiative Areas.

"Not only does this property provide vital winter and year-long range for elk, but elk migration routes funnel directly through it," said Blake Henning, RMEF chief conservation officer. "Groups of 100 to 200 elk on the property are a common occurrence. The immediate landscape also offers important range for mule deer, moose and other wildlife."

Pronghorn antelope and mule deer also pass through the property as well. The owners, together with RMEF and WGFD are completing a boundary fence conversion to wildlife friendly specifications as well, to bring even more enhancement to the connected and conserved landscape.

Project partners include the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wyoming Wildlife Natural Resources Trust, Wyoming Governor's Big Game License Coalition, Ducks Unlimited Inc., the Knobloch Family Foundation, Wyoming Game and Fish Department, and the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

RMEF recently completed four other land conservation projects in the same region protecting more than 2,600 acres of important wildlife habitat.
